Facts on Clemson Football

Academic Excellence

- Clemson was fourth in the nation among Division I schools for its graduation rate by the NCAA on December 19, 2005. The American Football Coaches Association has also cited Clemson for excellence in this area three times in his first eight years Tommy Bowden has been head coach of the Tigers.
- Clemson was third in the nation among top-25 teams in the USA Today poll in September of 2007 in terms of graduation success rate. Those figures will continue to rise, as 15 seniors from the 2006 team already have walked across the stage in Littlejohn Coliseum to receive their undergraduate degrees.
- Tommy Bowden has had 36 players in his eight previous seasons who have played for the Tigers after they earned their undergraduate degree. Since Bowden has been at Clemson, nearly 80 percent of the scholarship players who have stayed until their senior season have earned their degree.
- Chad Carson and Kyle Young were first-team academic All-Americans in the 2000 and 2001 seasons. Clemson was the only Division I school in the nation with two first-team picks each year. Young was a first-team academic All-American from 1999-01 and became just the second ACC player in history to be a three-time, first-team selection. He is one of just two offensive linemen in college football history to be a three-time, first-team academic All-American. He is currently an assistant athletic director in the Clemson Athletic Department.
- Chad Carson joined Kyle Young in graduating from Clemson University Summa Cum Laude. In 2002, Carson reached the final stage of the Rhodes Scholarship selection process, as he was the only Division I football player in the nation who could make that prestigious claim. Carson also received Clemson's Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award for service to others.
- Clemson's football team had 25 players named to the academic honor roll for the spring semester of 2007. Even though Tommy Bowden has served as head coach just 17 semesters entering the 2007-08 academic year, the top-six team academic honor roll totals and the top-six team GPAs have taken place under his watch.

All-Americans

- Clemson has had a history of decorated football players. The program boasts 59 different All-Americans in its history, including 2007 selections Chris McDuffie (OG) and Barry Richardson (OT). Gaines Adams was a unanimous All-American in 2006. It marked the second straight year Clemson had a consensus first-team All-American, as Tye Hill was named in 2005. The program has had at least one All-American in 29 of the last 31 years.
- Gaines Adams became just the second unanimous first-team All-American in school history when he was selected in 2006. He joined Terry Kinard (1982) with that distinction.
- Clemson has had at least one First-Team All-ACC player each of the last 31 years, the longest active streak and the longest overall streak in ACC history. The school had four First-Team All-ACC selections (all on offense) in 2007. They were big reasons

Clemson is among the ACC leaders in scoring offense, rushing offense, passing offense, and total offense.

- Clemson had nine players named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team, more than any other school. The list of honorees shows the balance of the program over the years, as every area of a football team (by position) was represented. The nine players are Joe Bostic, Jerry Butler, Bennie Cunningham, Jeff Davis, Steve Fuller, Terry Kinard, Michael Dean Perry, William Perry, and Anthony Simmons. All nine were All-Americans during at least one year at Clemson and played in the NFL.

Bowl History

- Clemson has been to 29 previous bowl games in its history. Clemson's 15-win total in those games is 18th-best in college football history.
- Clemson's first bowl game was a 6-3 victory over Boston College and Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. Leahy is still second in college football history in winning percentage.
- Clemson won five straight bowl games between the 1986 and 1990 seasons, tied for the seventh-longest winning streak in college football history in consecutive seasons. Clemson defeated Stanford, Penn State, Oklahoma, West Virginia, and Illinois during the stretch.
- Clemson has defeated some of the top coaches in college football history in bowl games. Among the list of celebrated coaches who have lost to the Tigers in bowl games are Joe Paterno (#2-winningest coach in Division I on a total victories basis), Barry Switzer (#4-winningest Division I coach on a winning percentage basis), and Tom Osborne (#5-winningest Division I coach on a winning percentage basis). Hall of Fame Head Coach Woody Hayes suffered his final defeat against the Tigers in 1978 at the Gator Bowl. Overall, Clemson has defeated nine head coaches in bowl games who are enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame.
- The 2006 Music City Bowl was Clemson's 18th bowl appearance since 1985, a tangible representation of the program's consistency. That mark is tied for the ninth-most bowl appearances in the nation in those 22 seasons.

Championship Tradition

- The Tigers were named national champions by every service in 1981, as they were the only school in the nation with a perfect record (12-0) that season. The year included three wins over top-10 teams (Georgia, Nebraska, North Carolina), the only team in college football to beat three top-10 teams in 1981. It was just the second national title for an ACC school.
- The 1981 team had five All-Americans on its roster, including first-team selections Jeff Davis, Terry Kinard, and Perry Tuttle. Thirty-one players on the 1981 squad were eventually drafted by the NFL, and 22 players eventually played in the NFL. Twenty-three different players on the 1981 roster were First-Team All-ACC selections at one time during their careers.
- Since the ACC was formed in 1953, Clemson has more overall wins (372) and wins in ACC games (228) than any other school.

- Clemson has won 13 ACC titles (12 outright and one tied), still the all-time ACC record.
- Clemson won the Southern Conference title in 1940 and 1948, giving the program 15 conference crowns over the years.

Coaching Success

- Clemson has a legendary history when it comes to coaching. Three former Tiger mentors (John Heisman, Frank Howard, Jess Neely) are already in the College Football Hall of Fame. Howard was Clemson's coach when the ACC was founded and promptly took the Tigers to six ACC titles. No coach had more league titles than Howard during his 30-year tenure at Clemson. He concluded his career with 165 victories, and his 30-year tenure still is third-longest in NCAA history for a coach serving at one school.
- Danny Ford coached Clemson to the National Championship in 1981 and won six bowl games in his Clemson career, second on the all-time ACC coaching list. His 76-percent winning mark is also second-best in ACC history. He was the consensus national coach-of-the-year in 1981, and he remains the youngest coach (33) to win a national title.
- Tommy Bowden has continued the tradition of outstanding Tiger coaches by leading the team to bowl games each of his first five years, the only coach in Clemson history to do that. He has been named ACC Coach-of-the-Year twice in his first eight years at Clemson. In 2003, he became the second Tiger coach to defeat three top-25 teams in the same year and the second to record at least two top-10 wins in the same year. He duplicated the feat in 2005 by defeating three top-20 teams, the first time that had been done since 1981.
- Tommy Bowden has had his teams bowl eligible in each of his 11 years as a Division I head coach, one of just six active Division I coaches who has had a team bowl eligible every year since 1997. The others are Frank Beamer (Virginia Tech), Bobby Bowden (Florida State), Jeff Bowers (Southern Mississippi), Mack Brown (Texas), and Lloyd Carr (Michigan). Bowden has a 66-percent winning mark, 11th-best in the nation among active coaches with at least 10 years of experience.
- Bowden is the first coach in Clemson history to record eight consecutive winning seasons. He was just the fifth ACC coach to do it.

First-Round Draft Selections

- Gaines Adams was the #4 overall selection of the 2007 NFL draft by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Adams tied for the highest draft pick by a Clemson player in history and the highest since 1939 when Banks McFadden was the #4 overall selection of the NFL draft by the Brooklyn Dodgers. Adams' selection tied for the third-highest selection in any sport in Tiger history.
- With Gaines Adams' selection, Clemson is one of just three schools nationally to have a top-15 NFL draft selection each of the last two years. Tye Hill was the #15 overall pick of the Saint Louis Rams in 2006. In addition to Clemson, Florida State and Ohio State are the three teams with a top-15 selection in both 2006 and 2007. Obviously, two of the three coaches with a top-15 selection the last two years are Bowdens, Florida State Head

Coach Bobby Bowden and Clemson Head Coach Tommy Bowden.

- Ten Schools have had at least one first-round selection each of the last two years. Three of the 10 are ACC schools. In addition to Clemson, Florida, Florida State, Louisiana State, Miami (FL), Ohio State, Oklahoma, Penn State, Tennessee, and Texas are also on the list.
- Gaines Adams was the third first-round draft selection under Tommy Bowden. The others were Rod Gardner (#15 in 2001 by the Redskins) and Tye Hill (#15 in 2006 by the Rams). All three earned their degrees from Clemson. Adams graduated in December of 2006.
- Gaines Adams was the #4 overall pick of the 2007 draft, but he was the first defensive player taken.
- Clemson had five players taken in the 2007 NFL draft, its high total for a draft since six Tigers were taken in the 1999 draft. Four of the five have already graduated from Clemson.
- Gaines Adams became the 10th Tiger in history to be a first-round draft pick, a first-team All-American, and earn a degree in the same academic year. Adams and Patrick Willis of Mississippi were the only two players to accomplish all three in 2006-07. Tye Hill also accomplished the feat in 2005-06.
- Clemson had 10 players drafted in 1983, an ACC record for players drafted from the same school in one year.
- Clemson has had 192 players drafted over the years, including five players from the 2006 team. Clemson was among the top-15 teams in the nation in drafted players in 2007.

Hall of Fame

- Former Clemson consensus All-American and 1981 National Championship team captain Jeff Davis was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December of 2007. Davis is regarded as one of the great leaders of any team in Tiger athletics history. He had 175 tackles on the 1981 team, leading the Tigers to a perfect 12-0 record.
- Jeff Davis is the second member of Clemson's National Championship team to be enshrined in the College Football Hall of Fame. Terry Kinard was inducted in 2001 in New York City. Both Davis and Kinard are also members of the Clemson Ring of Honor at Memorial Stadium.
- Clemson had a special night in New York City on December 11, 2001. That evening, Terry Kinard was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame and Kyle Young was a recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award. Clemson was the only school in the nation with one of each in 2001.
- Terry Kinard was the first Tiger to win a national individual award. He was named the 1982 national defensive player-of-the-year by CBS. That year (his senior season), he was a first-team unanimous All-American, the first unanimous All-American in Clemson football history. He was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002, and he was also listed among the top-50 athletes in the history of the ACC, regardless of sport.
- Three former coaches are in the College Football Hall of Fame...John Heisman (1900-03), Jess Neely (1931-39), and Frank Howard (1940-69).

- Banks McFadden, Clemson's greatest all-around athlete and a First-Team AP All-American in 1939, was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1959.

NFL Influence

- Clemson has had 17 former players in the NFL in 2007, the 22nd-consecutive year the Tigers have had at least 18 former players on NFL rosters.
- Over the years, 20 former Tigers have combined to win 28 Super Bowl Championship rings. Chris Gardocki was added to the list in 2006 as the starting punter for the Steelers. The leader is Jeff Bostic, who started on three Super Bowl title teams with the Washington Redskins.
- Clemson has had an alum on the Super Bowl Championship team in five of the last nine years. Clemson was one of six schools to have a representative on each of the four teams involved in the conference championship games at the end of the 2005 season.
- Linebacker Leroy Hill started in the 2006 Super Bowl for the Seahawks. He had 7.5 sacks during the season, third among NFL rookies in 2005.
- Trevor Pryce, an All-ACC player at Clemson in 1996, has won two Super Bowl Championship rings and been a four-time Pro Bowl selection. He became the highest-paid defensive lineman in NFL history in 2001. He was one of eight former Tiger defensive linemen on NFL rosters in 2006 and finished the year with 13.5 sacks, among the top-five totals in the NFL.
- Brian Dawkins is one of the stars of the NFL among defensive players. A 1996 Clemson graduate, Dawkins was an All-American on Clemson's 1995 team when he finished the season 10th in the nation in interceptions. He became the first player in NFL history in 2002 to have a sack, interception, recovered fumble, and touchdown reception in the same game. He has been named to the Pro Bowl six times in the last eight seasons, including the 2007 Pro Bowl. Dawkins and former All-American Michael Dean Perry have been to a Tiger-alum-high six Pro Bowls.
- Levon Kirkland, an administrator in the Clemson admissions office, was named to the NFL All-Decade Team (1990s) for his play with the Steelers.

Poll Presence

- The 2005 season marked the 22nd year Clemson has been ranked in the final top 25 of the AP poll.

Clemson's highest ranking is #1, a mark that was achieved on November 30, 1981 and in the final poll of that season (January 4, 1982).

- Clemson once had a streak of 46 consecutive weeks ranked in the AP poll during the 1980s.
- Clemson finished in the top 20 of all final polls from 1986-91, a six-year streak. The Tigers had exactly two losses in each of those six seasons.
- Clemson was ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll six times in the 1980s. The Tigers were fifth in the nation in winning percentage in that decade.
- Beating ranked opponents has been a hallmark of Clemson's success. The Tigers have beaten an AP-ranked opponent 19 of last 22 years, including 10 top-25 wins over the last five years.
- Clemson has four top-10 wins in the last five years, including a victory over #3 Florida State in 2003, the highest-ranked team the Tigers have beaten in their history. Clemson had a victory at #9 Florida State in 2006, its first win in Tallahassee since 1989.
- Clemson has been ranked in 11 of the 15 weekly polls in 2007, including each of the last six polls. The Tigers are #15 by AP and #16 by USA Today entering the bowl season.

Prominent Former Tigers

- Dwight Clark was the NFL MVP in 1982. He was the recipient of "The Catch" for the San Francisco 49ers against the Dallas Cowboys in the 1981 NFC Championship game. It is still replayed on ESPN Classic every night when it introduces its "Sports Century" feature.
- Charlie Waters was a three-time Pro Bowl selection with the Cowboys. He played on two Super Bowl Championship teams before going on to a college coaching career at Oregon.
- Charlie Waters and Jeff Bostic were both named to ESPN's 40-Man Roster of Greatest Super Bowl Players, released prior to Super Bowl XL.
- The Perry Brothers, William and Michael Dean, were starters on Clemson's 1984 defense. Both were named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002. William played on Clemson's national title team as a freshman, then on the Super Bowl Champion Bears of 1985. Michael Dean played in six Pro Bowls with Cleveland and Denver, tied for the most among former Tigers. Both were named ACC Player-of-the-Year in their careers, William in 1984 and Michael Dean in 1987. They are the only brother combination in ACC history that can make that claim.

2007 Clemson Personnel Overview

Overview

Clemson enters the Chick-fil-A Bowl against #21 Auburn with a top-15 ranking by Associated Press and the BCS rating. Clemson finished the regular season with a 9-3 overall record, tied for its most regular-season wins under Head Coach Tommy Bowden (9-2 in the regular season in 2000). Clemson will reach 10 wins in a season for the first time since 1990 if it can gain the victory over Auburn.

Clemson began the season with a four-game winning streak, including a nationally-televised win over #19 Florida State in the season-opener. It marked the third straight year that Bowden beat his father Bobby and the fourth win in five years for the Tigers over the Seminoles. Clemson also gained a 42-20 win at N.C. State in the fourth game thanks to 608 yards of total offense, the most in school history in an ACC road game. Clemson outgained the Wolfpack by 406 yards, the second-highest total offense margin in the last 30 years. Clemson also moved to a #13 ranking in both polls after its 4-0 start.

Clemson then lost its next two games, a 13-3 defeat at Georgia Tech, Clemson's only road loss of the season, and a 41-23 setback at home against #14 Virginia Tech. Clemson rushed for just 34 yards on the ground and had nine dropped passes against the Yellow Jackets. Virginia Tech had three returns for touchdowns in its 18-point victory in Death Valley, including one kickoff return, one punt return, and one interception return. It was the first time in history that the Tigers gave up three returns for touchdowns in a single game. Clemson outgained the Hokies 380-219, but lost the game by 18 points.

After an open date, Clemson was re-energized and defeated eventual MAC Champion Central Michigan by a score of 70-14. It was the most points by Clemson in 26 years, and the Tigers gained 656 yards of total offense, the second-highest total in school history.

That victory over Central Michigan began a second four-game winning streak during the 2007 season. Clemson gained a big victory at Maryland in the season's eighth game. The Tigers had control of the game from the second quarter and had a 30-3 lead in the fourth quarter before winning by a final score of 30-17. Clemson had 249 rushing yards and 428 yards of total offense. James Davis and C.J. Spiller both went over 100 yards in the game, and Cullen Harper completed 20-26 passes for 179 yards and two touchdowns.

Clemson won its next two ACC games in grand style, a 47-10 win at Duke and a 44-10 victory against Wake Forest. Clemson had struggled at Duke in recent years, but its resounding 37-point victory margin was the largest for the Tigers in Durham in history. Davis had a 70-yard run to key the victory. The Tigers scored 16 points in a 39-second time span near the end of the second quarter to take control of the game.

Clemson's most impressive performance might have been its win over Wake Forest. The Demon Deacons, who would win eight regular-season games, trailed 27-7 at halftime. Clemson scored points on eight of its 10 possessions. The Tigers also excelled on special teams in the game, as Spiller had a 90-yard kickoff return for a touchdown, Jimmy Maners averaged 47 yards per punt, and Mark Buchholz kicked three field goals of at least 45 yards, a first in school history.

The victory over Wake Forest meant that the Boston College game on November 17 would be for the ACC Atlantic Division Championship. It was a championship atmosphere in Memorial Stadium, but for the third straight year, the Eagles came away with a close victory over the Tigers. Boston College has now beaten Clemson in overtime or by three points each of the last three seasons. In each year, a victory would have given the Tigers the ACC Atlantic Division title.

Matt Ryan led Boston College to 17 fourth-quarter points in the 20-17 victory. Clemson had a chance in the last minute, but a long pass to Aaron Kelly at the two-yard line fell incomplete.

Clemson closed the regular season with a thrilling victory at arch-rival South Carolina. Clemson had at least 200 rushing yards and 200 passing yards, and it ran 85 plays to South Carolina's 52, but the game came down to the last play. Clemson drove 61 yards in nine plays to set up Buchholz's game-winning field-goal from 35 yards on the last play of the game, giving Clemson a 23-21 win. It marked the Tigers' ninth win in the last 10 trips to Columbia, and it gave Bowden a 7-2 career record against the Gamecocks.

Clemson has achieved its 9-3 record and a top-15 national ranking with a young team. The final starting lineup for the season will show that only six seniors started among the 22 offensive and defensive positions, and both kickers will return in 2008. Twenty of Clemson's top-22 tacklers will also be back in 2008, along with the top-six rushers and the top-eight receivers.

Offense

Clemson has the most balanced offense in the ACC. The Tigers finished the regular season second in the league in total offense, second in rushing offense, and second in passing offense, the only ACC team in the top seven of both categories this season. Clemson has averaged 412 yards of total offense, including 159 rushing yards and 253 passing yards per game.

Offensive Coordinator Rob Spence's offense leads the ACC in scoring with 34.2 points per game, the only ACC team to average over 30 points a game. Clemson also leads the conference in passing efficiency (147.8) by a wide margin. Clemson leads the ACC in third-down conversion percentage (43.8) and is first in fewest turnovers committed with nine (by the offense) as well.

The Tigers' offensive captain this season as voted on by his teammates is Cullen Harper. The native of Alpharetta, GA is first in the ACC and 17th in the nation in passing efficiency. Harper has completed 268-400 passes for 2,887 yards and 27 touchdown passes against just six interceptions. His 67-percent completion mark is second-best in school history, and his 146.9 pass efficiency rating is best among quarterbacks with at least 100 passing attempts. He has led Clemson to nine victories in his first year as a starter, the most by a Tiger first-year starter since DeChane Cameron had 10 in 1990 (10-2 final record).

Harper has set 22 school records this year and more could be on the way with a productive bowl game. His 27 touchdown passes are six more than the previous Tiger record, while his 4.5-to-1 touchdown-to-interception ratio is twice the previous mark for a starting quarterback. He threw a Clemson record five touchdown passes twice in 2007, and he has been responsible for 30 touchdowns, just one shy of Woodrow Dantzler's single-season record of 31 (2001).

Harper was named Second-Team All-ACC this year, but four of his offensive teammates were named First-Team All-ACC. Davis and Kelly have given Clemson a strong rushing and receiving, respectively, threat. In fact, if Davis can total just eight rushing yards in the Chick-fil-A bowl, the Tigers will have a 1,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receiver in the same season for just the second time in school history (2000 was the other season).

Davis and Spiller give the Tigers a strong one-two punch at running back. Known as "Thunder & Lighting," they have combined for 1,648 rushing yards, a 5.0-yard-per-carry figure, and 11 rushing touchdowns this season. That is quite an accomplishment running behind an offensive line that returned just one starter from 2006, when the Tigers were fifth in the nation in rushing.

Davis has 992 yards on 191 carries this year, a 5.2-yard average. He has five 100-yard rushing games this year (12 in his career), including 122 yards at South Carolina. He has 3,058 career rushing yards, tied for second-most in school history. The junior needs 909 yards in the bowl game and next year to break Raymond Priester's Clemson record of 3,966 yards. Davis also has 37 career touchdowns, second-most in Tiger history.

Spiller has totaled 656 rushing yards this year and leads the team in all-purpose yards (1,505). The sophomore from Lake Butler, FL is Clemson's second-leading rusher and third-leading receiver in addition to leading the team in punt returns and kickoff returns. He has touched the ball 199 times this year compared to Davis' 204 touches. Spiller has breakaway speed and already has the Tiger career record for touchdown plays of at least 50 yards with nine in his two-year career.

Kelly earned First-Team All-ACC honors as the team's leading receiver this year with 84 catches for 1,045 yards and 11 touchdowns. His reception total is already a school record, and he is just five receptions shy of breaking the ACC single-season mark. (Wake Forest wideout Kenny Moore has 87 catches entering his bowl game.) Kelly needs just 40 receiving yards in the Chick-fil-A Bowl to break Rod Gardner's single-season mark, and his 11 touchdown receptions are already a school record.

Kelly leads the ACC in reception yards per game and is second in the conference in receptions per game. He is an honorable mention All-American according to CollegeFootballNews.com and finished the regular season with nine catches for 134 yards at South Carolina, including four catches for 70 yards on the final drive to Clemson's game-winning field goal.

While Clemson has a running back duo that has combined for 1,648 rushing yards, it has a receiving duo that has combined for 1,674 receiving yards. Supporting Kelly's 1,045 receiving yards is junior Tyler Grisham, a native of Birmingham, AL. Grisham has 58 receptions for 629 yards and four touchdowns. He had 48 of those 58 catches in the last eight games and is fifth in the ACC in receiving. Grisham leads all non-offensive linemen in knockdown blocks this year with 63.

Clemson's third-biggest threat among the receiving corp is Rendrick Taylor. A junior who has had an injury-riddled career, Taylor has 22 receptions for 227 yards this season in eight games. Jacoby Ford was a deep threat for Clemson in the first eight games when he had 17 catches for 310 yards, but he suffered a broken ankle in the victory at Maryland and was lost for the season. He was also a big plus for the Tigers in the return game.

Clemson has two tight ends who have contributed to the team's solid offensive numbers, both rushing and passing, this year. Michael Palmer has started 10 games at tight end and has 12 catches for 123 yards and a touchdown. Brian Linthicum has caught 11 passes for 76 yards and three touchdowns as a first-year freshman. His touchdown total is the most ever by a Clemson freshman tight end.

The Tigers' offensive line could be characterized as old, but relatively inexperienced when the season began. Barry Richardson is the only returning starter back from 2006, but seniors Christian Capote, Chris McDuffie, and Brandon Pilgrim moved up to the starting lineup and jelled during the second half of the season, when the Tigers averaged 38.5 points and nearly 430 yards per game.

Richardson and McDuffie were both named All-Americans and First-Team All-ACC in 2007. The unit won five of the 13 ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week awards and has helped Clemson to its second-place standing in the conference in total offense.

Richardson is finishing his fourth year as a starter at left offensive tackle. He has started each of the last 44 games at that position and has played in 48 games in a row overall. He has 59 knockdown blocks this year and 200 in his career. He was tabbed as a first-team All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com and a second-team choice by the Walter Camp Foundation. He has led Clemson in blocking grade in five of the last six games of 2007.

McDuffie is a full-time starter for the first time in 2007, but he had started the last four games of the 2006 season. The former Tiger defensive tackle has started 10 of the 12 games in 2007, and he has 76.5 knockdown blocks, second-most on the squad. Capote was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week for his efforts at N.C. State.

Pilgrim started seven of the 12 regular-season games and has 45 knockdown blocks. This will be his second Peach/Chick-fil-A Bowl, as he played some snaps against #6 Tennessee as a first-year freshman at the end of the 2003 season.

Two underclassmen have made strong contributions this year on the offensive line. Thomas Austin has started at offensive guard and center, and he has 87 knockdown blocks to lead the team. The sophomore was twice named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week. Barry Humphries started the year at center and also had a couple of starts at offensive guard. He is third on the team in knockdown blocks.

Defense

Defensive Coordinator Vic Koenning's defense has a top-20 ranking in the four major defensive categories this year, and Clemson has reached those numbers with a true team concept. Clemson is sixth in the nation in total defense (297.1), 10th in scoring defense (18.3), 13th in passing defense (184.8), and 20th in rushing defense (112.3). The Tigers are one of just five schools nationally in the top 20 in the nation in all four categories. The other four (Louisiana State, Ohio State, Southern California, West Virginia) are all in BCS bowl games. Despite these rankings, Clemson had no First-Team All-ACC selections on defense and just one Second-Team All-ACC pick.

Phillip Merling is the leader of a deep defensive line. The junior defensive end, who played in the shadow of first-team All-American Gaines Adams last year, leads the team in both tackles for loss (16) and sacks (6). Three times this season, he was named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week, more than any other ACC player (even more than Chris Long of Virginia). Merling finished the regular season with 73 tackles, most among defensive linemen, and had 19 quarterback pressures, also most on the team.

Ricky Sapp is the other starting defensive end, and the sophomore has 10 tackles for loss and five sacks to rank second on the team behind Merling. Sapp has started all 12 games and has 18 quarterback pressures. He was Clemson's leading tackler (7) in the victory at South Carolina.

Dorell Scott has 50 tackles, including five tackles for loss, from his defensive tackle position. The run-stopper is an Honorable Mention All-ACC performer who has started all 12 games this year. Scott had his best career game against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl last year. Rashaad Jackson has started nine games at defensive tackle alongside Scott, and he finished the regular season with 32 tackles.

Jamie Cumbie and Kevin Alexander are also defensive linemen who will see significant action against Auburn. Cumbie has started three games and has registered 26 tackles, including two sacks, while Alexander has 31 stops.

Clemson's linebacker corps should be led by Cortney Vincent in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. Starting linebackers Nick Watkins (team-best 118 tackles) and Tramaine Billie (79 tackles, third-most on team) will miss the bowl game due to academic reasons. Vincent has 64 tackles this year, sixth-most on the team, from his middle linebacker position.

Kavell Connor and Scotty Cooper are primed to see a lot of action against Auburn. Connor has 31 tackles this year in 155 snaps, while Cooper has 23 stops in 117 snaps. Both have been strong special teams players as well. Antonio Clay, a starter last year as a sophomore, has come off the bench this year and has 40 tackles in 12 games.

The secondary is led by Michael Hamlin, the player voted permanent defensive captain for the 2007 season by his teammates. Hamlin was named Second-Team All-ACC as a safety. In his third year as a starter, the junior has 83 tackles, second-most on the team, and has six takeaways to lead the club. Hamlin has 12 career takeaways, eighth-most in school history. His ability to patrol the secondary is a big reason Clemson is 15th in the nation in pass efficiency defense and has allowed just 11 touchdown passes all season.

Junior Chris Clemons teams with Hamlin in the defensive backfield. A starter in each of the last 25 contests, Clemons has 79 tackles this season, fourth-most on the squad. He had 15 tackles in the narrow loss to #18 Boston College and 14 stops at Georgia Tech.

Chris Chancellor and Crezdon Butler are a pair of sophomores who will start at cornerback. Chancellor is tied for the team lead in interceptions (4), and Butler has two thefts to go with 56 tackles, most among cornerbacks.

Byron Maxwell, DeAndre McDaniel, and Marcus Gilchrist are also solid players in the secondary for the Tigers who will see significant action against Auburn. Maxwell has 21 tackles as a reserve, while McDaniel is a first-team All-ACC freshman selection by Sporting News. Gilchrist has 15 tackles and has been a contributor in the return game as well.

Special Teams

Clemson's special teams were much maligned during the first half of the season, but they have been a strong point during the second half. This was never more obvious than in the victory at South Carolina when Clemson had two blocked punts that proved pivotal in the 23-21 victory. Clemson enters the Chick-fil-A Bowl with three players in the top 25 in the nation in special teams areas.

Spiller is the top return man for the Tigers. He has averaged 29.6 yards per kickoff return this year, second-best in the ACC and eighth-best in the nation. He had kickoff returns for touchdowns in consecutive wins over Duke and Wake Forest, the first player in Clemson history to return a kick for a touchdown in consecutive games. Spiller is also the team leader in punt returns with a 8.6-yard average.

Jimmy Maners is Clemson's starting punter and is 24th in the nation with a 42.7-yard average. His average is the best by a Tiger since 1997, when Kevin Laird had a 42.8-yard figure. He had a streak of five straight games at midseason in which he averaged at least 44.5 yards per punt, a streak that had not been seen in Tigertown since Chris Gardocki accomplished the feat in 1990.

Mark Buchholz has made 20-32 field goals this year, including three of at least 45 yards against Wake Forest. He had a 52-yarder in that game, the longest by a Tiger since the 1997 season. Buchholz is the ACC's scoring leader entering the bowl games with 106 points and needs just three points to set the school record for points in a season.

It was a busy fall for Buchholz, who was also a starting midfielder on the Clemson's soccer team. He netted three goals and had three assists this year for the Tigers. It was his fourth-straight year as a starter for Trevor Adair's team.

The top special teams tackler on the team has been Alexander with 13 stops, while Chancellor has 11 tackles. Clemson's kick coverage improved during the second half of the season. Clemson has held opponents to their 21 or worse on 29 of 77 kickoffs this year, with an average start of the 26. Clemson's offense had an average start of its own 34 after kickoffs.

Clemson Bowl Notes

Clemson to Face Auburn in Chick-fil-A Bowl

Clemson will face Auburn on December 31, 2007 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, GA. The contest will kick off at 7:30 PM and will be nationally televised by ESPN.

The game will be a battle of top-25 teams. Clemson is ranked #15 by the Associated Press and #16 in the coaches poll, while Auburn is #22 by Associated Press and #21 in the coaches poll. Clemson was also #15 in the final BCS rating, its highest rating since 2000 when it also finished the regular season #15.

This will be the first meeting between Clemson and Auburn since the 1998 Peach Bowl (1997 season), a game Auburn won 21-17. Terry Bowden, Tommy Bowden's brother, was the head coach for Auburn in that game. With the victory, Auburn achieved a 10-win season. Now, Clemson and Tommy Bowden can achieve a 10-win season with a victory in the same bowl game 10 years later.

Overall, it will be Clemson's 30th bowl appearance in history, including its seventh appearance in the Chick-fil-A Bowl (formerly known as the Peach Bowl). Clemson last appeared in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in January of 2004 when it defeated #6 Tennessee 27-14. Clemson has a 15-14 overall bowl record, including a 2-4 mark in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

"We are very excited to play in the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl," said Bowden. "There is a lot of history between these two schools dating to the early days of both schools' football programs. Clemson and Auburn take great pride in their football programs and traditions. I know that personally, because I have coached at both schools. It should be a terrific college football game and great atmosphere."

This will be the third time Bowden has taken Clemson to the Chick-fil-A Bowl. In addition to the victory over #6 Tennessee in 2004, he took the Tigers to the 1999 bowl, a game that resulted in a loss to Mississippi State.

Overall, this will be the eighth bowl trip for the Tigers under Bowden. He will tie Danny Ford for the most bowl game appearances in school history. It will also be the third-most bowl appearances for any ACC coach in history. His father, Bobby Bowden, will make a record 16th bowl appearance as an ACC coach this postseason.

Tommy Bowden served as an assistant coach at Auburn from 1991-96. Auburn was 36-9-1 during his last three seasons at Auburn. In 1997, he became the head coach at Tulane, so Auburn was Bowden's last stop as an assistant coach.

This will be a special game for four Clemson starters who are from the Atlanta, GA area. First-Team All-ACC running back James Davis is from Atlanta and First-Team All-ACC wide receiver Aaron Kelly is from Marietta, GA. Quarterback Cullen Harper, the top-rated passer in the ACC this year, is from Alpharetta, GA, while placekicker Mark Buchholz, the leading scorer in the ACC, is also from Alpharetta.

Auburn has dominated the series between the two schools, holding a 32-11-2 advantage. Auburn has won each of the last 12 meetings. Clemson has not defeated Auburn since a 34-0 win at Clemson in 1951, but the two schools have met just once since 1971. Each of Clemson's first three head coaches were Auburn graduates, including the first coach, Walter Riggs, an 1893 Auburn graduate.

The two schools are scheduled to play a home-and-home series in 2010 and 2011. The 2010 game is scheduled for Auburn and the 2011 game is scheduled to be played at Memorial Stadium.

Clemson enters the contest with a 9-3 overall record, including a 5-3 mark in the Atlantic Division of the ACC. The Tigers have played well away from home this year, posting a 4-1 road record, the best mark for the program since 1997. A victory in the Chick-fil-A Bowl would also give the Tigers a 10-win season for the first time since 1990.

Auburn, coached by Tommy Tuberville, finished the regular season with an 8-4 record. The Tigers were 5-3 in the SEC, including wins over Florida, Arkansas, and Alabama. Clemson and Auburn did not have a common opponent this year.

Both Clemson and Auburn enter the Chick-fil-A Bowl coming off victories over their in-state rivals. Clemson defeated South Carolina 23-21 on November 24 on a 35-yard field goal by Mark Buchholz on the last play of the game, while Auburn defeated Alabama 17-10 on the same day.

Both teams have been outstanding on defense this year. In fact, both are in the top 10 in the nation in both total defense and scoring defense. Clemson is sixth in total defense, allowing just 297 yards per game, while Auburn is eighth at 298 yards per game. Auburn is sixth in scoring defense, allowing 16.7 points per game, while Clemson is 10th, allowing 18.3 points per game. Clemson is also in the top 20 in rushing defense and passing defense. Auburn is sixth in passing defense and 27th in rushing defense.

Clemson had four players named First-Team All-ACC, all on offense. Clemson is the only ACC team that is first or second in the ACC in rushing offense, passing offense, and scoring offense in 2007.

Kelly leads the ACC in receiving yards per game and was named First-Team All-ACC in 2007. He has 84 catches entering the bowl game, already a Clemson single-season record, for 1,045 yards. He needs just 40 receiving yards against Auburn to break Rod Gardner's single-season record of 1,084 (set in 1999). Gardner completed his season that year against Mississippi State in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. Kelly also has 11 receiving touchdowns, most in the ACC and already a Tiger single-season record.

Davis is the top rusher with 992 yards and a 5.2-yard average. The junior is tied for second in Clemson history in career rushing with 3,058 yards. He is coming off a 122-yard performance against South Carolina in the regular-season finale. He had 150 rushing yards against Colorado in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl, the second-most rushing yards in a bowl game in school history.

Harper was named the Second Team All-ACC quarterback this year. He threw 27 touchdown passes, a Tiger single-season record, and threw just six interceptions. He is 17th in the nation in passing efficiency. He needs just 113 passing yards to join Charlie Whitehurst as the only quarterbacks in Clemson history to throw for 3,000 yards in a season. Harper has established 21 Clemson single-season records this year as well.

The offensive line is led by First-Team All-ACC players Barry Richardson and Chris McDuffie.

Richardson has started 44 consecutive games and will be making his third start in a bowl game. McDuffie leads the team in knockdown blocks.

Clemson's defense is led in tackles by linebacker Nick Watkins with 118 stops. Michael Hamlin was named Second-Team All-ACC as a safety and has 83 tackles to go with a team-best six takeaways. He also leads the team in passes defended (10). Phillip Merling finished the regular season very strong and has a team-best 16 tackles for loss, including a team-high six sacks. He has 73 tackles overall and was an Honorable Mention All-ACC selection.

Clemson vs. Auburn Series

Auburn has a 32-11-2 lead in the series with Clemson. Auburn has beaten Clemson 12 consecutive times. Clemson has not gained a victory since 1951, a 34-0 win at Clemson. That win gave Clemson five wins in six meetings against Auburn between 1946-51. Clemson wins in 1948, 1950, and 1951 all clinched bowl games as well.

Clemson defeated Auburn in 1947 by a score of 34-18, as Bobby Gage threw four touchdown passes and gained 374 yards of total offense, both single-game school records at the time.

Auburn and Clemson first met in 1899, as Auburn came away with a 34-0 win at home. Clemson won three of the next four games, including a 16-0 win at Auburn in 1902. Clemson's coach in that game was the legendary John Heisman.

The two teams have met just once since 1971, and that was a 21-17 Auburn victory in the 1998 Peach Bowl (at the end of the 1997 season). In the 1971 game at Memorial Stadium, Auburn defeated Clemson 35-13 behind Heisman Trophy winner Pat Sullivan.

In the 21-17 Auburn victory in the 1998 Peach Bowl, Clemson gained just 146 yards of total offense, including just 60 rushing and 86 passing, and totaled only four first downs. Despite the offensive problems, Clemson had a 17-6 lead entering the fourth quarter thanks to a school-record three blocked punts, including two by Rahim Abdullah and one by future NFL first-round draft pick Rod Gardner.

However, Auburn scored 15 points in the fourth quarter to gain the victory. Raymond Priester led Clemson with 62 yards on 19 carries, but Nealon Greene completed just 11-26 passes for 86 yards.

This year's game could be a defensive struggle, and that was certainly the case in the last meeting. Both teams are in the top 10 in the nation in scoring defense and total defense.

Tigers Play Auburn & Alabama on Consecutive Days

Clemson will play Auburn and Alabama in the two major men's sports in consecutive days to close the 2007 calendar year and open the 2008 calendar year. The Tigers will meet Auburn on the gridiron in the Georgia Dome on New Year's Eve at 7:30 PM. The next day (New Year's Day), Clemson's men's basketball team will face Alabama in Tuscaloosa, AL, a contest that will start at 4:30 PM EST.

Both of Clemson's major men's sports teams were ranked #15 in the nation as of December 15. The football team has a 9-3 record and is ranked #15 by AP, and the men's basketball team was 8-0 and ranked #15 on that date. This marks the first time since March 6, 1990 that the Tigers have been ranked in the top 20 in both football and men's basketball at the same time.

Clemson & Auburn Have Long History

- Both schools have the nickname Tigers. There is a theory that Clemson has that nickname because John Heisman brought it with him from Auburn.
- The first three coaches in Clemson football history were Auburn graduates. Walter Riggs (Auburn '1893), Clemson's first head coach and later University President, was Clemson's head coach in 1896 and 1899. W.M. Williams, Clemson's head coach in 1897, was an 1896 Auburn graduate, while John Penton, Clemson's head coach in the fall of 1898, graduated from Auburn in the spring of 1898.
- John Heisman was not an Auburn graduate, but he came to Clemson from Auburn. He coached at Auburn from 1895-99 and came to Clemson to coach from 1900-03. Heisman was 12-4-2 at Auburn before coming to Clemson, where he was 19-3-2.
- John Heisman coached for each school within the first two games of the series. He defeated Clemson while at Auburn in 1899 by a score of 34-0, then he defeated Auburn as Clemson's head coach by a score of 16-0 in 1902.
- Clemson clinched three bowl bids with wins over Auburn between 1948-51, and Auburn clinched three bowl bids with victories over Clemson from 1953-55. Clemson defeated Auburn 7-6 in Mobile, AL in 1948 to clinch a bid to the Gator Bowl. Clemson went on to an 11-0 season with a bowl win over Missouri. Clemson beat Auburn 41-0 in the final regular-season game of 1950 to clinch a bid to the 1951 Orange Bowl, a game Clemson won over Miami (FL) 15-14. Finally, the Tigers clinched a bid to the 1952 Gator Bowl with a 34-0 win over Auburn in the final regular-season game of 1951.
- Both Clemson and Auburn were among the top programs in college football in the 1980s. In fact, both programs had exactly 86 wins that decade. Clemson had the fifth-best winning percentage in that decade with an 86-25-4 record (.765). Auburn had the 10th-best winning percentage with a 86-31-1 record (.733).
- Bill Oliver was a defensive coordinator at both schools. He served on Clemson's staff under Danny Ford from 1986-89. He then served as Auburn's defensive coordinator the last time the two teams met (in the 1998 Peach Bowl).
- Both schools main administration building on campus has virtually the same architecture. Clemson's Tillman Hall was modeled after Auburn's Langdon Hall. In fact, noted Atlanta Journal-Constitution columnist and humorist Lewis Grizzard used to refer to Clemson as "Auburn on a Lake."

Clemson & Auburn Similarities

Clemson and Auburn have a lot of similarities in their current coaches, and that goes for the two overall programs as well. The similarities go back to the early years when John Heisman coached at Auburn and then left there in 1900 to become Clemson's head coach. While this year's two coaches share many similarities, including first name, age, and record against their arch-rival, the schools and football programs are similar.

Clemson is 121 miles from the Georgia Dome, while Auburn is 118 miles from the Georgia Dome, the site of this year's Chick-fil-A Bowl. Both schools have a main building on campus that has virtually the same architecture. Clemson's student-to-faculty ratio is 14/1, while Auburn's is 17/1. Last year, Clemson had 1,178 full-time faculty members and Auburn had 1,176.

Another Auburn-Clemson Connection

Auburn wide receiver John Cubelic is the nephew of former Clemson women's basketball player Mary Anne Cubelic (now Mary Anne Grant). John is actually the second member of his family to dress for Auburn in a Chick-fil-A Bowl game against Clemson. His brother Cole lettered at Auburn from 1997-00 and was on the roster when the two teams met in the 1998 Chick-fil-A Bowl. He also played for a Bowden (Terry) in both 1997 and 1998. John is a red-shirt freshman who has played in one game and has one tackle this season.

Mary Ann Cubelic was inducted into the Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 2002. She is sixth in Clemson history in scoring (1,501) and was an All-ACC guard in both 1981-82 and 1982-83. She played in the first NCAA women's basketball tournament ever played in 1982 when Clemson faced Penn State.

Tigers From Alabama

Clemson has nine current players from the state of Alabama on its roster, the most natives of Alabama on the team in school history. Tiger Assistant Head Coach Dabo Swinney was a member of Alabama's 1992 National Championship team and later coached the Crimson Tide, so he has a strong recruiting connection in the state.

The list of Alabama natives on Clemson's roster includes three wide receivers, players that Swinney coaches. Those wide receivers are senior La'Donte Harris, junior Tyler Grisham, and freshman Jeff Ogren. Clemson had four players sign with the Tigers from the state of Alabama prior to the 2007 season, all players recruited by Swinney. Prior to Swinney coming to Clemson in 2003, Clemson did not have a single signee from Alabama between 1989-02.

Clemson has a strong connection with the state of Alabama in its history. Frank Howard was a 1931 Alabama graduate who was the head coach of the Tigers from 1940-69. He is also a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Danny Ford, a 1969

Alabama graduate, coached the Tigers to the 1981 National Championship, the only one in Clemson football history.

Overall, Clemson has had four Alabama graduates and three Auburn graduates serve as its head coach. The first three Clemson head coaches were Auburn graduates (Walter Riggs, W.M. Williams, John Penton), while John Heisman was a Pennsylvania graduate who came to Clemson from Auburn. Howard, Ford, Charley Pell (1977,78) and Hootie Ingram (1970-72) were Alabama graduates who served as head coach at Clemson.

Ensminger's Clemson Connection

The last time Clemson played Auburn, the offensive coordinator for Clemson was Steve Ensminger. Ten years later, Ensminger will be the tight ends coach for Auburn when the two teams meet in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

Ensminger served as Clemson's offensive coordinator under Tommy West in 1997 and 1998. Clemson had a solid offense in 1997 with Ensminger at the helm, helping Clemson to the Peach Bowl. That year, senior quarterback Nealson Greene completed 60 percent of his passes, then a school record. The Tigers had one of their most balanced offense teams in years that season. Raymond Priester was a 900-yard rusher and Tony Horne was a 900-yard receiver that year.

Clemson & Auburn Have Great Defenses

The last meeting between Clemson and Auburn was a defensive struggle. That meeting was held in the 1998 Peach Bowl (at the conclusion of the 1997 season), a contest that featured less than 520 yards of total offense for the two teams combined.

This year's game could also be very defensive, as both teams are in the top 10 in the nation in total defense and scoring defense. Clemson is sixth in total defense and 10th in scoring defense, while Auburn is eighth in total defense and sixth in scoring defense.

Clemson is also 13th in the nation in passing defense and 20th in rushing defense. Auburn is sixth in passing defense and 27th in rushing defense. Clemson has achieved these national rankings without a First-Team All-ACC player on defense and just one second-team selection (safety Michael Hamlin).

Clemson on New Year's Eve

Clemson has a 2-2 all-time record on New Year's Eve. The Tigers will meet Auburn on December 31 this year at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta. Three of Clemson's four previous New Year's Eve games took place at the Peach/Chick-fil-A Bowl. Clemson lost to Baylor in 1979 by a 24-18 score, defeated Kentucky 14-13 in 1993, and lost to Mississippi State by a score of 17-7 in 1999. Clemson last played a game on New Year's Eve in 2001, a 49-24 victory over Louisiana Tech in the Humanitarian Bowl. That game started at 10:30 AM local time in Boise, ID, so the Tigers were actually home by the time the New Year arrived.

Clemson's Bowl History

Clemson has a rich bowl tradition. The Tigers have a 15-14 record in bowl games. The Tigers are tied for 29th in NCAA history in bowl games played with 29 (tied with Texas A&M and Washington). Clemson's 15 wins are 18th in NCAA history as well. Auburn has 18 bowl wins and stands 13th in victories.

Clemson's first bowl game was in the 1940 Cotton Bowl when the Tigers defeated Frank Leahy and Boston College by a score of 6-3.

Clemson's appearance in the Music City Bowl in 2006 was the Tigers' 12th different bowl game. Clemson has a 7-5 record the first time it appears in a bowl.

This will be the 22nd time that Clemson has faced a top-25 opponent in a bowl game. Clemson is 11-10 in the previous 21 games against top-25 foes in bowl games. Clemson won the last one, a 27-14 win over #6 Tennessee in the 2004 Peach Bowl. That is one of three wins over top-10 teams in school history in bowl games. The others are a win over #7 Texas Christian in the 1959 Bluebonnet Bowl and a win over #4 Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

Clemson has beaten some of the top programs in college football history in bowl games. The list of schools Clemson has beaten in a bowl game includes prominent programs Colorado, Miami (FL), Nebraska, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Penn State, Stanford, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

Clemson won its first three bowl games, victories over Boston College, Missouri, and Miami (FL). The three coaches Clemson defeated in those games were Leahy, Don Faurot, and Andy Gustafson, and all three are in the College Football Hall of Fame.

Clemson has a football program that has been steady over the years in bowl games, no matter who has led the program as head coach. No less than six different head coaches (Jess Neely, Frank Howard, Danny Ford, Ken Hatfield, Tommy West, and Tommy Bowden) have won bowl games for the Tigers.

Overall, nine of Clemson's 15 bowl victories have come against coaches who are in the College Football Hall of Fame. That includes Joe Paterno, who was inducted into the Hall of Fame on December 4, 2007. Clemson has four bowl victories over coaches who are in the 200-victory club. Woody Hayes, Tom Osborne, Paterno, and Don Nehlen are all coaches with at least 200 wins who lost bowl games to Clemson.

Clemson has bowl wins over some of the greatest coaches in college football history:

- Frank Leahy, the second-winningest coach in college football history on a winning-percentage basis, when Clemson defeated Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl.
- Joe Paterno of Penn State, the second-winningest coach in Division I history on a total-wins basis, when Clemson defeated Penn State 35-10 in the 1988 Citrus Bowl. It is still the largest margin of defeat in a bowl game for Paterno, who is the winningest coach in college history in terms of victories in bowl games.
- Woody Hayes of Ohio State, the ninth-winningest coach in college football history (Division I) on a total-victories basis, when Clemson defeated the Buckeyes 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl, Hayes' last game as coach.
- Barry Switzer of Oklahoma, the fourth-winningest coach in Division I history on a winning-percentage basis, when Clemson defeated Oklahoma in the 1989 Citrus Bowl, Switzer's final game as a college coach.
- Tom Osborne of Nebraska, the seventh-winningest coach in Division I history on a total-wins basis, when Clemson defeated the Cornhuskers in the 1982 Orange Bowl, which gave the Tigers their only national title.
- Don Nehlen of West Virginia, the 14th-winningest coach in Division I history, when the Tigers downed the Mountaineers 27-7 in the 1989 Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, FL.
- Phillip Fulmer of Tennessee, the fifth-winningest active coach in Division I history by winning percentage, when the Tigers defeated #6 Tennessee 27-14 in the 2004 Peach Bowl in Atlanta, GA.

Clemson's Chick-fil-A Bowl History

Clemson is making its seventh appearance in the Chick-fil-A Bowl (formerly called the Peach Bowl). Clemson and N.C. State have made the most appearances in the history of the bowl with six apiece. Every Tiger appearance has taken place since 1979. Clemson first appeared in the event in 1979, when Clemson played Baylor and linebacker Mike Singletary. Baylor won that game 24-18.

The only bowl Clemson has participated in more than the Chick-fil-A Bowl is the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, FL (8 times).

Clemson's two victories in the Peach Bowl took place in 1993 and 2004 (2003 season). Clemson defeated Kentucky 14-13 on a touchdown pass from Patrick Sapp to Terry Smith with just 20 seconds left in 1993. Sapp will be on the sidelines working for Clemson's radio network for this year's game.

Clemson beat Tennessee 27-14 for its other win. Tennessee was ranked #6 entering that game, as it is the second-highest ranked team the Tigers have defeated in a bowl game. The only one that is higher is the win over #4 Nebraska when Clemson captured the national title in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

Four of Clemson's six games in the Chick-fil-A Bowl have been decided by six points or less. Clemson is 1-3 in those close games.

Clemson in Indoor Stadiums

Clemson has played seven previous games in indoor stadiums. The Tigers are 4-3 in those games. Each of the last five games the school has played in a domed stadium has been played in the Georgia Dome, all Peach/Chick-fil-A Bowls. Clemson played its first game in an indoor stadium in 1981 when it defeated Tulane 13-3. The school also played Duke in the Tokyo Dome in 1991, a game the Tigers won 33-21 thanks to 26 points in the fourth quarter.

The Georgia Dome is the only facility in the last 90 years that Clemson has played a football and basketball game in. The men's basketball team played in the 2001 ACC Tourney in the Georgia Dome. The Tigers were 1-1 in that event, a win over Florida State and a loss to North Carolina.

Clemson Looking for Victory #10

One of the biggest motivators for Clemson entering the Chick-fil-A Bowl with Auburn is to earn a 10th victory on the 2007 season. Clemson has not won 10 games since 1990, when Ken Hatfield's Tigers had a 10-2 record after defeating Illinois in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Clemson has won nine games in a year five times since, including this year, but has never reached the 10-win mark.

This is just the second time that Clemson has won nine games during the regular season since the 1992 season. The Tigers totaled nine wins in the regular season in 2000, but they lost to Virginia Tech in the Gator Bowl. Clemson won nine games in 1993 and 2003 as well, but the ninth wins came in bowl games.

The school record for wins in a season is 12, set in 1981 when Clemson won the National Championship with a 12-0 record. The 1948 and 1978 teams won 11 games as well.

Tiger Records & Milestones Within Range Team

- Clemson needs 16 points to break the school record of 425 set in 2006. Tigers have 410 in 2007.
- Clemson needs four extra points to break the school record of 51 set in 2000. Clemson has 48 made extra points in 2007.
- Clemson needs six first downs passing to break season record of 156 set in 2003. Clemson has 151 in 2007.
- Clemson needs 20 completions to break the school record for completions in a season. The Tigers have 281 in 2007, and the record is 300 (2003).
- Clemson needs 24 first downs to break the school record for first downs in a season. The Tigers have 281 in 2007, and the record is 303 (2003).

Individual

- Mark Buchholz needs two kick-scoring points to break Chris Gardocki's Clemson record of 107 set in 1989. Buchholz has 106 points in 2007.

- Mark Buchholz needs three points to break Travis Zachery's record of 108 points set in 2000. Buchholz has 106 points in 2007.

- Mark Buchholz needs one made extra point to break the record for a season. Jad Dean had 46 in 2006. Buchholz has 46 in 2007.

- James Davis needs eight rushing yards for his second 1,000-yard season. When he does that, he will become just the third Tiger with two 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Raymond Priester and Woodrow Dantzler also did it.

- Cullen Harper needs two touchdowns (touchdown responsibility) to break Woodrow Dantzler's single-season record of 31 set in 2000. Harper has 30 this year, including 27 passing and three rushing.

- Cullen Harper needs 113 passing yards to reach 3,000 for the season. The only other Tiger to do it is Charlie Whitehurst in 2003.

- Cullen Harper needs 21 completions to break Charlie Whitehurst's season record. Whitehurst had 288 in 2003. Harper has 268 in 2007.

- Aaron Kelly needs five receptions to break the ACC record for receptions in a season. Torry Holt had 88 for N.C. State in 1998. (Wake Forest's Kenneth Moore has 87 catches in 2007 entering his bowl game against Connecticut.)

- Aaron Kelly needs 40 receiving yards to break Rod Gardner's Clemson record (1,084 in 1999). Kelly has 1,045 yards in 2007.

- Aaron Kelly needs two touchdown receptions to tie Glenn Smith's Tiger career record of 18 receiving touchdowns. Smith's final two touchdown catches, #17 and #18, came against Auburn in 1951. Smith's record is the oldest offensive record in the Tiger record book.

Tigers in Top 20 in All Four Defensive Categories

Clemson is one of five schools nationally to rank in the top 20 in the nation in the four major defensive categories, including scoring defense, total defense, rushing defense, and passing defense. The others (see chart below) are Louisiana State, Ohio State, Southern California, and West Virginia. All four of those schools won their conference championships and will play in a BCS bowl game this year.

Clemson has finished in the top 25 in all four defensive categories in the same year just five times in history (including 2007). Defensive Coordinator Vic Koenning has been the coach on three of those five defenses. The other seasons Clemson has done it are 1988, 1989, 2005, and 2006.

Clemson Among NCAA Statistical Leaders

Clemson has five players in the top 25 of various individual offensive or special teams categories. Clemson is also in the top 25 in the nation in 10 team categories, including the four major defensive categories.

Indicators of Victory

In its nine wins this season, Clemson is outscoring its opponents 68-7 on points off turnovers. In its three losses, Clemson is being outscored 23-3 on points off turnovers. Clemson is also 6-0 when it wins the turnover margin, 1-2 when it loses the turnover margin, and 2-1 when it has the same amount of turnovers as its opposition.

Average starting field position has also been a telling stat in 2007. In Clemson's nine wins, its average starting field position has been at its own 36 versus its opponents' 25. In Clemson's three losses, its average starting field position has been at its own 28 versus its opponents' 36. Clemson is 9-1 this year when it wins the average starting field position battle and 0-2 when it does not win it.

Tigers Second Nationally in Turnovers

One of the keys to Clemson's success on offense this season has been controlling the football. The Tigers have committed just 12 turnovers this season, and that includes three lost fumbles on special teams, two of which were failed recoveries of onside kicks (failure to recover an onside kick counts as a lost fumble statistically). The Tigers have just six lost fumbles and thrown only six interceptions in 12 games.

Only Ball State (10 turnovers) has committed fewer turnovers than Clemson. East Carolina, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana State, and Michigan State are tied for third with 13 turnovers apiece.

With just 12 turnovers in 12 games, Clemson is averaging just one turnover per game. If the season ended today, that would be the second-best figure in school history. Clemson's 1940 team averaged just 0.88 turnovers per game. That was Frank Howard's first Tiger team. He never had a team finish in the top 10 in Clemson history in that category the rest of his career. Clemson will not be able to break the mark on a per-game basis, because 12 turnovers in 13 games would be 0.92 per game.

Nevertheless, it is a noteworthy accomplishment for the regular season.

Clemson is ninth in the nation in turnover margin, its highest ranking in that category under Tommy Bowden. Clemson has forced 24 turnovers and committed just 12. Clemson's highest national finish in turnover margin is second (1988,89). Both of those teams finished second in the nation in turnover margin with an identical +1.82 margin per game. The best mark under Bowden is an 11th-place finish in 1999, when Clemson was +0.82 per game.

Clemson Returns to Top 25

Clemson is ranked #15 by Associated Press and #16 by USA Today entering the bowl season. Clemson was ranked for five straight weeks, but it dropped out for two weeks. It has been back in for six straight weeks.

The Tigers were ranked in the AP poll for five straight weeks and the USA Today poll for four straight weeks early in the season. The appearance ended after the loss to #14 Virginia Tech on October 6. Clemson had been ranked #22 entering that game. The Tigers were ranked as high as #13 in the nation after their 4-0 start.

Clemson was not ranked in the preseason, but it jumped into the AP poll after it defeated #19 Florida State on Labor Day night. It marked the second time in the last three years that Clemson was not ranked in the AP preseason poll, then defeated a top-25 team in the season-opener to move into the top 25 by the second week. In 2005, Clemson defeated #17 Texas A&M in the season-opener, then it moved into the poll the following week at #25 in the AP poll.

If Clemson finishes the year in the top 25, it will mark the third time in the last five years that Clemson was not ranked in the preseason, then finished the season ranked in the top 25.

Clemson was ranked in the preseason of the AP poll in 2006 and reached a high of #10 in the nation after a 7-1 start. Tommy Bowden's team was ranked in the top 25 in the nation 11 weeks during the 2006 season as well.

This is the sixth season in Bowden's nine years that Clemson has been ranked at least once in the top 25. The Tigers were ranked in all 17 polls in 2000, and they were also ranked in 2001, 2003, 2005, 2006, and 2007. Clemson was not ranked the entire year until the final poll in 2003, the only season in school history that that has happened.

Clemson has been ranked in the final top 25 three times in Bowden's career, including 2000, 2003, and 2005. Clemson has been ranked in the top 25 of each poll (but not necessarily at the same time) 53 weeks under Bowden as well.

Tigers Had Five-Game Win Streak vs. Top-25 Teams

Clemson's 24-18 win over #19 Florida State on Labor Day night was the fifth-straight victory for the Tigers against a top-25 ranked team. That was the first time since the 1988-89 era that Clemson had five-straight wins over top-25 ranked teams, and it was just the second time in school history. The streak was broken when #14 Virginia Tech defeated the Tigers by a score of 41-23 at Memorial Stadium on October 6.

Clemson's streak of top-25 ranked wins dated to November 12, 2005, when Clemson defeated #16 Florida State. In the final regular-season game of 2005, the Tigers won at #19 South Carolina. The Tigers then had two top-25 wins last year, including a 27-20 win at #9 Florida State and a 31-7 win over #13 Georgia Tech.

After a 3-14 record against top-25 ranked teams to start his Tiger career, Head Coach Tommy Bowden has won 10 of his last 15 since 2003. Two of the losses since the 2003 season were in overtime. Clemson's win over Florida State earlier this year was its 58th top-25 win in history, including its 26th in Death Valley.

Tigers in Top 25 in Football & Men's Basketball

Clemson's football and men's basketball teams were both in the top 25 of the polls on December 9. Clemson is ranked #15 by AP and #16 by USA Today in football, while the men's basketball team was #15 in both polls on December 9.

Prior to this year, one would have to go back to November 18, 1996 to find the last time that Clemson was ranked in the top 25 in both sports at the same time. That week, Clemson was #22 in the AP football poll and #24 in the USA Today poll, while the men's basketball team was #12 in the AP poll and #17 in the USA Today poll.

On December 9, Clemson was one of only five programs, including the only ACC school, nationally ranked in the top 25 of the AP college football and men's basketball polls.

Clemson Breaks Season Ticket Record

Clemson sold a school-record 58,005 season tickets for the 2007 football season. The previous record was 57,625 for the 1988 season. The previous high in the Tommy Bowden era was 57,506 (2001).

In addition to the season-ticket totals, Senior Associate Athletic Director Bill D'Andrea announced that the IPTAY Annual Fund reached a record total, thanks in part to the participation of a record number of donors. The IPTAY Annual Fund surpassed $15 million for the first time, and the donor total exceeded 16,000. The donor total does not include members of the Tiger Cub Club.

D'Andrea also confirmed that the goal of raising $27 million for Phase I of the WestZone Capital Campaign was reached.

"We are certainly proud of the support we have seen from our loyal IPTAY donors," said D'Andrea. "It has been an extraordinary year. We are very excited to reach our goal for Phase I of the WestZone Initiative, and now we are in the process of moving on to our goals for Phase II.

"Phase II is very important, because it will allow our football operations to move into Death Valley. It will thereby allow more office space, locker room space, and strength training for our Olympic Sports programs as well, so the project benefits the entire department.

"To reach a season-ticket record with a schedule that has seven home games and does not include South Carolina speaks volumes to the level of support for this program."

Tigers Set Special Teams Record

Clemson has been much improved since the Virginia Tech game at midseason, when the Hokies scored on a kickoff return and punt return. The Tigers' coverage has been much improved in both areas. Maryland's average start after a Clemson kickoff was its own 22, while Duke's average start was its own 24. For the season, Clemson has held the opposition inside its own 21 after a kickoff 29 times in 75 kickoffs (39 percent). Tiger opponents have held Clemson inside the 21 a total of 14 times in 49 kickoffs (29 percent).

In the Duke game on November 3, Clemson established a school standard for average kickoff return yards with a 55.3-yard average on three returns. The previous record (minimum of three returns) was a 43.3-yard average on three returns against N.C. State in 2002.

For the season, Clemson is second in the ACC in kickoff return average (23.7), just behind Georgia Tech. C.J. Spiller, who had an 84-yard kickoff return for a touchdown at Duke, has a 29.6-yard average, eighth-best in the nation. He returned a kickoff for a touchdown in consecutive weeks against Duke and Wake Forest, the first Tiger in history to do that.

Clemson Has Faced Top Defenses

Clemson is second in the ACC in total offense (412.4), second in passing offense (253.6), second in rushing offense (158.8), and first in scoring offense (34.2) entering the bowl season. Clemson also leads the ACC in pass efficiency offense (147.8), a figure that is 13th-best in the nation, and is second in the ACC in first downs (23.0).

Clemson Bowl Notes

The Tigers have declined in terms of yards per play this year (5.6), down from a school-record 6.5 in 2006. But, if the season ended today, the 5.6-yards-per-play figure would be sixth-best in school history.

Clemson Closes Out Road Schedule 4-1

Clemson's last-second 23-21 victory at South Carolina on November 24 gave the Tigers a 4-1 road record this season. That is Clemson's best road record under Head Coach Tommy Bowden, and the best since the Tigers were 4-1 on the road in 1997. This year, Clemson defeated N.C. State, Maryland, Duke, and South Carolina on the road, and lost at Georgia Tech.

The 2007 squad has been one of the best road teams in the last 25 years. Since 1982, only the 1995 (5-0), 1997 (4-1), 1988 (4-1), and 1989 (4-1) teams have also won at least 80 percent of their road games.

Clemson's offense was outstanding in three of the five previous road games. The Tigers scored over 40 points at Duke and N.C. State, and they scored 30 points at Maryland. The 13-point victory margin at Maryland was Clemson's largest in College Park in 12 years. The 22-point victory margin at N.C. State (42-20) was the best since 1978. And the 37-point victory margin at Duke was Clemson's best-ever in Durham and the Tigers' best in any ACC road game since 1984.

Tigers First ACC Team to Beat FSU Three Straight

When Clemson downed #19 Florida State in the season-opener, Clemson became the first ACC team to defeat the Seminoles three consecutive years since they joined the league in 1992. The list only includes games that are conference contests. Miami (FL) defeated Florida State six straight times between 2000-04, but the Hurricanes were not yet in the ACC at the time.

The win over Florida State was also noteworthy in other areas. Florida State had been 16-1 in season-opening games the last 17 years, and Bobby Bowden had been 27-4 in season-opening games as Florida State's head coach. The Seminoles had been 13-2 in ACC openers entering that game as well.

Tigers Go Over 600 Total Yards Twice

Clemson gained 608 yards of total offense in the victory at N.C. State on September 22, tied for the fourth-highest total in school history. The record performance is 756 yards in an 82-24 win over Wake Forest in 1981.

Clemson then trumped that performance in Raleigh in the win over Central Michigan with a 656-yard performance. The Tigers had 341 rushing yards and 315 passing yards, the first time in Tiger history they had at least 300 yards of each in the same game. It was the second-highest total in school history as well.

While the 608 yards at N.C. State was the fifth-best performance in school history, it was the best ever in an ACC road game. The previous best was 567 at N.C. State in 2001.

The 608 yards at N.C. State in 2007 also were the most in a road game for the Tigers since 1903, when Clemson had 615 yards at Georgia Tech. John Heisman was Clemson's coach for that game. The Georgia Tech people were so impressed that they offered to pay Heisman a higher salary than Clemson and got him to move to Atlanta to coach its team the next season.

Clemson's 608 yards of total offense also was the most for a Tiger team in school history against the Wolfpack. The Tigers gained 340 rushing yards, also the best ever for Clemson against the Wolfpack. The previous high mark was its 304 rushing yards during Clemson's National Championship season of 1981.

The Tigers have never lost a game in their history when they total at least 200 rushing yards and 200 passing yards in the same game. Including three games this year, the tally is a 49-0-1 record. The only blemish is a 24-24 tie at Georgia Tech in 1976, a game in which Clemson had 234 passing yards and 248 rushing yards.

Clemson is 51-0-1 in its history when it gains at least 500 yards. The only blemish is a 514-yard performance in a tie with Virginia in 1991. Clemson is 105-3-1 when it rushes for at least 300 yards and 73-0 when it totals at least 322 as well.

Clemson is 32-1 under Head Coach Tommy Bowden when it rushes for at least 200 yards, including 4-0 in 2007.

Clemson Outgained N.C. State by 406 Yards

Turnover margin is always a stat that is pointed out by coaches, but total offense margin can be a good indicator as well. Clemson has a 60-15 record under Tommy Bowden when it outgains the opposition in his nine years as head coach, including a 4-1 record during the 2007 season. Clemson outgained #14 Virginia Tech 380-219 on October 6, but it lost the game, as the Hokies had three returns for touchdowns, including one on an interception, one on a punt return, and one on a kickoff return.

Clemson won the total offense battle by a near-high mark for the last 30 years in the 42-20 victory at N.C. State on September 22. The Tigers gained 608 yards and gave up just 202 yards, good for a +406 margin. That was the highest total-offense margin by a Tiger team since a +464 margin against Wake Forest in 2000. In that game, the Tigers gained 623 yards and allowed just 159 yards in a 55-7 win.

A look back over the last 30 years tells us the performance was actually the second-best margin by Clemson since 1978. The only margin that was greater was that Wake Forest performance in 2000. Clemson had a +364 margin in the win over Central Michigan on October 20 as well.

Tigers Score 70 Against Central Michigan

Clemson scored 70 points in its 70-14 win over Central Michigan on October 20 at Death Valley. The Chippewas entered the game on a three-game winning streak and went on to win the MAC title. The Tigers trailed 7-0, and the score was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter, but Clemson scored 28 points in the second quarter and 28 points in the third, the first time in modern history that Clemson scored 28 points or more in consecutive quarters.

Clemson's scoring outburst was the seventh-most points scored by an FBS team this year. Oklahoma has scored the most with 79 points against North Texas on September 1. Texas Tech scored 73 points against Northwestern State on September 29, and Louisville scored 73 points against Murray State on August 30. So, Clemson's 70 against Central Michigan tied for the fifth-most scored against another FBS school.

In terms of Tiger history, it was the seventh-most points, including the most since the Tigers scored 82 in an 82-24 victory over Wake Forest during the 1981 season. The school record is 122 points in a 122-0 win over Guilford in 1901. It was the third-most points scored by the Tigers in the history of Memorial Stadium, which opened in 1942.

Tiger Mascot Did 385 Pushups vs. Chippewas

Clemson played 73 players in its 70-14 win over Central Michigan on October 20. With many reserves getting into the contest, none of the Tiger players were too exhausted when the game ended. It is safe to say the most exhausted person in Death Valley when the clock hit 0:00 was Tiger mascot Dan Licata.

Since 1978, the Tiger mascot has done pushups after every Clemson score. The number of pushups he does equals Clemson's new point total on the scoreboard. The heat was not that bad on October 20, a perfect 75-degree afternoon. But inside that Tiger mascot uniform, it can get quite steamy.

Licata did 385 pushups in Clemson's 70-14 victory over the Chippewas. That included a record-210 pushups in the third quarter alone. He still did not get the single-game record of 465, a total reached by Ricky Capps in Clemson's 82-24 victory over Wake Forest in 1981.

Clemson scored three touchdowns in the last 5:29 of the third quarter and another just three minutes into the fourth quarter. After doing pushups after Clemson reached points totals of 49, 56, and 63 within the last 5:29 of the third quarter, Licata had to go into the Tiger locker room to rest. He was not on the field when Clemson scored its final touchdown to give the Tigers 70 points. He then reappeared a few minutes later and did the last 70 pushups, much to the delight of the crowd.

Tigers Blocked Two Punts at South Carolina

Clemson did not block a punt in its first 11 regular-season games of 2007, then had two in the win at South Carolina on November 24, including one by reserve senior wide receiver La'Donte Harris and one by reserve junior wideout Nelson Faerber. Harris actually scored a touchdown on Faerber's block in the first quarter, then Harris blocked one himself in the third quarter.

It was just the fourth time on record that Clemson blocked at least two punts in a single game. The last time Clemson had at least two blocked punts was against Auburn in the Peach Bowl at the end of the 1997 season. Clemson had three blocks in that game against Auburn, including two by Rahim Abdullah and one by Rod Gardner. Gardner's block resulted in an 18-yard blocked punt return for a touchdown by Chad Speck. One of Abdullah's blocked punts set up a two-yard run for a score by Terry Witherspoon.

The only other games on record that Clemson blocked two punts in the same game were against The Citadel in 1954 and Maryland in 1989.

Four Tigers Named First-Team All-ACC

Junior running back James Davis, junior wide receiver Aaron Kelly, senior offensive guard Chris McDuffie, and senior offensive tackle Barry Richardson were all named First-Team All-ACC in 2007. Junior quarterback Cullen Harper and junior safety Michael Hamlin were also second-team selections, while Phillip Merling (DE), Dorell Scott (DT), and C.J. Spiller (Specialist) each received honorable mention honors.

Davis (Atlanta, GA) has rushed for 992 yards in 12 games, good for an average of 82.7 yard per contest. He is averaging 5.2 yards per carry and has scored nine rushing touchdowns. In his three-year career at Clemson, he has rushed for 3,058 yards and 35 rushing touchdowns. It was the second straight year that Davis was named First-Team All-ACC, the first Tiger running back to do that since Terry Allen (1987,88).

Kelly (Marietta, GA) has already set the school record for receptions in a season with 84. He also has 1,045 receiving yards and a Tiger-record 11 receiving touchdowns. His first-team selection gave the Tigers a First-Team All-ACC wideout for four consecutive seasons. He needs just 40 receiving yards against Auburn to establish a single-season record in that category.

McDuffie (Danville, VA) and Richardson (Mount Pleasant, SC) are two big reasons the Tigers are in the top three in the ACC in almost every offensive category. McDuffie, originally a defensive lineman at Clemson, has helped pave the way for Davis and Spiller to rush for a combined 1,648 yards this season.

Richardson, who is in his fourth year as a starter, has been the Tigers' top-graded offensive lineman this year with a season's average of 87 percent. Richardson was a First-Team All-ACC pick in 2006 as well. Both McDuffie and Richardson have helped protect Harper, who has set numerous school records.

Harper (Alpharetta, GA) has completed 67 percent of his passes for 2,887 yards and a school-record 27 touchdown passes against only six interceptions. His 146.9 pass efficiency rating is the third-best in Clemson history, while his 2,887 passing yards are second-most in Tiger history. He also has accounted for 30 total touchdowns, second in Clemson history behind the 31 recorded by Woodrow Dantzler in 2001.

Hamlin (Timmonsville, SC) was the Tigers' lone defensive All-ACC selection this season, as he has led the Tigers to a #6 national ranking in total defense. For the season, he has a team-tying-high four interceptions and 83 tackles along with two recovered fumbles to give him a team-best six takeaways.

Clemson's six total selections tied for fourth-most among conference members, trailing only Georgia Tech's eight All-ACC selections, and Boston College's and Virginia Tech's seven selections. Wake Forest (5), North Carolina (4), Virginia (4), Florida State (3), Maryland (3), Miami (2), N.C. State (2), and Duke (1) were also represented on the All-ACC team. Clemson's four first-team selections only trailed Georgia Tech's five first-team selections as well.

Clemson had the most first-team selections on offense with four. It marked the second straight season that Clemson had four First-Team All-ACC picks on offense.

Four Senior Starters on the Offensive Line

Clemson started four seniors on its offensive line during the regular season, but it does not mean it is an experienced corps. Clemson returned just one starter (All-ACC tackle Barry Richardson) from last year. Thomas Austin, Christian Capote, Chris McDuffie, and Brandon Pilgrim were all in their first seasons as starters. Clemson had two of the five

First-Team All-ACC offensive linemen, as Richardson and McDuffie were both named.

Clemson had five selections for ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week this season, including two by Austin, two by Richardson, and one by Capote.

Richardson is the most experienced of the group and has started each of the last 44 games. He has played 48 games overall, never missing a game since the first game of his freshman season in 2004. He is a veteran of 2,706 career snaps and has 200 career knockdown blocks.

Richardson graded a season-best 90 percent in the victory at N.C. State on September 22, helping Clemson to 608 yards of total offense and 340 rushing yards. He was also Clemson's highest-graded lineman against both #14 Virginia Tech and Central Michigan in October. He was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week twice this year as well.

Capote was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week for the Tigers' win at N.C. State. He graded 91 percent and had 11 knockdowns in 68 snaps. Austin was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week twice as well, including after the 23-21 win at South Carolina.

Four Tigers Offspring of National Champions

Every team's goal this time of the year is to win the national championship. Four members of Clemson's 2007 team have a national championship history in their heritage, because they are the offspring of fathers who played on national championship teams.

Three of the four are sons of members of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team. Freshman reserve offensive tackle Landon Walker is the son of Gary Walker, an offensive lineman on that team. Safety Michael Wade is the son of Mike Wade, a defensive end on the 1981 team who earned a letter that season. Walk-on running back Ronald Watson is the son of Ronald Watson, a reserve safety on the national championship team who went on to become a three-year starter between 1982-84.

Starting quarterback Cullen Harper is also the son of a national champion. His father Jeff was a starting offensive lineman on Georgia's 1980 National Championship team. One of Georgia's close victories that year was a 20-16 triumph over Clemson in Athens.

Final Game for 2007 Seniors

The 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl will be the final game for Clemson's 17 seniors. It is a small class by comparison to other senior classes. Only 10 of the 17 seniors were originally scholarship players. Many of the walk-ons were put on scholarship prior to this year. Three members of this year's senior class are really red-shirt juniors, but they have informed the coaching staff that they will graduate in May of 2008.

Clemson Bowl Notes

Those players are Elsmore Gabriel, Alex Pearson, and Tribble Reese.

Below is a rundown of some of the 2007 senior class' accomplishments:

- Entering the Chick-fil-A Bowl, the group has a four-year record of 31-17 (63.8 winning percentage). A victory in the bowl game over Auburn would give the class a 32-17 career record, the same amount of wins the seniors of 2003 had. The final win for that class came in the Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee.
- The Tigers have already won nine games this year, marking the third straight year Clemson has won at least eight games. This is the first Tiger class to have three straight years of eight wins or more since the 1991 senior class.
- Clemson and Georgia Tech are the only two ACC schools that have not had a losing season in conference play over the last four years. Clemson had a 5-3 league record this year, while Georgia Tech was 4-4.
- The 2007 class is the first in ACC history to defeat Florida State three consecutive years.
- The 2007 class stands out when it comes to wins over top-25 ranked opponents. It has seven wins over top-25 teams in its four seasons, including at least one each year. This team will have another opportunity when it plays #21 Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. The record for top-25 ranked wins by a class is 10, set by the seniors of 1989, 1990, and 1991.
- The 2007 class had a five-game winning streak against top-25 ranked teams, tied for the school record for consecutive wins over top-25 ranked teams. The program also won five straight against top-25 ranked opponents from 1988-89.
- The 2007 class has a chance to record a second top-25 final ranking. Clemson finished #15 in the final 2007 BCS ratings, and that was Clemson's highest final BCS rating since the 2000 team was also #15.

Clemson Has a Young Team

Clemson had 50 returning lettermen from last season's 8-5 team, but it had only 11 returning starters, including just four on offense. A look to Clemson's two-deep for the Florida State game reveals that there were just five seniors on the starting 22 and only seven seniors among the top-44 players.

Three of the five senior starters were on the offensive line, including Barry Richardson, Christian Capote, and Chris McDuffie. The other two seniors are on defense (Nick Watkins, Tramaine Billie).

Clemson's strongest class is the junior class. Ten of the 22 starters on offense and defense are juniors, and seven more are second-team players. No freshman is listed as a starter (unless Clemson is in a two tight-end formation when Brian Linthicum is listed). Six of the top-44 players are freshmen.

Clemson has just eight seniors on scholarship (original scholarship players). That is the fewest since the 1985 team had just seven.

Clemson Has Played 11 First-Year Freshmen

Clemson's 2007 freshman class was regarded as among the school's best in many years and among the best in the nation according to several services. Seven first-year freshmen played in the season-opener against #19 Florida State and 11 played in the second game against Louisiana-Monroe.

The list of first-year freshmen who played against the Seminoles included tight end Brian Linthicum, who had an 11-yard touchdown reception for Clemson's first score of the season. He became the first Tiger first-year freshman to score in his first game since Bernard Rambert scored two touchdowns against Maryland in 1999 in his first game. He added another touchdown reception against Louisiana-Monroe.

DeAndre McDaniel had six tackles and two pass breakups in the secondary in his first contest, and he had two more pass breakups against Louisiana-Monroe. He is tied for the team lead in pass breakups (5). Jarvis Jenkins contributed a sack on his first career series against Florida State. Scotty Cooper, Chad Diehl, Xavier Dye, and Marcus Gilchrist were the other first-year freshmen to see action against the Seminoles.

Quarterback Willy Korn along with defensive linemen Kourtnei Brown, Miguel Chavis, and Rennie Moore all played against Louisiana-Monroe after not playing in the season-opener.

In the last 26 years (including 2007), Clemson has played 151 first-year freshmen, an average of 5.8 per season. Sixty-three of the first-year freshmen have been offensive players, 84 have been defensive players, and four have been kickers.

Since Tommy Bowden came to Clemson in 1999, the Tigers have played 53 first-year freshmen, including 19 on offense, 32 on defense, and two on special teams. That is an average of 5.9 first-year freshmen per year, so Bowden is a bit above the Tiger average for the last 26 years.

This year's Clemson team has played 11 first-year freshmen, and that ties the record since the freshman rule came into effect in 1972. The 1985 team also played 11 first-year freshmen. The 1994 team under Tommy West played 10 first-year freshmen, including a record nine on offense.

The most wins for a Tiger team that has played at least eight first-year freshmen is 10 (1989), a team that played eight in a 10-2 season.

Prior to this year, the most first-year freshmen that Bowden has played in a season is 9 (2001). That year, Bowden played three on offense and six on defense on the way to a 7-5 season.

Clemson has played at least one first-year freshmen for all 26 years of the rule. The fewest number was the one used during the 2002 season (Justin Miller).

Tiger Assistant Coaches Have Bowl Experience

Clemson has a veteran coaching staff, and that means the group has coached in a lot of bowl games. Associate Head Coach Brad Scott will be coaching in his 19th bowl game in his career. He coached at Florida State between 1983-93 and never coached in a losing bowl game with the Seminoles. Ron West will be coaching in his 10th bowl game when the Tigers face Auburn, including his eighth as a coach at Clemson. He also played in two bowl games as a player at Clemson.

Dabo Swinney and David Blackwell will both be coaching in their ninth bowl games, including their fourth at Clemson. Tommy Bowden is in his 30th year as a graduate assistant coach, full-time assistant coach, or head coach. This will be his 15th bowl game. That does not include the 1998 season when he led Tulane to the Liberty Bowl, but he did not coach in that game because he had taken the head coaching position at Clemson.

Tigers in the NFL

Clemson has had 17 players on NFL rosters this season. There have been 13 on the active rosters, while three are on injured reserve, including

2006 Pro Bowl kick returner Justin Miller of the New York Jets.

The list is led by six-time Pro Bowl selection Brian Dawkins, a star safety for the Philadelphia Eagles. If he is selected at the end of this year, the safety will set a Tiger record for most Pro Bowls by a former Tiger.

Four members of the 2006 team made NFL rosters. First-round draft pick Gaines Adams played in the 2007 season-opener for Tampa Bay at Seattle. Anthony Waters is a member of the San Diego Chargers, and Chansi Stuckey is a member of the Jets. Dustin Fry is on the Saint Louis Rams as a practice-squad player. Derrick Hamilton was recently added to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' practice squad.

Wideout Chansi Stuckey of the New York Jets was injured during a practice prior to Week #2 and is on injured reserve for the remainder of the season.

Tigers From Georgia

Clemson has 11 scholarship players on its 2007 active roster from the state of Georgia. That includes two players from the city of Atlanta, the home of the Chick-fil-A Bowl. Running backs James Davis and Ray Ray McElrathbey both list Atlanta as their hometowns. Davis is Clemson's starting running back, while McElrathbey is out for the year due to a torn ACL that he suffered in the preseason.

Clemson's starting quarterback Cullen Harper is from Georgia, as he is a native of Alpharetta. He and starting placekicker Mark Buchholz list Alpharetta as their home, but they went to different high schools. Buchholz went to Chattahoochee High School, the same school that produced former Tiger quarterback Charlie Whitehurst, while Harper graduated from Sequoyah High School. Nelson Faerber, a reserve wide receiver who scored a touchdown at South Carolina, also graduated from Chattahoochee High.

Aaron Kelly is another Clemson starter from the state of Georgia. He is a native of Marietta (suburb of Atlanta) and graduate of Walton High School. He leads the conference in receiving yards per game. Kelly has already established school single-season records for receptions and receiving touchdowns. He needs just 40 receiving yards in the bowl game to set the school record for receiving yards in a season.

McDuffie & Richardson Named All-Americans

Senior offensive linemen Barry Richardson and Chris McDuffie were both named to All-America teams for the 2007 season. Richardson, a tackle from Mount Pleasant, SC, was named a first-team All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com and a second-team All-American by the Walter Camp Foundation. McDuffie, a guard from Danville, VA, was named a second-team All-American by Sporting News.

It marked the first time in Clemson history that two different offensive linemen made a first or second-team All-America team in the same season. It also marked the second straight year that Clemson had an offensive guard named to an All-America team, as Nathan Bennett was a Third-Team AP All-American in 2006. Richardson is the first Tiger offensive tackle to make an All-America team since Jim Bundren was a Third-Team AP All-American in 1997.

Both Richardson and McDuffie were named First-Team All-ACC this year. It marked the second straight year that Richardson was selected First-Team All-ACC.

Richardson has been a starter since his freshman season of 2004 and has started 44 consecutive games. He was a two-time ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week this year and led Clemson in blocking grade in five of the last six games. He finished the regular season with 59 knockdown blocks and has 200 for his career. He has played 2,706 snaps in his career, seventh-most in school history.

McDuffie has 76.5 knockdown blocks this year and an average grade of 86 percent. He has started 10 of the 12 games this season, missing just one game due to an elbow injury. He has played 558 snaps in 2007 and 1,118 during his career. McDuffie is in his first year as a full-time starter. He started the last five games of 2006 after Roman Fry suffered a season-ending injury.

Both players are big reasons Clemson leads the ACC in scoring and is second in total offense, rushing offense, and passing offense. The Tigers are 9-3 and ranked #15 in the final BCS poll, their highest BCS ranking since the 2000 season. Clemson is also ranked #15 in the AP poll and #16 in the USA Today poll entering its Chick-fil-A Bowl game with Auburn.

Harper & Hamlin Named Permanent Captains

Junior quarterback Cullen Harper and junior safety Michael Hamlin were both named permanent captains of the 2007 team by Head Coach Tommy Bowden, announced after a bowl practice in December. The captains were selected by a vote of team members.

It marked the first time since the 1977 season that two non-seniors were named offensive and defensive captains in the same year. Thirty years ago, junior quarterback Steve Fuller and junior linebacker Randy Scott were named permanent captains.

"We had a lot of leaders on this football team," said Head Coach Tommy Bowden. "We had more people receive votes than in any other season since I have been at Clemson. The fact that we had a lot of players receive votes tells me that we had a lot of leaders this year, and that is a reason for our 9-3 record thus far."

Harper is the fourth quarterback under Bowden to be named a permanent offensive captain. Brandon Streeter (1999), Woodrow Dantzler (2001), and Charlie Whitehurst (2005) were also named permanent captains during their senior seasons. Harper is the first underclassman named since Louis Solomon in 1994.

Harper is first in the ACC in passing efficiency this year with a 146.9 figure. He has a school-record 27 touchdown passes against just six interceptions, and he has passed for 2,887 yards. He has also completed 67 percent of his passes and set 22 school records. He has led Clemson to nine wins, the most by a first-year starter at quarterback since 1990, when DeChane Cameron quarterbacked Clemson to a 10-2 record.

Hamlin is second on the team in tackles (83) this season. He leads the team in takeaways (6) and has 10 passes defended. Hamlin is a big reason Clemson is in the top 10 in the nation in total defense, scoring defense, and passing defense.

Davis & Spiller Combine for 280 at N.C. State

James Davis and C.J. Spiller, known as "Thunder & Lightning," had their second-best career game in the win at N.C. State on September 22. They combined for 280 rushing yards on 45 carries and scored a combined four touchdowns, including two rushing and two receiving. Their best combined day came against #13 Georgia Tech in 2006 when Davis had 216 rushing yards and Spiller picked up 116 rushing yards in a 31-7 victory. The 332-yard total is the second-highest combined by two Tigers in the same game in history.

The duo also went over 100 rushing yards at Maryland on October 27. Davis had 29 carries for 129 yards, while Spiller added 17 carries for 106 yards. The performance at Maryland marked the fourth time in their careers that they each gained at least 100 yards in the same game. They did it in 2006 against the Yellow Jackets and in the win over Louisiana Tech.

Spiller and Davis have set the Clemson record for 100-yard rushing games by a running back duo. Stacey Driver and Kenny Flowers had three games in which they each had 100 yards. All three of those games took place in 1985.

Spiller and Davis have combined for over 200 rushing yards six times in their careers, including three times in 2007. That includes the South Carolina game when they combined for 210 yards on 39 carries.

Clemson Third in Graduation Success Rate

Clemson's football program has the third-best graduation success rate among top-25 teams in the coaches poll according to USA Today. The 2007 graduation success rate figures for all schools were released on October 3, and the publication reclassified the list according to graduation rate.

Boston College, also from the ACC, had a 93-percent rate to top the list, while Nebraska was second at 83 percent. Clemson was third at 75 percent, followed by Florida and Virginia Tech, who both had 72-percent figures.

The graduation success rate does not take into account student-athletes who transfer or turn professional in good academic standing. The current study examined student-athletes who entered school between 1997-00, and it gives the student-athletes six years to graduate.

Clemson should have strong numbers in the future as well. Sixteen of the 18 scholarship seniors on the 2006 team have already graduated, meaning 89 percent of last year's seniors have degrees.

Clemson also is fourth among the top 27 public national universities who play Division I football, listed in U.S. News & World Report. (Clemson is ranked #27 in the latest U.S. News & World Report for top public national universities.) Only North Carolina (79 percent), Connecticut (78 percent), and Penn State (76 percent) are higher than Clemson among the top-27 institutions. Clemson has a higher football graduation rate than seven of the eight top-10 schools who have a Division I football program.

Phillips on 100 Most Influential Educators List

Clemson Athletic Director Dr. Terry Don Phillips was named one of the 100 Most Influential Sports Educators in America, the Institute for International Sport announced earlier this season. Phillips is one of just four Division I athletic directors on the list, joining Terry Holland (East Carolina), Mark Murphy (Northwestern), and Gary Walters (Princeton).

The Institute's top-100 list also includes PGA Tour player Tiger Woods, former UCLA basketball Head Coach John Wooden, Tennessee Women's Basketball Head Coach Pat Summitt, former NBA World Championship player and Head Coach Bill Russell, former Baltimore Oriole shortstop Cal Ripken, Jr., current Penn State Head Coach Joe Paterno, current Duke and United States Olympic Basketball Coach Mike Krzyzewski, current Los Angeles Lakers Head Coach Phil Jackson, and NBC Sports Broadcaster Bob Costas.

The list is the result of a three-year project by the Institute aimed at honoring sports educators who have, "made a lasting impact on the lives of young athletes, and who are providing a blueprint to other sports educators to do likewise." The core criteria used for selection was the effective use of sport as a means to educate.

Jeff Davis Inducted Into College Football HOF

Former Clemson consensus All-American and 1981 ACC Player-of-the-Year Jeff Davis was one of 12 players inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in December. Davis was the co-captain and leading tackler of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team.

Davis was inducted at the Waldorf Astoria on December 4 along with 11 other former college players and two former coaches. Joining Davis in the class was center Tom Brahaney (Oklahoma, 1970-72), defensive back Dave Brown (Michigan, 1972-74), quarterback Doug Flutie (Boston College, 1981-84), safety Johnny Johnson (Texas, 1976-79), quarterback Rex Kern (Ohio State, 1968-70), and running back and wide receiver Ahmad Rashad (Oregon, 1969-71). Also inducted were running back Anthony Thompson (Indiana, 1986-89), defensive tackle Wilson Whitley (Houston, 1973-76), linebacker Reggie Williams (Dartmouth, 1973-75), linebacker Richard Wood (Southern California, 1972-74), and defensive tackle Chris Zorich (Notre Dame, 1988-90).

The two coaches who were inducted were Herb Deromedi (Central Michigan, 1978-93) and Joe Paterno (Penn State, 1966-07). Paterno was elected in 2006, but he could not attend the ceremony due to an injury.

Davis was the second former Tiger All-American inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame this decade, and he is just the third in school history. Terry Kinard was inducted in 2001 and Banks McFadden was inducted in 1959. Former Clemson Head Coaches John Heisman, Jess Neely, and Frank Howard are also members of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Davis played 40 games at Clemson between 1978-81 and registered 469 career tackles, still third-most in school history. He totaled 175 tackles in 1981, leading the defense that was second in the nation in scoring defense. The Tigers had a 12-0 record that year, winning the school's only national title.

For his accomplishments in 1981, Davis was named ACC MVP, just the third defensive player in league history to win the award. He concluded the season in grand style with a 14-tackle performance in the 22-15 Orange Bowl win over Nebraska that clinched the national title for the Tigers, Clemson's first national championship in any sport.

At the conclusion of the season, Davis was named a first-team All-American by UPI, Football Coaches Association, Football Writers Association, Walter Camp Foundation, and Football News. He was also named National Lineman-of-the-Year by the Atlanta Touchdown Club.

Davis was a fifth-round draft selection of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1982, but he proved the NFL scouts wrong by posting impressive numbers in a six-year NFL career. The inside linebacker played 83 games, including 72 as a starter, from 1982-87. He led Tampa Bay in tackles three of the six years, including a career-high 165 stops in 1984, and served as team captain for four seasons. He still is eighth in franchise history in career tackles (662).

Since the end of his playing career, Davis has been inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame (1989) and to the Clemson Ring of Honor (1995). He was inducted into the state of South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame (2001) and was named to the ACC's 50-Year Anniversary team in 2002.

Davis gained national acclaim when he was the field director of the Call Me Mister Program in South Carolina. The program raises money for scholarships for African-American males in the state of South Carolina who are pursuing secondary education as a career. In 2001, he received the "Use Your Life Award" from Oprah Winfrey's Angel Network. He was presented the award on Winfrey's program, and she also contributed $100,000 to the Call Me Mister Program.

Davis is currently an assistant athletic director for fundraising in the Clemson Athletic Department, and he remains active in the Call Me Mister Program as a consultant.

Bowden Has Coached 110 Games at Clemson

Head Coach Tommy Bowden has coached 110 games in his tenure at Clemson. The win over Louisiana-Monroe on September 8 was his 100th game at Clemson and his 62nd win. Bowden has a 69-41 record for his first 110 games. His winning percentage of 63 percent is second-best in school history among coaches who have coached at least five years at the school. Only Danny Ford's 76.0 winning percentage is better.

Bowden is also third in games coached. Frank Howard coached 295 games between 1940-69, while Ford coached 129 games from 1978-89. Bowden is third in wins (68), trailing only Howard (165) and Ford (129). Bowden is also second in top-25 wins (13), trailing only Ford's 20, and is tied for second in bowl wins (3).

Bowden Has Eighth-Straight Winning Season

Clemson has had eight consecutive winning seasons (including 2007), a first for the program since the 1977-84 era. When the Tigers recorded the 8-5 2006 season, it gave Head Coach Tommy Bowden had his seventh consecutive winning season as Clemson's head coach. That is a school record. When Clemson had eight straight winning seasons from the 1977-84 era, the Tigers had two different coaches (Charley Pell, Danny Ford).

Ford had a six-year streak between 1979-84 and closed with a four-year streak from 1986-89. Frank Howard had six consecutive winning seasons from 1955-60.

Clemson Bowl Notes

On the ACC level, Bowden's current streak of eight is third-best in history. Bobby Bowden of Florida State has an active streak of 16 in a row (as an ACC school, but 32 in a row overall), while former Virginia Head Coach George Welsh had a 13-year streak from 1987-99. Jerry Claiborne of Maryland (1973-80) and Mack Brown of North Carolina (1990-97) both had eight-year streaks as well.

Current Virginia Tech Head Coach Frank Beamer has a 15-year streak, but only three as an ACC school.

Bowdens in Elite Company

Head Coach Tommy Bowden has been a Division I head coach for 11 years, including nine at Clemson and two at Tulane. All 11 seasons he has had his team bowl eligible. That includes this year, as the Tigers became bowl eligible with a win over Maryland on October 27.

Bowden is one of just five head coaches who have had their team bowl eligible every year since 1997. The list includes his father Bobby Bowden (Florida State) and Frank Beamer (Virginia Tech). Lloyd Carr will coach one more game with Michigan. Former Southern Mississippi Head Coach Jeff Bowers was on the list when 2007 started. His team is bowl eligible, but he will not coach it in a bowl.

Not on the list below are Steve Spurrier (South Carolina) and Nick Saban (Alabama). Both took some time off from college to coach in the NFL, and thus they have not coached each of the last 10 years. Both of their teams were 6-6 in 2007.

Bowden To Coach in 16th Bowl Game

Head Coach Tommy Bowden will coach in the 16th bowl game of his career, including his eighth at Clemson and his eighth as a head coach when the Tigers take on Auburn in the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl. He was the first ACC coach to lead a league team to a bowl game in each of his first five years with a program. He has had the Tigers bowl eligible each of his nine years in Tigertown.

Bowden is 3-4 in bowl games at Clemson, including victories in two of his last three appearances, a 27-14 win over #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl after the 2003 season and a 19-10 victory over Colorado in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl. He also had a win over Louisiana Tech in the 2001 Humanitarian Bowl.

Bowden guided Tulane to a perfect 11-0 regular-season record in 1998, but he resigned shortly after the regular season in order to start his Clemson career. He did not coach Tulane in its Liberty Bowl victory over Brigham Young that year.

Bowden coached in three bowls as an assistant at Florida State, three as an assistant at Alabama, and two as an assistant at Auburn, for a total of eight previous bowls appearances. His teams were 4-4 in those games.

Bowden Coached at Auburn

Tommy Bowden served as an assistant coach at Auburn from 1991-96. He worked under Pat Dye during the 1991 and 1992 seasons, then worked for his brother Terry from 1993-96. Auburn had a 36-9-1 record with both Bowdens on the staff from 1993-96, including an 11-0 record in 1993 and a 9-1-1 record in 1994. Auburn went to bowl games in 1995 and 1996 as well.

Had Tommy stayed at Auburn for the 1997 season, he would have coached against Clemson, but he left Auburn after the 1996 season to become the head coach at Tulane.

Bowden vs. SEC

Tommy Bowden has an 8-6 record against SEC teams, including five wins in his last seven games. He is 1-0 this year against the SEC after an 0-2 record in 2006. Bowden has seven of his eight wins against South Carolina, and the eighth win took place in the 2004 Peach Bowl. That was a 27-14 victory over #6 Tennessee. Bowden is 1-2 against SEC teams in bowl games as well.

Bowden is 8-7 in his career against the SEC, as he suffered a loss to Mississippi 41-24 in his first year at Tulane. The coach of that Mississippi team was current Auburn Head Coach Tommy Tuberville.

Bowden Tied for Third in ACC History in Bowls

With Clemson's selection to the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl, Tommy Bowden will move into a tie for third place in ACC history in bowl game appearances. Bobby Bowden, his father, will coach in his 16th bowl game as an ACC coach when his Seminoles meet Kentucky in the Music City Bowl. Georgia Welsh coached in 12 bowl games as Virginia's head coach from 1981-00.

Bowden will be tied with Danny Ford for first in Clemson history and third in ACC history. Ford coached in eight bowl games for the Tigers between the 1979 and 1989 seasons. Jerry Claiborne coached in seven bowl games for Maryland, and Bill Dooley coached in seven at North Carolina and Wake Forest.

Tigers Head to Eighth Bowl Under Bowden

Clemson has a 9-3 record this season and is bowl eligible for the ninth straight year, a streak that dates to and includes the 1999 season. The last year Clemson was not bowl eligible was 1998, when the Tigers were 3-8 in Tommy West's final season at Clemson.

The 2007 season marked the third time Clemson was bowl eligible within the first eight games of a season since Bowden became head coach. The quickest Clemson has been bowl eligible under Bowden was the 2000 season, when Clemson won its first eight games. The Tigers became bowl eligible just seven games into the year in 2006. Therefore, this year's 6-2 start was the third-quickest Clemson has become bowl eligible under Bowden.

The Tigers have been to a bowl game each year of his Clemson career, with the exception of the 2004 season. Clemson was 6-5 that year, but it did not go to a bowl after an on-field altercation in the season-finale against South Carolina led to the decline of any bowl invitation by the Clemson administration.

Clemson has been in the postseason mix most of the last 30 years. Since 1977 (31 seasons including 2007), Clemson has been bowl eligible 28 times. This will be the 23rd time in the last 31 years that Clemson has been to a bowl game. The Tigers were bowl eligible in 1980 with a 6-5 record, but they were not selected. The Tigers were on probation from 1982-84 and did not go to a bowl even though they had a bowl-eligible record each season.

Bowden & Tuberville Faced Each Other in 1997

This will be the second meeting between Tommy Bowden and Tommy Tuberville. The first meeting took place in The Louisiana Superdome in 1997. Bowden was the head coach at Tulane and Tuberville was the head coach at Mississippi.

Clemson Bowl Notes

Mississippi came away with a 41-24 victory on the way to an 8-4 season.

Bowden lost just four games in his two years at Tulane, and the loss to the Rebels was one of the four. In fact, it was his last loss as Tulane's head coach. Tulane won its last game of that season, then it posted an 11-0 record in the regular season under Bowden in 1998.

The two coaches were also on opposite sidelines in both 1995 and 1996. Tuberville was the head coach at Mississippi, while Bowden was an assistant coach at Auburn during those seasons. Auburn won both of those games, including 46-13 at Auburn in 1995 and 45-28 at Oxford in 1996.

Coaching Comparison

Much has been made of the comparisons between Clemson and Auburn. The schools are similar in many ways, including the nickname Tigers and a central administration building that looks virtually the same. Clemson's first three football coaches were Auburn graduates, while the fourth, John Heisman, came to Clemson from Auburn.

The two current head coaches have similarities as well. Both Tommy Bowden of Clemson and Tommy Tuberville of Auburn have much in common. In addition to the obvious same first name, they are both 53 years of age, both have two children, both started at their respective schools in 1999, and both have a 7-2 record against their arch-rivals.

Bowden Has 13 Top-25 Wins

Clemson has 13 wins over teams who have been ranked in the top 10 in the nation by at least one service, and Tommy Bowden has been the coach for five of those 13. The list includes a 26-10 victory over #3 Florida State in 2003, the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated in its history.

Bowden also had a top-10 win over #6 Tennessee in the Peach Bowl at the end of the 2003 season, a win at #10 Miami (FL) in 2004, and a win at #9 Georgia Tech in 2001. He added a win over #9 Florida State in Tallahassee to the list in 2006. His four top-10 wins in the last five seasons ties the school record for top-10 wins in a five-year period.

Overall, Bowden has 13 top-25 wins in his career at Clemson. His first top-25 win came in his first victory, a 33-14 win over #19 Virginia in 1999. He will have an opportunity to get a 14th win over a top-25 ranked team when the Tigers face Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

Bowden defeated #12 Georgia Tech in 2006 at Memorial Stadium and surpassed Frank Howard for second place on the Tiger coaching list for top-25 wins. Howard had 11 in his career between 1940-

69. It should be noted that there were only 10 teams ranked for eight of the years Howard coached. Danny Ford is the all-time leader with 20 top-25 wins in his career, and Bowden is second with 13.

Bowden Has 14 Wins Over National Title Coaches

Earlier this season, Head Coach Tommy Bowden defeated Florida State Head Coach Bobby Bowden, and then he defeated South Carolina Head Coach Steve Spurrier in the regular-season finale. Those were Tommy Bowden's 13th and 14th wins over national championship head coaches. He is now 2-1 against Spurrier and has won four of his last five against his father.

In 2005 and 2007, he downed both Bobby Bowden and Spurrier in the same year. He became just the third coach to do it in the same season, joining Phillip Fulmer of Tennessee (1998) and Butch Davis of Miami (FL) (2000).

Both of the aforementioned coaches (Bobby Bowden, Spurrier) have won the national title. Clemson's head coach has 14 wins over six different coaches who have won the national title in their careers since he became the Tigers' head coach in 1999. He had three of the nine wins in a four-game span to end the 2003 season. Five of the wins over national championship head coaches came against South Carolina's Lou Holtz.

Clemson's Record By Uniform Under Bowden

Clemson has used eight different uniform combinations since Tommy Bowden became head coach in 1999. That includes the all purple attire Clemson wore for the Georgia Tech game in 2006. Clemson seniors that season recommended the uniform because they wanted to "make history." They did with a win over the #13 Yellow Jackets by a score of 31-7.

In 2003, the Tigers broke out purple jerseys for the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta on September 20, and the Tigers gained a convincing 39-3 victory. It was the first time that Clemson had worn purple jerseys since the 1991 season, when Clemson wore them in a regular-season game against N.C. State and for a bowl game against California. Clemson has a 6-0 record under Bowden in purple jerseys and orange pants, including the 2006 win over N.C. State.

Buchholz Playing Two Sports

Placekicker Mark Buchholz is having a busy fall. In his first year on the Tiger football team, Buchholz just finished his fourth and final season as a starting midfielder on the Clemson soccer team. He is the first Tiger athlete to play football and soccer at the same time since Donald Igwebuike played both in 1982.

The Tiger soccer season ended on November 14 with a loss in the ACC Tournament, so Buchholz will have just football to worry about until the season ends after a bowl game.

He had a busy weekend on September 21-22, as he played for the soccer team on Friday night against top-ranked Wake Forest at Clemson's Riggs Field. After the game, he flew on the school plane to Raleigh and then played at 12:00 PM against N.C. State at Carter-Finley Stadium. He scored a season-high 16 points on the gridiron that day.

The native of Alpharetta, GA is not a stranger to the gridiron. He played football at Chattahoochee High School, the same school that produced former Tiger quarterback Charlie Whitehurst. In fact, he made an all-state team in Georgia in both football and soccer. He also worked with the Clemson football team each of the last two preseason practices before rejoining the soccer team exclusively. He then joined the football team in the spring.

Buchholz was a star of Trevor Adair's soccer club during the last four seasons from his midfield position. He was the leading returning scorer from last year's team that ranked #9 in the nation and reached the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Buchholz had five goals on Clemson's Final Four team of 2005. He added three goals and three assists this season.

The Labor Day contest against #19 Florida State was the conclusion of a busy first weekend of competition for Buchholz. On Friday evening, he played at Riggs Field in soccer against rival South Carolina. On Sunday, he had another soccer match, and then on Monday night, he faced Florida State on ESPN on the gridiron. That is two games against top rivals in front of capacity crowds in two different sports.

Clemson Bowl Notes

The tradition of playing both sports at the same time actually dates to 1978, when Obed Ariri played both football and soccer. Ariri came to Clemson in the fall of 1976 as a scholarship soccer player from Nigeria. He then joined the football team during the fall of 1977 and played only football that season. He only played football during the regular season of 1978, then he played in college soccer's Final Four in Tampa, FL in the fall of 1978. Therefore, he played just two soccer matches that fall.

Then in 1979, he decided to play both sports. And, he did so with success. He netted 17 goals for the soccer team in 1979 and made 16 field goals for the football team that same fall. On one weekend, he kicked three field goals in a football game against South Carolina, then he scored the only goal in a soccer win in the NCAA Tournament the next day against the Gamecocks. He then solely played football in 1980 and was an All-American, leading the nation in field goals (23).

Donald Igwebuike came to Clemson on a soccer scholarship in 1980 and played both sports in 1981 and 1982. It was Ariri who convinced him to play both sports, because they were both on campus in 1980. Igwebuike kicked three field goals in Clemson's National Championship clinching victory over Nebraska.

Igwebuike played on two top-10 teams that fall, as the soccer team finished #8 in addition to the football team's #1 final ranking in the fall of 1981. Igwebuike then only played football in 1983 and 1984. He was a Third-Team AP All-American on the gridiron in 1984 as well.

Both Ariri and Igwebuike went on to play in the NFL. In fact, both started their respective careers with the Buccaneers.

Buchholz has had quite a football season, and it culminated with a game-winning 35-yard field goal at South Carolina on the last play of the game, giving Clemson a thrilling 23-21 victory. It was the first game-winning field goal on the last play of the game for the Tigers since David Treadwell kicked a 46-yarder to down Georgia in 1986.

Buchholz is leading the ACC in scoring with 106 points. He needs just three points in the bowl game to break Travis Zachery's school record of 108 points (2000).

Buchholz Had Busy, Productive Weekend

Mark Buchholz had a busy weekend on October 27, 28. On Saturday, he kicked three field goals in Clemson's 30-17 victory at Maryland. He also had three touchbacks on kickoffs to help Clemson's field-position battle. Four times in the game, the Terrapins took over after kickoffs at their own 20 or worse.

Saturday evening, Buchholz boarded the Clemson University school plane and flew to Chapel Hill, NC to play for the Clemson soccer team on Sunday afternoon. He netted two goals in Clemson's 3-2 loss to the Tar Heels. It was his high-scoring game of the year for the soccer team. Therefore, he had three field goals on Saturday for the football team, then he had two goals for the soccer team the following day.

Buchholz Perfect on PATs

Mark Buchholz kicked five consecutive extra points in the win over Wake Forest earlier this season and is a perfect 46-46 on PATs in 2007. If he remains perfect in the bowl game, he will establish a school record for consecutive made PATs without a miss in a season.

The Clemson record for most PATs made in a season without a miss is 41. Donald Igwebuike was a perfect 41-41 on PATs in 1984, while Chris Gardocki was also 41-41 in 1989. Therefore, Buchholz already has more...he just has to finish the season perfect. He needs just one extra point to break Jad Dean's record of 46 extra points made in 2006.

The record for a career for consecutive PATs is 72-72 by Chris Gardocki from 1988-90. Bob Paulling had a streak of 70 in a row from 1981-83. David Treadwell made 63 in a row from 1985-87 as well.

Gardocki was a perfect 72-72 in his career, while Igwebuike was 43-43. Buchholz, who appeared in his first collegiate game earlier this season, is 46-46.

Davis Gets Game Ball

James Davis had 29 carries for 129 yards in the win at Maryland on October 27. He had "guaranteed" a victory during media interviews earlier in the week.

"I was not showing a lack of respect for Maryland, I just wanted to show some leadership and tell my teammates I had faith in them," said Davis after the Tigers won the game 30-17.

After the game in the locker room, Bowden presented Davis with the game ball. It was an unusual event, as Bowden is not one to give out a game ball after every game. In fact, the last time he gave a game ball to a player was at South Carolina in 2005, when he presented Charlie Whitehurst with a game ball after becoming the first quarterback in history to lead Clemson to four victories over the Gamecocks.

While Bowden was not overly excited about Davis' bold prediction prior to the Maryland game, he appreciated the junior's desire to show leadership.

Davis Moving up Rushing Yards & TD Lists

James Davis gained 122 rushing yards in Clemson's win at South Carolina on November 24, the second time in his career he rushed for at least 100 yards against the Gamecocks in Columbia. It was his 12th career 100-yard game, and he is second in Clemson history in that area. It was his ninth career 100-yard game in a night game as well. Only Raymond Priester has more 100-yard games than Davis.

In the win at South Carolina, he went over the 3,000-yard mark, just the third Tiger in history to do so, and he moved into a tie for second place on the Tiger career rushing list. He is tied with Travis Zachery, who had 3,058 rushing yards between 1998-01.

Davis is second in school history in rushing touchdowns and second in Tiger history in total touchdowns. He passed Lester Brown in both categories when he scored three touchdowns, including two rushing and one receiving, in the win over Central Michigan. He only trails Zachery in both categories.

Davis had a 70-yard touchdown run at Duke, the longest run of his career. It came on his 499th career carry. He also had 150 rushing yards against Colorado in the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl during his freshman season.

Davis Returns to Atlanta

James Davis is certainly looking forward to playing Auburn in the Chick-fil-A Bowl in his hometown of Atlanta. The Tiger junior running back grew up just blocks from Bobby Dodd Stadium and could hear the roar of the crowd from his home when Georgia Tech played its games.

This will be his third trip to Atlanta with the Tiger football team. His first trip in 2005 as a freshman was discouraging. After gaining 143 yards against N.C. State that year, he suffered a broken wrist. He played just one snap and had only one carry at Georgia Tech that year due to the injury. Clemson lost the game 10-9.

Earlier this year, Clemson lost at Georgia Tech 13-3. Davis was Clemson's most effective offensive player with 12 carries for 60 yards, but he did not score a touchdown. Therefore, Davis is looking for his first Tiger victory in his hometown.

Ford Lost for the Season

Clemson gained a significant win at Maryland on October 27, but it suffered a great loss when wide receiver Jacoby Ford suffered a season-ending injury. Ford suffered a broken ankle in the fourth quarter, shelving the two-sport star for the remainder of the season.

Ford is one of the top all-around players on the team. A look to the stats shows that Ford was second on the team in all-purpose yards, averaging 100.1 yards per game at the time of his injury. He was first on the team in punt return yards with 108 on 12 returns and second in kickoff return yards with 211, but first in kickoff return average (26.4). Ford was also third in rushing with 172 yards (12.3-yard average), fourth in receptions (17), and third in receiving yards (310).

"Jacoby Ford's loss is a big one to our football team because he does so many different things," said Head Coach Tommy Bowden. "When you look at our offense, we like to spread the ball around between #1 (James Davis), #28 (C.J. Spiller), #6 (Jacoby Ford), and #80 (Aaron Kelly). Someone else will now get a chance."

Grisham Fifth in the ACC in Receptions

Wideout Tyler Grisham had 19 receptions in consecutive games against Wake Forest and Boston College in November, and he ended the regular season with 58 receptions, fifth-best in the ACC. He had three receptions in the first half at South Carolina, but then he suffered an injury and was lost for the rest of the game. He will be ready to play against Auburn.

Earlier in the season, he had 11 catches for 100 yards against #14 Virginia Tech. It was his first 100-yard receiving game. He actually caught 14 passes in the game, but three were wiped out by penalty. That would have been a Tiger single-game record for receptions. The existing record is 12, set by Airese Currie against Middle Tennessee in 2003.

Grisham came back strong with nine catches for 100 yards and a score in the 44-10 win over Wake Forest on November 10. He has already doubled his totals from last year when he had 25 catches for 264 yards. Grisham had four receptions for 59 yards in the win over Central Michigan on October 20 and also contributed three tackles on kickoff returns.

Hamlin in Interception Battle With His Brother

Safety Michael Hamlin is leading the Tigers in takeaways this year with 28, including four interceptions and two recovered fumbles. He has 12 in his career, tied for eighth-most in school history. The junior has eight career interceptions and four career recovered fumbles.

Hamlin had his fourth interception of the year at Duke on November 3. He is tied for ninth in the ACC and tied for 55th in the nation with 0.33 interceptions per game. While Hamlin is proud that he leads the team and is moving up the Clemson charts of defensive players who have forced the most turnovers, he is still second in his family this season.

Hamlin is in a friendly statistical rivalry with his brother Markee, who is a starting defensive back at S.C. State. Markee had five interceptions for the Bulldogs to not only lead his team, but his mark is 14th-best in the nation among FCS players.

Harper Has Nine Wins in First Year as Starter

Cullen Harper has led Clemson to a 9-3 record in his first year as the starting quarterback. The nine wins for a first-year starter are the most by a Tiger since DeChane Cameron quarterbacked Clemson to a 10-2 record in his first year as the starter in 1990. Chris Morocco had quarterbacked Clemson to a 10-2 record as a senior the previous year, but that was also his first year as the starter.

Overall, Harper's nine wins are tied for third-most by a Clemson quarterback in his first year, and a win in the Chick-fil-A Bowl would allow him to tie the record.

Harper Leads ACC in Passing Efficiency

Cullen Harper leads the ACC in passing efficiency with a 146.9 figure. Harper is ahead of second-place Sean Glennon of Virginia Tech, who has a 143.8 figure. If Harper ends the season leading the league in passing efficiency, he would be the first Tiger since 1983 and just the third Clemson signal-caller since 1979 to pace the conference in that category.

Mike Eppley was the last Tiger to lead the conference in passing efficiency. He had a 146.0 rating in 1983 when he helped the Tigers to a 9-1-1 record. Homer Jordan led the ACC in passing efficiency in 1981 with a 133.4 mark, important stats for Jordan, who quarterbacked Clemson to the national title that season.

The only other passing champions in Clemson history are Harvey White (1957) and Jimmy Addison (1967). They both led the ACC in passing yards, as those were the stats used to determine the top passer. The passing efficiency stat was devised in 1979.

Harper is second to Matt Ryan in touchdown passes (27), trailing Ryan, who has played 13 games, by just one. Harper's touchdown pass total is tied for seventh-best in ACC history. Charlie Ward had 27 touchdown passes in 1993, the year he won the Heisman Trophy.

Harper's Stats Comparable to Matt Ryan

Cullen Harper is having a strong year as the Tigers' quarterback. He has already established 22 school records on a season or game basis, and many more should be on the way if he continues his current pace. The junior from Alpharetta, GA had his best game of the year statistically against Central Michigan when he completed 20-22 passes for 273 yards and five touchdowns, helping lead to a Clemson record 273.9 team pass efficiency figure.

A look to the latest ACC stats shows that Harper leads the ACC in a number of statistical categories and even compares favorably to Heisman Trophy candidate Matt Ryan of Boston College. Entering the bowl season, Harper leads the ACC in passing efficiency and touchdown/interception ratio.

Harper Sets Tiger Touchdown Record

Cullen Harper has established 22 school records in his 12 games as a starter at quarterback. He set a school record at Duke on November 3 when he had two touchdown passes. Those were his 22nd and 23rd touchdown passes of the year, both to Aaron Kelly, a new school record. The previous single-season record for touchdown passes was 21, by Charlie Whitehurst in 2003 and Woodrow Dantzler in 2001.

Harper has thrown 27 touchdown passes with just six interceptions this year, big contributors to his pass efficiency rating of 146.9, best in the ACC and 17th-best in the nation.

Harper has thrown 29 touchdown passes in his career, already fourth-best in Clemson history. The junior, who did not become a starter until the 2007 season, already has more career touchdown passes than former Clemson greats Steve Fuller, Bobby Gage, Homer Jordan, and Harvey White. The only players ahead of Harper on the list are Whitehurst (49), Dantzler (41), and Nealon Greene (35).

Harper Sets Pass Efficiency Mark

Cullen Harper has established the top-two pass efficiency games in Clemson history this season. His 261.1 figure against Central Michigan was the best in school history, better than the existing record of 253.9 that he established earlier in the season against Furman. Harper has two of the top-10 figures and three of the top-24 performances in the nation this season.

Harper Atop Tiger Career Pass Efficiency List

Cullen Harper is on pace to record the best single-season pass efficiency figure in school history and is also the #1 passer in Tiger history in that category for a career. It has been quite a jump in the standings for Harper, who had thrown only 22 passes and completed 15 for 170 yards in his first two active seasons at Clemson.

In his career, Harper has completed 283 passes in 422 attempts for 3,057 yards and 29 touchdowns against just six interceptions. That computes to a 147.7 pass efficiency figure, the best mark in Tiger history by a wide margin. He is ahead of the 137.0 figure posted by Will Proctor, a starter on last year's team.

Harper is also ahead of the record pace for passing efficiency in a season. His record 146.9 pass efficiency mark (minimum of 100 passing attempts) is just ahead of the 146.0 by Mike Eppley in 1983.

It is interesting to note that the top-three players in Clemson history in terms of passing efficiency all played for Head Coach Tommy Bowden.

Kelly Has Chance for ACC Record

Wideout Aaron Kelly has already established a school record for receptions in a season (84). He is just four short of the existing ACC record of 88 set by Torry Holt of N.C., State in 1998.

However, if Kelly gets five catches in the Chick-fil-A Bowl against Auburn, he might not necessarily set the league mark. Kenny Moore of Wake Forest actually has 87 receptions this year entering the bowl season, and he obviously could exceed Kelly's total by the end of the bowl season.

The previous Tiger record for receptions in a season was 80, set by Rod Gardner in 1999. He finished that season with a seven-catch performance against Mississippi State in the 1999 Peach Bowl.

Kelly leads the ACC in receiving touchdowns (11), a figure that is 13th-most in ACC history. If he totals two receiving touchdowns against Auburn, he will move into a tie for fifth place in ACC history in that category.

Kelly already has the ACC record for a non-senior. Holt, Moore, and Jerricho Cotchery (N.C. State) were all seniors when they had their big years in terms of receptions.

Kelly Moving Up Career Charts

While Cullen Harper has been establishing Clemson records from behind center, Aaron Kelly, his favorite target, has been moving up the receiving charts as well. Against #14 Virginia Tech on October 6, he had 11 receptions for 174 yards and a touchdown catch. That reception total tied for second-most in Clemson history (also tied by Tyler Grisham in the same game), and it was the third-most receiving yards in a game.

Kelly needs just 25 receiving yards against Auburn to reach 2,000 for his career. He also needs just seven receptions to become Clemson's career leader in that category. Derrick Hamilton had 167 receptions between 2001-03. Hamilton set the school record in his last game (Chick-fil-A Bowl at the end of the 2003 season).

The 174 receiving yards by Kelly against the Hokies were the most by a Tiger in the history of Memorial Stadium (opened in 1942). Kelly had 72 yards-after-catch against Virginia Tech. He leads the ACC in reception yards per game as well.

Kelly continued his outstanding play with seven receptions for 121 yards and two scores in the 70-14 win over Central Michigan on October 20. He had a 63-yard touchdown reception in that game, the longest of his career and the second-longest offensive play for the Tigers this season.

Kelly eclipsed his stats from last year in the first six games of 2007. He had just 30 catches for 355 yards and three scores in 2006. His career high for a season was 47 receptions in 2005 as a freshman when he had 575 receiving yards.

Kelly has played in 37 games at Clemson and has at least one catch in 36 games. He has had multiple catches in 29 of his 37 games. He has also had at least five catches in 10 straight games, including 11 against Virginia Tech, 10 against Wake Forest, and nine at South Carolina.

Kelly had four receptions for 70 yards on Clemson's final drive to the winning field goal against arch-rival South Carolina in the regular-season finale. He ended that game with nine receptions for 134 yards.

Kelly Sets Single-Season TD Reception Record

Wide receiver Aaron Kelly has been the recipient of 11 touchdown passes from Cullen Harper this year. He broke Derrick Hamilton's touchdown reception record when he had two in Clemson's 44-10 win over Wake Forest on November 10.

Kelly also tied a record in that game. It was his fifth-straight game with at least one touchdown catch, tying the record also held by Hamilton in 2003.

The big record he is challenging is career touchdown catches. His 16 are third-most in school history. The Tiger record is held by Glenn Smith, a tight end who had 18 touchdown receptions between 1949-51. Smith is no longer in the top 10 in school history in receptions or yardage, but his touchdown-reception total has stood for 57 years.

One interesting note is that Smith's 17th and 18th career touchdown receptions came against Auburn in his last regular-season game as a Tiger. Obviously, if Kelly gets two touchdown receptions against Auburn, he would tie his record and do it against the same Auburn team.

Maners Boots 71-Yard Punt

Junior punter Jimmy Maners showed his capabilities in the win over Louisiana-Monroe on September 8. He averaged 44.8 yards per punt in four attempts against the Warhawks in just his third game as the starting punter.

Included in his performance was a 71-yard punt in the fourth quarter. That 71-yarder tied for the eighth-longest in school history. It was the longest punt by a Tiger since Jamie Somaini had a 75-yarder at Florida State in 2000. It was also the longest punt by a Tiger in Death Valley since Chris Gardocki's final punt (78-yarder) at home in the 1990 South Carolina game.

Maners booted the 71-yard punt on just his 13th career punt. He had just one punt against Temple in 2006, his only previous attempt entering 2007. Maners' punt against Louisiana-Monroe is the longest by an ACC player this year. Mitch Tyner holds the school record with a 81-yard punt against Texas A&M in 1973.

Maners has continued his fine punting and has a 42.7-yard average, fourth-best in the ACC. He had a streak of five straight games with a 44-yard average broken in the win over Central Michigan when he had only one punt for 42 yards. That was the longest streak of its kind since Gardocki had a five-game streak in 1990.

McElrathbey Out for the Season

Clemson's football practice on Friday, August 17 began with Head Coach Tommy Bowden's announcement to the team that sophomore running back Ray Ray McElrathbey would be lost for the 2007 season due to a torn ACL. The injury took place in an afternoon practice on August 16. He had successful surgery to repair the torn ACL on September 7.

"I really hate this for Ray Ray," explained Bowden. "He was doing very well at running back. He had a good spring and had been doing well in the preseason. He did well in the previous scrimmage."

McElrathbey lettered during the 2006 season as a defensive back and special teams player. He played in every game and had six tackles. He received national attention in 2006 when he adopted his now 13-year-old brother Fahmarr, who lives with him in Clemson.

McElrathbey was the recipient of the Keith Jackson Award of Excellence presented by ESPN, and he was the recipient of the FedEx Orange Bowl/Football Writers Association Courage Award.

Merling a Three-Time ACC POTW

Defensive end Phillip Merling was named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week three times in 2007. He was the only ACC defensive lineman to receive that honor three times, one more than ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year Chris Long of Virginia. Merling won the award for his performances against #19 Florida State, Wake Forest, and #18 Boston College. When he was lauded for his performance in the Boston College game, it was the only time all season that a Tiger was selected after a loss.

Merling became the first Tiger to be named ACC Player-of-the-Week three times in a season since Woodrow Dantzler was named ACC Offensive Back-of-the-Week three times in 2001. He also became the first Tiger defensive lineman to be named ACC Player-of-the-Week at least three times in a year since 1983, when James Robinson was named four times. That is the record for ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week picks by a Tiger in a season.

Clemson's overall record for ACC Player-of-the-Week selections in a season is five (Keith Adams, 1999). Adams also holds the career record with seven selections from 1998-00.

Merling has 16 tackles for loss and six sacks, both team-bests, in 2007. He also leads the defensive line with 73 tackles, including 50 first hits.

Richardson Goes Over 2,500 Career Snaps

Offensive tackle Barry Richardson reached a milestone in Clemson's 44-10 win over Wake Forest on November 10. The four-year starter at left tackle became the seventh offensive lineman in school history to go over the 2,500 career snap mark. He played 73 snaps in the win over the Demon Deacons and has 2,706 career snaps of experience. He is fifth in Tiger history among all offensive linemen, including second among tackles.

Center Kyle Young holds the overall record with 3,097 career snaps, while Jim Bundren has the record for an offensive tackle with 2,772. Richardson will have a chance to go ahead of Bundren for the all-time tackle record if he plays 67 snaps against Auburn in the bowl game.

Richardson moved into the starting lineup in his fifth game as a freshman in 2004 and has started 44 in a row. He has played 48 consecutive games over four years, as he has never missed a game.

earlier this month, Richardson is coming on strong to close out his college career. He has been Clemson's highest-graded offensive lineman in five of the last six games. He was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week for the Maryland and Duke games. He graded a career-high 93 percent and had eight knockdowns in 86 snaps in the win at Maryland, and he had a 91-percent grade at Duke. Overall, Richardson, who has totaled 59 knockdowns this season, has been Clemson's highest-graded offensive lineman in eight of the 12 games this year.

Spiller Quickest to 1,000 Rushing Yards

Sophomore running back C.J. Spiller gained 938 rushing yards as a freshman in 2006 in just 129 carries. He added 48 yards on 11 carries against #19 Florida State in the 2007 season-opener, and thus he needed just 14 yards against Louisiana-Monroe to reach 1,000 for his career. He had the 14 yards by his second carry.

That meant he reached 1,000 career rushing yards in just 142 carries, by far a school record for fewest carries to reach 1,000 yards. The previous record was 185 carries by Ronald Williams (1990-92). James Davis, Spiller's teammate, did it in 186 carries, just one short of Williams mark.

Spiller had a season-high 114 rushing yards at N.C. State and had two touchdowns, including one on a 44-yard run and another on an 11-yard pass from Cullen Harper.

Spiller has a team-high 1,505 all-purpose yards this season, fourth-most in Tiger history. The record is 1,883 all-purpose yards by Derrick Hamilton in 2002.

Spiller Sets Record for 50-Yard Scores

C.J. Spiller raced 84 yards for a touchdown on a kickoff return at Duke on November 3. That was his eighth career touchdown of 50 yards or more, a new school record. Spiller and Derrick Hamilton (2001-03) both had seven scores of 50 yards or more prior to that game. He added another one against Wake Forest on November 10 when he raced 90 yards for a touchdown on another kickoff return, so he has nine career touchdowns of 50 yards or more.

Spiller had six 50-yard scores in 2006 to set a Clemson single-season record. Jacoby Ford also had a touchdown of 50 yards or more in the Louisiana-Monroe game, as he scored on a 52-yard pass from Harper. That gave Ford five career 50-yard scores, so he is just three short of the Spiller's record. Ford is out for the rest of 2007 with a broken ankle.

Both players received All-America honors in track in 2007. Ford was the ACC indoor track champion in the 60m, and his time of 6.52 was best in the nation last year. He finished third at the NCAA Championships at Arkansas in March. Spiller was an All-American during the outdoor season as a member of Clemson's 4x100m relay team.

Taylor Back in Lineup

While Aaron Kelly has had an outstanding 2007 season, the Tigers missed the play of wide receiver Rendrick Taylor in four games during the middle of the 2007 season. Taylor suffered an injury at N.C. State on September 22 and missed the next four contests due to a hamstring injury. However, he came back against Duke and totaled four receptions for 54 yards. The reception total tied a career high and his yardage total set a career high. He is Clemson's fourth-leading receiver this year with 22 catches.

It was especially important to get Taylor back in the lineup after Jacoby Ford suffered a broken ankle at Maryland that ended the wideout's season.

When Taylor is in the lineup during his career, it is a good sign for the Tigers. In his three years at Clemson, the Tigers are 20-5 in games in which he has played and 5-7 when he has not been in the lineup. (We did not count him playing in the Kentucky game last year when he played just two snaps due to injury.)

Taylor has had injuries each year he has been at Clemson. He suffered a broken arm at Wake Forest in 2006, and he suffered a broken wrist in the 2005 Boston College game.

Watkins Leads Tigers in Tackles

Linebacker Nick Watkins was Clemson's leading tackler (15) against Wake Forest on November 10. The senior from New Orleans, LA had 11 first hits and four assists.

Watkins has led Clemson in tackles in six games this season. He has had six double-figure tackle games, with his 15 stops against Wake Forest serving as his season high. He has 118 tackles on the season, 35 more than any other Tiger.

It is no surprise that Watkins is the top tackler for the Tigers. He led Clemson in that category last year when he had 116 stops, including seven tackles for loss. The active linebacker also had three interceptions to tie for the team lead in 2006. In his career, he has 386 tackles, more than any other active Tiger and seventh-most in Tiger history.

Head Coach Tommy Bowden

When one looks at Head Coach Tommy Bowden's resumé, the first thing that comes to mind is consistency. Bowden has completed 11 seasons as a Division I head coach, and all 11 of his teams have been bowl eligible at the end of the regular season. Only five other active head coaches have had a team bowl eligible every year since 1997. His 65.9 winning percentage in 11 years as a head coach is 11th-best in the nation among active Division I coaches with at least 10 years of experience.

Each of his last eight teams has finished with a winning record. A winning season in 2006 gave him a Clemson coaching record seven consecutive winning seasons (now up to eight in a row), and he became just the fifth head coach in ACC history to record seven straight winning seasons with the same program.

There has also been consistency in terms of success against Clemson's in-state rival (South Carolina). The Tigers have won seven of the nine meetings since Bowden became Clemson's head coach in 1999, and the 78-percent winning mark is the best of any Tiger head coach in history against the Gamecocks given a minimum of five games. He has an average victory margin of 9.4 points per game in the rivalry game, and all seven wins have been recorded against future Hall of Fame Head Coaches Lou Holtz and Steve Spurrier.

In 11 seasons as a Division I head coach, Bowden has an 87-45 record, a 66-percent winning mark. In conference games, he has never had a sub-.500 record, and his overall conference record stands at 53-31 (63.1-percent winning mark).

In nine years at Clemson, he has a 69-41 mark and eight bowl appearances. He has 42 ACC wins as well. The only programs with more ACC wins during this time are Florida State and Georgia Tech. The 69 overall victories are third-most in Clemson history. The 29-7 victory over South Carolina in the 2004 season-finale was not only the 600th win in Clemson history, it moved Bowden ahead of Hall of Fame Coach Jess Neely into third place on Clemson's coaching victories list. Only Frank Howard and Danny Ford are ahead of Bowden.

Clemson has won at least eight games the last three years, as he became the first Tiger head coach to record back-to-back eight-win seasons in 15 years.

Twice Bowden has been named ACC Coach-of-the-Year (1999,03), joining Howard, Charley Pell, and Ford as the only two-time recipients of that award in Tiger history. In January of 2006, he was given the Grant Teaff National Coach-of-the-Year Award by the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Off the field, Clemson has graduated nearly 80 percent of its seniors in his nine years. Clemson's graduation success rate of 94 percent in 2005 was fourth-best among the 119 Division I-A programs. In 2003, Clemson was #11 in the nation, including second among public institutions, in the NCAA graduation-rate study for scholarship football signees who entered Clemson in 1996. Clemson was first

Bowden's Bowl Appearances

With Clemson's selection for the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl, Tommy Bowden moved into a tie for third place in ACC history in bowl game appearances for a head coach. Bobby Bowden, his father, will coach in his 16th bowl game as an ACC coach, and that is the #1 figure. George Welsh coached in 12 bowl games as Virginia's head coach between 1981-01.

Bowden is tied with Danny Ford for first in Clemson history and third in ACC history. Ford coached in eight bowl games for the Tigers between 1979-89. Jerry Claiborne coached in seven bowl games for Maryland, while Bill Dooley coached in seven at North Carolina and Wake Forest.

in the nation in graduation rate among African-Americans (100 percent). Each of the top-six semester team GPAs have been recorded under Bowden.

The 2007 Tigers have a 9-3 overall record thanks in part to the right arm of first-year starting quarterback Cullen Harper. The Tigers are #15 in the AP poll and BCS ratings with a team that starts only six seniors. The junior has thrown for 2,887 yards and a school-record 27 touchdowns against only six interceptions. He has led an offensive unit that is averaging 412 yards and 34 points per game.

For the second year in a row, the Tigers had four First-Team All-ACC selections on offense, including wide receiver Aaron Kelly. The junior has a Tiger-record 84 receptions for 1,045 yards and 11 touchdown catches (also a school record).

Clemson is sixth in the nation in yards allowed per game (297) entering the bowl season. The Tigers are also in the top 10 in the nation in scoring defense (18.3) and turnover margin (+1.0).

The Tigers ran off two four-game winning streaks in 2007, starting with a season-opening win over #19 Florida State 24-18. It was Clemson's fourth win in the last five meetings with the Seminoles. The season was also highlighted by a 70-point scoring performance in a win over eventual MAC champion Central Michigan and a 44-10 win over 2006 ACC Champion Wake Forest. The Tigers also defeated rival South Carolina 23-21 on Mark Buchholz's field goal as time expired.

His 2006 team set numerous offensive records on its way to scoring 55 touchdowns and scoring nearly 33 points per game. Clemson had four First-Team All-ACC selections on offense, including 1,000-yard rusher James Davis, and the Tigers led the ACC in a majority of offensive categories.

The Tigers had a landmark 31-7 win over #13 Georgia Tech at Memorial Stadium. Clemson dominated the Yellow Jackets thanks in part to 332 combined rushing yards by James Davis and C.J. Spiller. That same weekend, ESPN College GameDay made its first-ever appearance in Tigertown. It was the second win over a top-15 team in 2006, as the Tigers also won at #9 Florida State.

In November of 2006, Bowden was named a semifinalist for the Maxwell Club George Munger National Coach-of-the-Year Award. A big reason for his naming was the fact that the Tigers overcame numerous injuries, including the loss of linebackers Anthony Waters and Tramaine Billie. His team defeated eventual ACC Champion Wake Forest, the second straight year he beat the league champion.

Defensive end Gaines Adams was regarded as one of the top defensive linemen in the nation. He was named a finalist for the Bronko Nagurski Award and Ted Hendricks Award as well as earning unanimous first-team All-America honors. He was also named ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year. Adams was a major reason Clemson was in the top 20 in the nation in six defensive categories.

In 2005, Clemson had an 8-4 record, including a 3-2 mark against top-25 ranked teams. All four of the losses were by six points or less and by a total of 14 points. Two of those losses came in overtime, therefore the Tigers lost the four games by a combined five points at the end of regulation.

The 2005 team won six of its last seven games, including a 19-10 win over Colorado in the Champs Sports Bowl. The Tigers had the best record among the 12 ACC teams over that time period.

The Tigers earned close victories to start the year against #17 Texas A&M and Maryland, then lost three nailbiters in a row. But just like the two previous years, Clemson won five of its last six regular-season games, including wins over #16 Florida State (eventual ACC Champion) and #19 South Carolina in the final two regular-season games. It was the first time since 1983 that Clemson defeated top-20 teams in consecutive games.

Clemson was in the top 25 in four national defensive rankings, including 11th in scoring defense. After the win over Colorado in the Champs Sports Bowl, the Tigers were ranked #21 in the final AP and USA Today polls. Clemson had three victories over top-20 ranked teams, the most in one season by a Clemson team since the 1989 season.

In four seasons at Clemson, Charlie Whitehurst became the most prolific signal-caller in school history. He set 46 Clemson records, including passing yards (9,665), completions (817), completion percentage (59.5), and touchdown passes (49). He directed Clemson to 25 wins as a starting quarterback, the second-most victories in school history.

Bowden's 2004 Tiger team featured a defense that was 11th in the nation in pass efficiency defense. The unit had 42 sacks to finish in the top 10 in the nation. Leroy Hill was named the ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year and a Third-Team AP All-American. Cornerback Justin Miller was a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award and was a second-team All-American as a kick returner. Wide receiver Airese Currie led the ACC in receptions and receiving yards.

Clemson played a complete game at #10 Miami (FL) on November 6, 2004 and defeated the Hurricanes in the Orange Bowl 24-17 in overtime. It was the second overtime win of the season for the Tigers, who are 4-3 in extra-session games under Bowden.

Clemson overcame a 14-point halftime deficit, not to mention overcoming a fourth-quarter deficit, a rarity against Miami. The Hurricanes had been 174-2 when leading going into the fourth quarter since 1985.

The win over Miami gave Bowden and the Tigers three wins over top-10 programs in a 13-game span, something that had been done at Clemson just once previously (1981 National Championship team). All three of those programs (Florida State, Tennessee, Miami) have won the national championship within the last decade.

Over the last five seasons, Bowden has won 11 games over coaches who have won the national title (Bobby Bowden (four times), Phillip Fulmer, Larry Coker, Holtz (twice), Spurrier (twice), and Howard Schnellenberger). These big wins have stimulated interest in the program. The Tigers averaged over 80,000 fans per home game in 2007. Clemson has finished in the top 20 in home football attendance each of the nine seasons Bowden has been at Clemson, and seven of the top-10 average attendance seasons have come during his tenure.

With Clemson's selection to the 2004 Peach Bowl, Bowden became the first head coach in Clemson and ACC history to take a team to a bowl game in each of his first five seasons. In fact, no coach had ever done so more than twice to open his career at Clemson. Under Bowden's direction, Clemson had also appeared in the Peach Bowl in 1999, the Gator Bowl in 2000, the 2001 Humanitarian Bowl, the 2002 Tangerine Bowl, the 2004 Peach Bowl, the 2005 Champs Sports Bowl, and the 2006 Music City Bowl prior to its invitation to the 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl.

The 2004 Peach Bowl appearance meant that it was the first time since the senior class of 1991 that Clemson went to a bowl game five straight years. Clemson's red-shirt seniors of 2003 were the first group he recruited, so it is an indication of the firm foundation his first group set. In December of 2003, Bowden cemented his place at Clemson by signing a seven-year contract, which will go through 2010.

The 2003 season was a breakthrough year in many ways. Clemson earned its highest-ever win over a ranked team with a 26-10 victory over #3 Florida State. The Tigers also defeated #24 Virginia in a thrilling overtime contest. The 39-3 victory over a bowl-bound Georgia Tech team in Atlanta was Clemson's largest victory margin in the series since 1900 as well.

The 2003 victory over Florida State, Clemson's first in 12 tries since the Seminoles joined the ACC, was the beginning of a four-game winning streak to close the season. In those four games, Clemson outscored its opponents 156-48, an average score of 39-12. Clemson defeated arch-rival South Carolina in Columbia by a score of 63-17. It was the most points ever scored by a team in the 101-game series and the Tigers' largest victory margin in the series since 1900.

The season concluded with a 27-14 win over #6 Tennessee, the highest-ranked team Clemson has defeated in a bowl game since 1981, when the Tigers defeated #4 Nebraska in the Orange Bowl to claim the National Championship. As a result, Clemson finished the season with nine wins and a #22 final national ranking.

Personal Data

Born July 10, 1954...married to the former Linda Joan White...the couple has a son (Ryan 26), a 2004 Clemson graduate and 2007 law school graduate of Regent University, and daughter (Lauren 22), a 2007 Clemson graduate, who is now a secondary school educator.

Over the final four games of the season, Bowden defeated two coaches (Bobby Bowden, Holtz) who had already earned 200 wins to become the first coach in NCAA history to beat a pair of 200-game winners in a month's time. He also registered wins over three coaches (Bowden, Holtz, Fulmer) who had previously won a national title.

The 2002 season included victories over bowl teams Georgia Tech and Wake Forest, and a third victory in four years over arch-rival South Carolina. Clemson gained 434 yards of total offense in the 27-20 win over the Gamecocks, the most yards against Holtz's defense all season.

The 2002 Clemson defense featured two of the top 21 players in the nation in terms of interceptions per game. Miller had eight interceptions, best among all freshmen nationally, and Brian Mance had six in an All-America season. The defense was one of the most improved units in the ACC and ranked in the top 10 in the nation in interceptions (21).

Clemson had another record-setting season in 2001, a year that culminated with a Humanitarian Bowl win over Louisiana Tech. Clemson set school records for points scored, touchdowns, and total offense in a bowl game.

The 2001 campaign demonstrated Bowden's ability to win in the long run, as he had the second-youngest "two-deep" in the ACC. Thirty-four of his top 44 players were underclassmen. Fourteen different freshmen saw action in 2001, including 10 who played at least 10 games.

Bowden has a 69-41 record (.627) as the Tigers' head coach and is 87-45 (.659) overall. He has recorded that ledger against a difficult schedule. In his first year, Clemson's schedule was among the top 10 in the nation. In 2001, his squad defeated five teams that finished with a winning record, tied for the third-highest figure in Tiger history. One of the wins was a 47-44 overtime triumph at #9 Georgia Tech. It was the highest-ranked road win in 20 years for the Tigers.

In both 2003 and 2004, Clemson's schedule strength once again ranked in the top 25 by the Sagarin rating. The 2005 team faced five top-25 teams in the regular season, a first in school history, and the 2006 squad faced eight bowl teams.

When Bowden came to Clemson in 1998, he inherited a team with a 3-8 record. By late October of 2000, just 14 months after his first game, Clemson was ranked #3 in the nation in the USA Today poll after an 8-0 start. That ranking was the highest for the program in 16 years. The final #14 ranking in that same poll was the highest final listing for the program since the 1990 season.

Making a swift improvement is nothing new for Bowden. In 1997, he took over a 4-7 Tulane program and brought the Green Wave to a 7-4 mark in his first year. In 1998, the improvement continued with an 11-0 regular season and #7 national ranking. In 1999, Bowden elevated the Tigers from 3-8 to a bowl game and a 6-6 final record. The 2000 Tigers concluded the season with a 9-3 record, their highest win total since 1993.

Considerable improvement is a common phrase for Bowden-coached teams. In each of his first four years he coached at the Division I level, his team showed at least a three-win improvement over the previous year, believed to be a first in Division I history. Bowden is just the third coach in history to bring the Tigers to a three-win improvement in consecutive years and was one of just two Division I coaches to do it over the 1999 and 2000 seasons.

In 2000 and 2001, his dynamic offense produced a Heisman Trophy contender in quarterback Woodrow Dantzler, who placed his name next to 52 school records. In 2001, he became the first player in Division I history to total 2,000 passing yards and 1,000 rushing yards in a season. He was a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award in 2000 and 2001.

Center Kyle Young was a finalist for the Rimington Award in 2000 and 2001, and won the ACC's Jim Tatum Award, presented to the league's top student-athlete. He was one of eight players nationally to receive a National Football Foundation Scholarship and became just the second offensive lineman in college football history to become a three-time first-team Academic All-American. Linebacker Chad Carson also performed well in the classroom and on the gridiron. He and Young were first-team Academic All-American selections in 2000 and 2001.

Bowden's second Clemson team (2000) was one of the most decorated in history. Six different Tigers were finalists or semifinalist for national position awards, including linebacker Keith Adams, who was one of three finalists for the Butkus Award. Clemson finished the season 9-3 in 2000 and had a #14 final ranking in the USA Today poll.

When Bowden arrived at Clemson, he had one simple goal - improvement. Bowden warned Tiger supporters that Clemson was unlikely to be a bowl participant in 1999, but his main focus was to improve. Bowden's goal of improvement was reached, and he was happy to be wrong about his preseason prediction, as the Tigers were invited to the 1999 Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl.

In 1999, Bowden accomplished a personal milestone that no Clemson coach had attained since 1981, the year the Tigers won the National Championship. He became the first Clemson coach since Ford to be named ACC Coach-of-the-Year.

Bowden led the Tigers to a 6-6 record and 5-3 mark in the ACC against the nation's seventh-toughest schedule according to the Sagarin rating. The Tigers finished tied for second with Georgia Tech and Virginia in the final ACC standings, a six-place improvement over the previous season, the greatest one-season jump in ACC history in league play.

The Tigers also made a four-game ACC-win improvement in 1999. It was just the fifth time in ACC history that a team made that big of a league victory jump. Bowden had taken over a team with a losing record and brought it to a bowl game in his first season, just the sixth coach in ACC history to accomplish that feat.

The Clemson program set or tied 41 school records in Bowden's first year, including 26 on offense. Ironically, Bowden's first Tulane team set or tied 26 offensive school records.

The improvements in the ACC standings were due in large part to an innovative offensive attack. The Clemson offense ended the season averaging 402.6 yards per game, nearly a 100-yard per game improvement over 1998. The Tigers scored 26.8 points per game in 1999 compared to 19.8 in 1998.

Keith Adams, a sophomore in 1999, finished with 186 tackles, most in the nation, and broke the Clemson single-season tackle record held by Anthony Simmons. They all contributed to the 17th-best pass efficiency defense in the nation, a unit that had 19 interceptions, ninth-most in the country.

Four of Clemson's losses in 1999 came against teams ranked in the top 15 of the final AP poll. Bowden Bowl I, the first-ever meeting between father and son head coaches in college football history, took place on October 23, 1999. Bowden faced his father Bobby's top-ranked Florida State team in Death Valley in front of a national television audience. The Tigers lost a tough battle to the eventual National Champions, 17-14, the closest margin of victory for the Seminoles and the fewest points they recorded all season by two touchdowns.

Making strong improvement in his first year with a program was nothing new for Bowden. In the two seasons he was the head coach at Tulane, Bowden took a team that had been 4-18 in the two years previous to his arrival, and emotionally and numerically reversed the team's fortunes with an 18-4 record, posted an 11-1 conference mark, and finished the 1998 season ranked #7 in the nation in both polls. Tulane and Tennessee were the only undefeated teams in college football in 1998.

His Tulane team averaged 39.7 points, 5.1 touchdowns, 463 yards of total offense, 270.5 yards passing, and 192.6 yards rushing. The Green Wave averaged 6.3 yards per play, and converted on third down 47 percent of the time. Some say the most telling statistic in terms of wins and losses along with the most telling statistic when it comes to coaching ability is turnover margin. They were fifth in the nation in turnover margin each of his seasons at Tulane.

It did not take Bowden long to put Tulane back on the college football landscape. In his first year, Tulane was picked last in the preseason polls of Conference USA. But he led the New Orleans-based school to a 7-4 record, a second-place conference standing with just one league loss, and set 33 school records in the process, including 26 on offense.

Tulane's accomplishments on offense were noteworthy in 1997, but its offensive numbers reached uncharted areas in 1998. Tulane stood as the only school in the nation that averaged over 300 yards per game passing and 200 yards per game rushing. The team was fourth in the nation in total offense (507.1 per game) and second in scoring (45.4 points per game).

The Green Wave scored 40 or more points in eight games in 1998, including each of the last seven games. In one game, the Green Wave scored 72 points and rolled up 704 yards of total offense. They converted 52 percent of their third-down opportunities for the season and had just 11 turnovers in over 800 plays. The 1998 season saw the program post a perfect 11-0 regular season under Bowden, its first perfect regular season since 1931. The Green Wave won Conference USA, its first league title since Tulane won the SEC in 1949. Bowden was named Conference USA Coach-of-the-Year as well.

His team ranked #7 in the final Associated Press poll and was a mainstay there from the third week of the season. Tulane had not been ranked at any time since 1979, and had not been ranked in a final poll since 1973. After Bowden accepted the job at Clemson, Tulane defeated Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl.

A look to the list of coaches who had undefeated seasons in the 1990s shows two other men named Bowden. His father, Florida State Head Coach Bobby Bowden, had a perfect regular season in 1996 and 1999, while his brother Terry posted a perfect regular season in 1993. Obviously, the Bowdens are the first family of college coaching, and this "Wonder Years" environment had a lot to do with Tommy Bowden's decision to enter coaching.

The fatherly influence of a college coach who reached 300 career wins against his son in 1999, also had an influence on other members of the family. Bobby Bowden is the winningest coach in Division I history. Terry has been a head coach at Samford and Auburn, posting a 47-17-1 record at the latter. He also serves as a commentator for Westwood One's radio college football package.

Tommy Bowden began his college football experience as a walk-on wide receiver at West Virginia. He played for his father between 1973-75 and then for Frank Cignetti during the 1976 season.

As a junior, he caught 15 passes for 189 yards and one score. Bowden remained at West Virginia for the 1977 season and began his coaching career, serving as a graduate assistant on Cignetti's staff. His interest in coaching only became more intense after that first year as a graduate assistant. His father then hired him as a secondary coach at Florida State for the 1978 season.

That experience confirmed to Bowden that he was in a profession that would be his life's work. The Seminoles posted a 19-4 mark in his two seasons at Florida State.

In 1980, Bowden joined the staff at East Carolina, where he coached for the spring-practice session of 1980. That spring, he moved to Auburn and served as the Tigers' running backs coach for the 1980 season. Among the players he coached was James Brooks, who went on to a 13-year NFL career and is still second in Auburn history in rushing.

In 1981, Bowden returned to Tallahassee as the tight ends coach. In two more years at Florida State, the Seminoles posted a 15-8 mark. The 1982 team ranked #13 in the final poll, claimed a 9-3 record, and won a Gator Bowl title.

From 1983-86, Bowden served under Steve

Sloan at Duke as the quarterbacks coach, and was named coordinator in 1985. In 1984, he made his first trip to Death Valley as a coach. Among the players he tutored was future NFL player Anthony Dilweg.

After four years at Duke, Bowden became the wide receivers coach at Alabama under Bill Curry. It was there that he refined his offensive coaching prowess under noted offensive mind Homer Smith.

In 1990, Bowden returned to a coordinator role, serving as Kentucky's offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. That year, he helped the Wildcats to their first upper division SEC finish since 1984.

In 1991, Bowden joined Pat Dye at Auburn. He remained with the Auburn program for six years, his longest stint as a college assistant. During his tenure, Auburn had a combined record of 46-20-2, including a perfect 11-0 season in 1993. Auburn had four AP top-25 seasons, including a #4 final ranking in 1993 and a #9 final ranking in 1994. The SEC Tigers were 20-1-1 in 1993-94 combined. Bowden worked under his brother Terry for his last four years at Auburn and the Tigers had a 36-9-1 record with both Bowdens on the coaching staff.

Born on July 10, 1954 in Birmingham, AL, he is married to the former Linda Joan White, who he first met when the two were in school together at Morgantown (WV) High School. The couple has two children, Ryan (26), a 2004 Clemson graduate and 2007 law school graduate of Regent University, and Lauren (22), a 2007 graduate of Clemson, who is now a secondary school educator.

#10 Cullen Harper • QB • *Jr.

Overview: Voted permanent captain of the Clemson offense by his 2007 teammates...Second-Team All-ACC by AP/ACSMA and Rivals.com...honorable mention All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com...fourth-best player in the ACC by CollegeFootballNews.com in 2007...has established 22 records in his 12 starts this year; he has a chance for some others with a good performance in the Chick-fil-A Bowl...one of many Atlanta-area natives who will look at the Chick-fil-A Bowl as a virtual home game...first in the ACC in passing efficiency (146.9), ahead of the 143.8 mark by Sean Glennon (Virginia Tech)...on pace to set a Clemson record for single-season passing efficiency, ahead of Mike Eppley's record of 146.0 set in 1983 when he was third in the nation; Harper is 17th in the nation this year...second in the ACC in total offense per game (240.6)...has completed 67 percent of his passes, second-best in the ACC behind the 72 percent by Wake Forest's Riley Skinner...his completion percentage is second-best in Tiger history, as Charlie Whitehurst completed 67.4 percent in 2005...has the best touchdown/interception ratio (27/6) in school history; he is first in the ACC in that area...second in passing touchdowns in the ACC to Matt Ryan of Boston College, who threw 28...his 27 touchdown passes are already six more than the previous Clemson record and the same amount Charlie Ward had in 1993 when he won the Heisman Trophy...has thrown for 2,887 yards, second-most in Clemson history to Whitehurst's 3,561...set the Clemson record for touchdown passes in a game with five against both Louisiana-Monroe and Central Michigan...needs 21 completions against Auburn to break Whitehurst's record for completions in a season...had 81 completions over his last three regular-season games, a school record for a three-game period...came into the year with little experience, as he had thrown just 22 passes in three years with the program...was in a preseason battle with freshman Willy Korn...has 29 career touchdown passes, fourth-most in school history...has accounted for 30 touchdowns this year, including 27 passing and three rushing...needs just two touchdowns to break Woodrow Dantzler's record for touchdown responsibility in a season...got his season off to great start, as he led Clemson to a win over #19 Florida State in the season-opener by completing 14-24 passes for 160 yards and two touchdowns...first Tiger quarterback in history to beat a top-20 team in his first career start...threw for 270 yards and five scores in his second start against Louisiana-Monroe; the five scoring passes are a Clemson record that he later tied...completed 16-19 passes for 266 yards and three touchdowns in the win over Furman in his third start...threw for 268 and two scores and led the offense to 608 yards of total offense in the fourth game, a 42-20 win at N.C. State; that was the most total offense in an ACC road game in Clemson history...threw for 372 yards in a loss to Virginia Tech, as he completed a school-record 38 passes in a school-record 66 attempts...had his second five touchdown-pass game in a victory over MAC Champion Central Michigan; he had a pass efficiency rating of 261.1, an all-time Clemson record...threw for 266 yards and three scores in a win over Wake Forest...led Clemson to a 23-21 win at South Carolina; he took the Tigers 61 yards in 2:09 for the winning field goal with no time left on the clock; he hit 5-5 passes for 69 yards on the drive and overcame a third-and-18 on the drive...has nine games with multiple touchdown passes...has eight games with at least 200 passing yards, including six with at least 260 passing yards...has led Clemson to nine wins in his first year as a starter, most since DeChane Cameron in 1990...needs 113 passing yards in the bowl game to become the second Tiger in history to throw for 3,000 yards in a season...did not throw an interception in his first 165 career passes, a school record.

Prior to 2007: Backup to Will Proctor in 2006, as he completed 14-20 passes for 155 yards and two touchdowns; he played just 75 snaps in four games that season...threw touchdown passes against Louisiana Tech and Temple...played in just one game in 2005, a win over Duke when he was 1-2 for 15 yards...red-shirted the 2004 season behind Whitehurst...played in just two games his senior year at Sequoyah High School in Alpharetta, GA due to injury...threw 14 touchdown passes as a junior...played in the Georgia North-South All-Star game in December of 2003...won the Chick-fil-A Back-of-the-Week Award during his senior year...son of Jeff Harper, a starting offensive lineman for Georgia's 1980 National Championship team...on track to graduate in May of 2008 with a degree in management...born Oct. 1, 1985.

#80 Aaron Kelly • WR • *JR.

Overview: First-Team All-ACC wide receiver according to AP/ACSM, CollegeFootballNews.com, and Rivals.com...honorable mention All-American by CollegeFootballNews.com and Pro Football Weekly...top wideout in the ACC by CollegeFootballNews.com and 16th-best player in the ACC regardless of position...leads the ACC in receiving yards per game (87.1)...leads the ACC in receiving touchdowns (11) and he is tied for fourth in total touchdowns; that is also a Clemson single-season record for touchdown receptions...second in the ACC, but 15th in the nation in receptions per game; he has 84 catches in his 12 games...23rd in the nation in reception yards per game...needs just 40 receiving yards in the bowl game to establish a Tiger single-season record...has 1,045 receiving yards this season, just 39 short of Rod Gardner's total of 1,084 in 1999...third Tiger in history to record a 1,000-yard receiving season; Gardner had two and Derrick Hamilton had the other...has already established the Clemson single-season record for receptions (84), four more than Gardner had in 1999...needs just five catches to set the ACC record for catches in a season; Torrey Holt (N.C. State) has the record with 88 receptions in 1998; Kenneth Moore of Wake Forest has 87 receptions entering his bowl game)...second in the ACC in receptions per game (7.0); he is on pace to break Gardner's Clemson record in that area; Gardner had 6.75 per game in 1999...has 16 career touchdown receptions, just two short of the school record of 18 set by Glenn Smith (1949-51); that is one of the oldest Tiger records; an interesting note on Smith is that he picked up his 17th and 18th career touchdown receptions against Auburn in the next-to-last game of the 1951 season; that is the last time Clemson beat Auburn...has 161 career receptions, just six short of the school record of 167 by Derrick Hamilton (2001-03); Hamilton broke Gardner's record when he had five catches in the Peach Bowl against #6 Tennessee; now Kelly can break his record with seven catches in the same bowl game...has 1,975 career receiving yards, seventh-most in Clemson history...needs 25 yards to reach the 2,000-yard mark for his career...his 16 career touchdowns are tied for third-most in school history; Perry Tuttle had 17 and Smith had 18...has experience as a return man and could do that in the bowl game with the injury to Jacoby Ford...has six kickoff returns for 116 yards this year...has three 100-yard receiving games this year, including back-to-back against #14 Virginia Tech and Central Michigan...has four career 100-yard receiving games...another native of the Atlanta, GA area who will have plenty of family at the Chick-fil-A Bowl...stepped up his receiving stats in 2007 after the graduation of All-ACC wideout Chansi Stuckey...increased his receptions from 30 to 84 and his yardage from 355 to 1,045 over the past two seasons...his touchdowns went from three in 2006 to 11 in 2007...has two games with double-figures in receptions this season...had 11 catches for 174 yards against #14 Virginia Tech; the yardage total is third-best in Clemson history...had 10 receptions for 93 yard in the win over Wake Forest...will live in the memory of Tiger fans for many years when he had nine receptions for 134 yards at South Carolina; he had four catches for 70 yards on the final drive to the game-winning field goal by Mark Buchholz...had 27 receptions over the last three games of the regular season...had two touchdown catches in three different games (Central Michigan, Duke, Wake Forest)...has started all 12 games and has 21 starts in 37 career games...has not missed a game in three years...has caught at least one pass in 20 straight games and in 36 of his 37 career games; the only game he did not catch a pass was last year against Louisiana Tech, a game in which Clemson had over 300 rushing yards...has led the team in receptions in 10 of the 12 games this year...has 10 receptions in the last two bowl games, including four in the win over Colorado as freshman in the Champs Sports Bowl and six catches for 66 yards in the Music City Bowl against Kentucky.

Prior to 2007: Started five of the 13 games in 2006 when he had 30 receptions...had his best game against Kentucky in the Music City Bowl when he had six catches for 66 yards...had five catches for 91 yards and a touchdown in the win over ACC Champion Wake Forest...had five catches for 51 yards in the win at #9 Florida State...had 47 catches as a freshman in 2005...had 155 receiving yards in the win over Temple for his top game of 2005...second on the 2005 team in receptions and receiving yards, and the 47 catches are the second-most in school history for a freshman...named to the All-ACC freshman team by Sporting News...ACC reception leader among freshmen...had five catches for 68 yards at #19 South Carolina...had an 81-yard kickoff return at Georgia Tech...red-shirted the 2004 season...had 55 catches for 955 yards and 17 touchdowns as a senior at Walton High School in Marietta, GA...averaged 19 yards on punt returns...majoring in management...born Apr. 2, 1986.

Clemson

September 3, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

In front of a nationally-televised audience on ESPN, Clemson defeated #19 Florida State 24-18 in Bowden Bowl IX at Memorial Stadium on September 3. The Labor Day game was the Tigers' first since 1982. Clemson downed the Seminoles for the third year in a row and fourth time in the last five seasons.

The Tigers took a 21-0 lead in the second quarter and held a 24-3 advantage at halftime. However, the Seminoles stormed back with 15 points in the second half and had the ball three times with an opportunity to take the lead late in the game, but the Clemson defense stiffened each time to preserve the season-opening victory.

Clemson totaled 292 yards of offense, including 132 on the ground and 160 in the air. The rushing total included -51 yards on a bad snap in punt formation. Meanwhile, the Tiger defense limited Florida State to just 256 yards, including 142 passing yards on 17-35 passing, and eight first downs.

Field position also played a big role in the game. Clemson started five of its 16 possessions in Seminole territory and had an average starting field position at its own 42, compared to the Florida State 29 for the Seminoles.

James Davis rushed for a game-high 102 yards and a touchdown on 18 carries, while C.J. Spiller added 48 yards on 11 carries. Antone Smith led the Seminoles with 90 rushing yards and a touchdown on 14 carries.

Cullen Harper was 14-24 for 160 yards and two touchdowns against no interceptions to lead the Tigers to victory. He became the first Clemson quarterback to defeat a top-25 ranked team in his first career start. His favorite target was Aaron Kelly, who had five catches for 98 yards, including a 41-yard touchdown reception.

The game featured a dominant performance by the Tigers in the first half, as they outgained Florida State 210-62 and held the Seminoles to just one first down, which came on the first play of the game, in the opening half.

After five punts to start the game, the Tigers put the first points on the scoreboard midway through the first quarter. Jacoby Ford ran 34 yards on a reverse on the drive's first play. Three plays later, Harper rolled right and connected with Brian Linthicum for an 11-yard touchdown pass. Linthicum, who made the catch in traffic between several defenders, became the Tigers' first first-year freshman to score a touchdown in his first game since 1999.

On Florida State's ensuing drive, Phillip Merling stripped Preston Parker, allowing Nick Watkins to recover the fumble at the Seminole 24. After a five-yard penalty, Davis avoided several would-be tacklers and rushed 29 yards for a touchdown, putting the Tigers ahead 14-0.

Early in the second quarter, Harper threw a "bubble" screen to Kelly over the middle, and the wideout outran the secondary for a 41-yard score, upping Clemson's lead to 21-0.

The Seminoles dented the scoreboard with 4:12 remaining in the second quarter after Roosevelt Lawson blocked a punt to give them the ball at the Tiger 20. Three plays only netted two yards, but Gary Cismesia kicked a 36-yard field goal.

Spiller returned the ensuing kickoff 52 yards to the Seminole 28. After the drive stalled, Mark Buchholz kicked a 31-yard field goal just inside the left upright to give Clemson a 24-3 lead. It was the Tiger soccer standout's first career field-goal attempt.

In the third quarter, a high punt snap forced Tiger punter Jimmy Maners to take a safety. Florida State then drove 59 yards in four plays on the ensuing drive to cut Clemson's lead to 24-11. Smith ran 49 yards up the middle to the Tiger one, then he carried the ball into the endzone on the next play. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

The Seminole defense forced Clemson to punt on its own 11 on the ensuing drive, then Preston Parker returned the punt 20 yards to the Tiger 32. Drew Weatherford connected with Greg Carr on fourth-and-three from the 25. Then on third-and-10, Weatherford lofted a 15-yard touchdown pass over the middle to Richard Goodman, narrowing the Tigers' lead to 24-18 with 11:40 left in the game.

After three punts, Florida State took over at its own 20 with 3:50 remaining in the game. Pass plays of 28 yards and nine yards to Smith, then a 12-yard run by Smith moved the ball to the Tiger 31. However, three incompletions and a sack by Phillip Merling on fourth down thwarted the drive.

The Seminoles regained possession at the Clemson 39 with 29 seconds remaining. But Jock McKissic sacked Weatherford, and he was forced to spike the ball with nine seconds left. His desperation pass near the sideline was incomplete as time expired, giving the Tigers the six-point win.

Clemson totaled five sacks, including one each by Jamie Cumbie, Jarvis Jenkins, McKissic, Merling, and Watkins. The defense also limited Florida State to 3-17 on third down and 1-3 on fourth down.

Watkins led Clemson with 13 tackles. Merling added nine tackles and two tackles for loss to garner ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week honors. Freshman safety DeAndre McDaniel, a native of Tallahassee, FL, also had four tackles and two pass breakups in his first game in a Tiger uniform.

Louisiana-Monroe 26

September 8, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Less than five days after defeating #19 Florida State, #25 Clemson scored seven touchdowns on its way to a 49-26 victory over Louisiana-Monroe at Memorial Stadium on September 8. Seven different Tigers accounted for the seven touchdowns in the first-ever meeting between the two schools.

After the Warhawks took a 7-0 lead in the first quarter and the Tigers were unable to score on their first two drives, Clemson scored touchdowns on seven of its next eight possessions and took control of the game, Head Coach Tommy Bowden's 100th at Clemson.

Clemson outgained Louisiana-Monroe 503-419 despite totaling 21 less plays. The Tigers passed for 319 yards and rushed for 184 yards, averaging 8.1 yards per play and 6.6 yards per rush.

Louisiana-Monroe, who held the ball for 37:15, amassed 271 yards on the ground (5.1 yards per carry) and was 11-21 on third-down conversions. Neither team committed a turnover as well.

In just his second career start, Cullen Harper was 20-26 for 270 yards and a Tiger-record five touchdowns against no interceptions to earn ACC Offensive Back-of-the-Week honors. He also had four touchdowns in the first half, another Tiger record, and played less than three quarters. Freshman Willy Korn, making his first appearance as a Tiger, was 6-8 for 49 yards along with a rushing score.

Twelve different Tigers had at least one catch, as no Tiger had more than four receptions. C.J. Spiller totaled four catches for 87 yards, while Rendrick Taylor and Tyler Grisham also had four receptions. Spiller, Grisham, Jacoby Ford, Aaron Kelly, and Brian Linthicum each had touchdown catches as well.

Jimmy Maners had a 44.8-yard average on his four punts, including a 71-yard punt in the fourth quarter that was the longest by a Tiger at Memorial Stadium in 17 years.

The Warhawks had two running backs surpass the century mark, as Calvin Dawson had 121 rushing yards on 28 carries and Frank Goodin totaled 102 rushing yards on 10 carries.

Louisiana-Monroe held nothing back, as evidenced by its on-side kick to begin the game. However, the Warhawks were penalized for illegal touching, and Clemson took over at their 42. However, the Tigers were forced to punt.

After the Warhawks punted and Clemson lost the ball on downs, Louisiana-Monroe drove 67 yards in 11 plays to take a 7-0 lead. Dawson's 24-yard run on third-and-11 advanced the ball to the Tiger one, then Dawson carried the ball into the endzone on the next play.

Clemson wasted little time responding, as it drove 63 yards in just four plays to even the score. Ford's 29-yard run on a reverse helped set up Grisham's 14-yard touchdown catch on a screen pass over the middle.

On Clemson's next drive, Harper connected with Ford on the drive's first play for a 52-yard touchdown pass to give Clemson the lead for good.

After Cole Wilson kicked a 41-yard field goal that capped a 15-play, 54-yard drive early in the second quarter, the Warhawks tried and recovered an on-side kick for the second time. But again, they were offsides, and they were forced to rekick.

Neither team scored on their next possession. But highlighted by Davis' 27-yard run, Clemson scored again with 4:46 remaining in the second quarter when Harper hit Linthicum in the endzone for an eight-yard touchdown pass on third-and-six to give the Tigers a 21-10 lead.

The Tigers tacked on seven more points before halftime when Kelly made a leaping catch in the corner of the endzone. The six-yard catch was Harper's fourth touchdown pass of the first half. Earlier in the drive, Harper completed a pass to Grisham on third-and-10 to keep the drive alive.

Clemson scored its third of five straight touchdowns on its first drive of the second half. Harper found Spiller wide-open near the Tiger sideline for a 68-yard hookup on the first play of the drive.

After the Warhawks drove 69 yards in 14 plays and took 7:12 off the clock, Wilson kicked a 23-yard field goal. Quarterback Kinsmon Lancaster's 14-yard run on third-and-14 early in the drive allowed the Warhawks to put points on the scoreboard.

However, the Tigers came right back and reached the endzone again when Davis rushed 16 yards for a touchdown, capping a 77-yard drive.

On Clemson's next drive, Korn made his debut in a Tiger uniform and led Clemson to a touchdown. He was 3-4 for 29 yards and rushed five times for 27 yards, capped by his one-yard touchdown run to up the Tigers' lead to 49-13.

The Warhawks added two touchdowns in the fourth quarter against Clemson's second and third-team defense. The first was highlighted by Aaron Stringfellow's 16-yard touchdown catch. Later in the fourth quarter, Goodin raced 48 yards for another touchdown to bring the final score to 49-26.

Nick Watkins led the Tiger defense with 10 tackles, while Phillip Merling and Cortney Vincent added nine tackles and two tackles for loss apiece. Dorell Scott had the team's lone sack and had eight tackles in all. A total of 69 Tigers saw action in the game as well.

Furman

10

Clemson

September 15, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Clemson, ranked #20 in the nation, defeated Furman for the 29th time in a row in its 38-10 victory at Memorial Stadium on September 15. Five different Tigers scored the team's five touchdowns, as Clemson cruised to the convincing victory on a muggy September day.

The Tigers took a 17-0 lead in the second quarter and never looked back, as they averaged 6.9 yards per play despite allowing five sacks for -47 yards. Clemson also totaled 377 yards of total offense on only 55 plays and was 18-22 passing for 317 yards.

The Tigers also benefited from outstanding field position, as their average starting field position was at their own 40 thanks in part to five Furman turnovers, while the Paladins' was at their own 24.

The Paladins outgained the Tigers 384-377 but totaled 24 more offensive plays and averaged 2.0 fewer yards per play. Furman also had a 36:33-23:27 advantage in time of possession.

Clemson only rushed for 60 yards, but an eight and nine-man front opened up the passing lanes, as Cullen Harper and Willy Korn combined to easily set the Clemson single-game record with a 262.9 passing efficiency and also combined for eight pass plays of 21 yards or more.

Harper was 16-19 for 266 yards and three touchdowns against no interceptions. His 253.9 passing efficiency also set a Tiger single-game record. Korn was 2-3 for 51 yards, including a 42-yard touchdown pass. Jordan Sorrells and Renaldo Gray combined to complete 28 passes, but they did not throw a touchdown pass and were intercepted three times.

Aaron Kelly had six catches for 79 yards, both game-highs, along with a touchdown. Tyler Grisham added three receptions for 74 yards and a score, while Jacoby Ford and La'Donte Harris also hauled in touchdown catches. Patrick Sprague and Chris Truss each had five receptions to lead the Paladins.

James Davis led the Tigers with 58 rushing yards and a touchdown run on just nine carries. Jerome Felton paced the Paladins with 74 rushing yards on 20 carries. Brantley Kendall added four carries for 41 yards and a 26-yard touchdown run.

Clemson took its opening drive 66 yards in eight plays to take a 7-0 lead. Davis' back-to-back runs of 21 and 10 yards helped set up a 21-yard pass play from Harper to Grisham to the two. Davis carried the ball into the endzone on the next play.

After the Paladins were stopped on fourth-and-one in Tiger territory, Clemson drove 49 yards in nine plays to up its lead to 10-0. Harper's 24-yard pass to C.J. Spiller took the ball to the three, but the Paladins' defense stiffened, forcing a Mark Buchholz 22-yard field goal.

In the second quarter, Michael Hamlin intercepted Renaldo Gray's pass at the Paladin 49. On the next play, Harper connected with Grisham down the sideline for a 49-yard touchdown score.

For their third drive in a row, the Paladins turned the ball over when Haydrian Lewis stripped Ryan McKie at the Tiger 26. Clemson went three-and-out, and the Paladins took over at their own 26.

Furman converted three third downs on the drive, highlighted by an 18-yard pass from Sorrells to Larry Hedden on third-and-13. However, Sorrells threw back-to-back incompletions with two yards to go for a first down, and Scott Beckler kicked a 38-yard field goal with 37 seconds remaining before halftime.

On Clemson's first drive of the second half, it drove 69 yards in eight plays to up its lead to 24-3. The Tigers overcame two 10-yard penalties that forced a second-and-20 and first-and-20. The drive culminated in a 33-yard touchdown catch by Ford on a swing pass.

Later in the third quarter and into the fourth quarter, Clemson mounted a nine-play, 76-yard drive that was capped by Kelly's 23-yard touchdown reception from Harper. Kelly made the diving catch even though there was a flag thrown for pass interference on the play.

After a three-and-out by Furman, Clemson took over possession on the Paladin 43. Three plays later, Korn faked one way and found Harris wide open down the sideline for a 42-yard touchdown pass, increasing the Tiger lead to 38-3. It was Korn's first career touchdown pass.

Furman responded with a 10-play, 80-yard drive to reach the endzone for the one and only time in the game. Hedden's 11-yard reception on fourth-and-two near midfield kept the drive alive. Five plays later, Kendall broke through the line on third-and-one and carried 26 yards to paydirt.

The Paladins attempted and recovered their second on-side kick of the second half and drove 46-yards in 10 plays. But on fourth-and-three from the Clemson eight, Crezdon Butler intercepted Sorrells' pass.

Butler and Nick Watkins paced the Tiger defense with nine tackles apiece. Chris Clemons added seven tackles and an interception, while Hamlin had five tackles, two pass breakups, and a recovered fumble. Lewis also totaled three tackles, including two tackles for loss, and two caused fumbles. A total of 65 Tigers saw action in the game as well.

Clemson

N.C. State

September 22, 2007 • Carter-Finley Stadium • Raleigh, NC

Clemson totaled 608 yards of total offense and defeated N.C. State for the fourth year in a row thanks to its 42-20 victory at Carter-Finley Stadium on September 22. The #14 Tigers totaled their most yards ever against the Wolfpack in the annual Textile Bowl. The total offense figure was also the most in school history in an ACC road game.

Clemson took a 27-14 halftime lead thanks to 367 yards of total offense in the first half and never looked back. The Tigers added a touchdown and two field goals in the second half to cruise to the convincing road win.

The Tigers totaled 89 offensive plays to N.C. State's 57, as they had 340 rushing yards and 268 passing yards. Clemson also averaged 6.8 yards per play and accumulated 32 first downs without a turnover. The Tigers converted 9-18 third downs and held the ball for 36:49 as well.

Meanwhile, the stingy Tiger defense limited the Wolfpack to just 202 yards of total offense, including just 55 yards on the ground on 23 carries. The secondary picked off three passes as well.

The duo of James Davis and C.J. Spiller combined for 280 rushing yards, seven catches for 47 yards, and four total touchdowns. Davis rushed for 166 yards on 24 carries and added four catches for 13 yards, including his first career touchdown catch.

Spiller rushed for 114 yards on 21 carries and added three catches for 34 yards. Both Davis and Spiller rushed for a score and caught a touchdown pass. Jacoby Ford added 60 rushing yards on just two carries. Offensive tackle Christian Capote was also named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week.

Cullen Harper continued his stellar play with 268 yards on 25-39 passing. He had two touchdown passes without an interception. His favorite target was Aaron Kelly, who had eight receptions for 95 yards.

Mark Buchholz was 4-6 on field goals, including makes of 28, 35, 29, and 25 yards. He kicked one field goal in each quarter and was 4-4 on extra points, totaling 16 points in the contest.

After Chris Chancellor's first career interception on the third play of the game, Clemson drove 58 yards in eight plays to take a 7-0 lead. Spiller capped the drive with an 11-yard touchdown reception on a perfectly-lofted "touch" pass by Harper on third-and-three.

The lead was short-lived, as Darrell Blackman returned the ensuing kickoff 99 yards for a touchdown. Blackman totaled 143 kickoff return yards and 200 all-purpose yards in the game.

On the Tigers' next drive, Davis rushed 34 yards to the N.C. State 12. However, the drive stalled and Buchholz booted a 28-yard field goal to give the Tigers the lead for good.

After Clemson drove 52 yards but missed a field goal on its next possession, the Tiger defense forced another three-and-out, highlighted by Ricky Sapp's sack. Spiller then dashed 44 yards into the endzone on the first play of the ensuing drive to up Clemson's lead to 17-7.

Another interception set up a Clemson score, this time by Michael Hamlin at the Tiger 13. Rushes of 13 yards by Davis and 12 yards by Spiller set up Ford's 53-yard run on a reverse. He actually scored on the play, but the Tigers were flagged for a personal foul at the N.C. State nine to erase the score. Five plays later, Harper connected with Davis out of the backfield for a three-yard touchdown pass on third-and-two. Thanks to the 15-yard penalty, the Tigers totaled 102 yards of total offense on the drive.

The Wolfpack responded with a scoring drive thanks to a "hurry-up" offense. Daniel Evans' 21-yard pass to Blackman on third-and-11 kept the drive alive. Five plays later, Andre Brown rushed 17 yards up the middle into the endzone, cutting the Tiger lead to 24-14.

Clemson added a field goal with no time left on the clock in the second quarter when Buchholz kicked a 46-yard field goal. Before the successful kick, he missed a 51-yarder, but N.C. State was penalized for offsides.

On the initial possession of the second half, pass plays of 25 yards to Kelly and 35 yards to Rendrick Taylor moved the ball into the red zone. But the drive stalled and Buchholz kicked a 29-yard field goal.

Clemson mounted a 16-play, 80-yard drive on its next drive. Davis' 12-yard run on fourth-and-one extended the drive, as did Taylor's nine-yard catch on third-and-nine. Four plays later, Davis carried over from one yard to up the Tigers' lead to 37-14.

In the fourth quarter, N.C. State drove 66 yards in 12 plays, as Evans again led it to the endzone. Brown's four-yard run on fourth-and-one from the Clemson 18 set up Blackman's nine-yard touchdown catch. On the two-point conversion attempt, Hamlin stepped in front of a Wolfpack receiver in the endzone and returned the interception for two points. It was Clemson's first-ever PAT return for two points.

The Tigers added a late 25-yard field goal by Buchholz on a 14-play, 72-yard drive that took 7:11 off the clock.

Tramaine Billie led Clemson with eight tackles, while Nick Watkins added seven stops. Sapp had both of the Tigers' sacks, and Chris Clemons had the last of three interceptions by the defense.

Georgia Tech

September 29, 2007 • Bobby Dodd Stadium • Atlanta, GA

The Georgia Tech defense limited #13 Clemson to three points and 228 yards of total offense in the Yellow Jackets' 13-3 victory at Bobby Dodd Stadium on September 29. Clemson suffered its first loss of 2007 after winning its first four games.

The Tigers scored on their first possession, but they were unable to dent the scoreboard for the remainder of the contest thanks to an unrelenting Georgia Tech defense. Clemson's defense was equal to the task, but two turnovers, a blocked punt, and some untimely penalties led to the Tigers' demise.

The longest scoring drive of the game was 11 yards, as all four scores came on drives that started in the opposition's territory. Two of Georgia Tech's three scores came after Tiger miscues in the punting game.

Unlike the first four games, Clemson lost the average starting field-position battle 38 to 25. The Tigers had four drives of at least 40 yards, but they missed a field goal on all four of those possessions.

Clemson totaled just 228 yards of total offense, including 34 on the ground and 194 through the air. The Tigers were sacked six times for -44 yards, but still converted 8-20 third downs. The Yellow Jackets were held to only 256 total yards, including 189 on the ground and 67 yards on 7-16 passing.

James Davis rushed for a team-high 60 yards on 12 carries, while Cullen Harper was 17-39 for 194 yards. Harper threw his first career interception, ending his streak of 165 passes without one. Aaron Kelly had a game-high six catches for 53 yards, and Jacoby Ford added 141 all-purpose yards.

Tashard Choice totaled a game-high 145 rushing yards and a touchdown on 32 carries. Taylor Bennett was just 7-15 passing for 67 yards, while James Johnson had two receptions for 40 yards.

While the offenses were held at bay, the punters excelled. Clemson's Jimmy Maners had a 49-yard average on five punts, including three punts of at least 50 yards and a long of 60. Durant Brooks had over a 49-yard average on seven punts for the Yellow Jackets.

Disaster struck Georgia Tech on its first play of the game. Bennett tripped and lost the ball when he tried to hand the ball off to Choice. Phillip Merling recovered the fumble at the Yellow Jacket 32. However, Clemson netted just one yard in the next three plays and Mark Buchholz kicked a 48-yard field goal.

On the Tigers' next possession, they drove 47 yards to the Yellow Jacket 30. Harper's 25-yard pass to Tyler Grisham and a 17-yard pass to Michael Palmer helped set up the scoring opportunity. But Buchholz missed on a 47-yard field goal attempt.

Georgia Tech capitalized on special teams on Clemson's next possession. D.J. Donley blocked Maners' punt and the Yellow Jackets had first-and-goal at the Tiger eight. After a pass-interference penalty on Haydrian Lewis in the endzone on third-and-goal from the six, Choice carried two yards into the endzone for a touchdown to give Georgia Tech a 7-3 lead. Lewis suffered a torn ACL on the play and was lost for the season.

With 5:09 left before halftime, the Tigers began a drive that lasted the rest of the half. Harper's 22-yard pass to Kelly on third down moved the ball near midfield. Then on third-and-17, Harper connected with Ford for 18 yards to keep the drive alive.

Later in the drive, Clemson dropped two potential touchdown catches. But the Tigers still had first-and-goal at the six. Then C.J. Spiller caught a six-yard touchdown pass, but Clemson was flagged for a personal foul. Buchholz followed with a miss wide-right on a 30-yard field-goal attempt.

The Tigers were 5-6 on third downs on the drive, but they were unable to score on the last third-down attempt. Clemson also drove 68 yards in 19 plays, but came away with no points.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Tigers drove 44 yards, but they again missed a long field goal, this time from 50 yards.

Georgia Tech marched down the field and had first down at the Tiger 11 thanks to a 27-yard pass from Bennett to Johnson. But Michael Hamlin intercepted Bennett's pass near the sideline.

Clemson was forced to punt on the ensuing drive and Georgia Tech took over at the Tiger 41. Five plays netted only 11 yards, then Travis Bell booted a 48-yard field goal to up the Yellow Jacket's lead to 10-3.

On the Tigers' ensuing drive, they drove 40 yards, but Buchholz just missed again from 48 yards. After a Georgia Tech three-and-out, Brooks boomed a 47-yard punt. On the return, Ford fumbled and the Yellow Jackets took over at the Clemson 33.

Choice carried three times for nine yards, and Georgia Tech elected to kick a field goal on fourth-and-one from the 24. Bell's 41-yard field goal was good, upping the Yellow Jackets' lead to 13-3.

Clemson was unable to muster a first down on its last two possessions, and Georgia Tech held the ball for the final 7:23 on its 12-play, 60-yard drive, highlighted by Choice's 32-yard run on third-and-13, to close out the game.

Chris Clemons led the Tiger defense with 14 tackles, while Nick Watkins added 12 stops. Merling had 10 tackles and three tackles for loss, and Rashaad Jackson totaled two tackles for loss.

Game 6

Virginia Tech

41

October 6, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Virginia Tech had three returns for touchdowns in the first half and outlasted #22 Clemson 41-23 at Memorial Stadium on October 6. The #14 Hokies won their fourth in a row over the Tigers, including their second in as many years.

Virginia Tech had scores off an interception return, punt return, and kickoff return to build a 31-8 halftime lead. In fact, the Hokies amassed only 98 yards in the opening half, but the play of their special teams helped build the 23-point advantage. The Tigers had 221 yards of total offense in the second half, but the margin was too great to overcome against the stellar Hokie defense.

Clemson outgained Virginia Tech 380-219 and had 90 plays of offense to the Hokies' 55. The Tigers set school records for completions (38) and pass attempts (67), and the 372 passing yards were second-most in school history. But Clemson could muster just eight yards on the ground in the contest.

The score was not indicative of Clemson's defensive effort. Virginia Tech had just 65 passing yards and 154 rushing yards, including 118 yards on the ground by freshman quarterback Tyrod Taylor. However, the Hokies had 310 combined return yards after kickoffs, punts, and interceptions.

Clemson had 21 first downs to Virginia Tech's nine, but the Tigers committed three turnovers, while the Hokies had none. Both teams struggled on third down. The Tigers were 2-18 on third-down conversions, while the Hokies were 3-14.

Cullen Harper slung the ball like no Tiger before him, as he was 38-66 for 372 yards and two touchdowns. Aaron Kelly and Tyler Grisham both had 11 catches and a touchdown apiece, while Kelly totaled 174 yards and Grisham had 100. Terrance Ashe added five catches for 44 yards as well.

Punter Jimmy Maners had a 48-yard average on seven punts and placekicker Mark Buchholz was 2-2 on field goals for the Tigers.

Although Taylor was a thorn in the Tigers' side, his backfield mate Brandon Ore only had 35 yards on 23 carries. Ore had rushed for 203 yards against the Tigers in 2006. But field position was a key to Virginia Tech's success, as its average starting field position (37) was 11 yards more than Clemson's.

On the third play of the game, Harper's pass to Grisham was tipped into the waiting arms of D.J. Parker, who returned the interception 32 yards for a score just 70 seconds into the contest.

On the Hokies' second offensive drive of the game, they drove 28 yards after Eddie Royal returned a punt 33 yards into Tiger territory. After the drive stalled, Jud Dunlevy kicked a 32-yard field to put Virginia Tech ahead 10-0.

While Clemson's offense was in the midst of seven consecutive three-and-outs to start the game, the Hokies' special teams went to work. Royal returned the Tigers' next punt 82 yards for a score.

The Tigers finally put points on the scoreboard in the second quarter. Clemson drove 41 yards, highlighted by catches of 14 and 16 yards by Kelly. Buchholz kicked a 33-yard field goal to cap the drive.

But what was a two-touchdown lead quickly became a three-touchdown lead when Victor Harris returned the ensuing kickoff 100 yards for a score.

After Maners' punt pinned the Hokies inside their five, Taylor was sacked by Phillip Merling in the endzone for a safety. The Tigers then returned the ensuing kickoff near midfield. But two plays later, Harper fumbled and Virginia Tech recovered.

Five plays and 49 yards later, Virginia Tech was in the endzone after Taylor connected with Justin Harper for a 21-yard score. Clemson added a 30-yard field goal by Buchholz just before halftime.

After the first five drives of the third quarter did not net any points, Clemson drove 87 yards on 14 plays to score its first touchdown of the game. Harper's 32-yard pass to Kelly moved the ball into Hokie territory. On fourth-and-goal from the three, Harper hooked up with Grisham in the back of the endzone to narrow Virginia Tech's lead to 31-15 early in the fourth quarter.

The Tigers drove right down the field on their next drive. Pass plays of 11 and 23 yards to Kelly set up first down in the red zone. Then on fourth-and-three from the 12, Harper connected with a diving Spiller in the back of the endzone for an apparent touchdown. But a few steps before making the grab, the Tiger speedster stepped out of bounds by inches. Therefore, Clemson was cited for "illegal touching" and the Hokies took over possession.

Dunlevy increased Virginia Tech's lead to 19 points with a 47-yard field goal after Taylor's 52-yard scamper. But Clemson responded again with a nine-play, 64-yard drive to reach the endzone. Harper's 25-yard pass to Kelly helped set up another acrobatic catch by Kelly in the back of the endzone. The 18-yard catch on a deflected ball and two-point pass play to Grisham cut the score to 34-23 with 4:29 left in the game.

But the Tigers got no closer. John Early's on-side kick was recovered by the Hokies in Clemson territory, and they drove 42 yards on eight plays, capped by Ore's two-yard touchdown run.

Nick Watkins led the Tigers with 11 tackles, while Tramaine Billie, Michael Hamlin, and Ricky Sapp added seven stops apiece. Sapp also had two tackles for loss and a sack.

Central Michigan 14

October 20, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Clemson scored its most points in 26 years when it blasted Central Michigan 70-14 on Homecoming at Memorial Stadium on October 20. It was Clemson's most points since the Tigers put 82 points on the scoreboard against Wake Forest in 1981. The 70 points also came in just 34:04, as Clemson scored its first points at the end of the first quarter and its last at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

The Tigers amassed 10 touchdowns and 656 yards on offense, including 341 rushing yards and 315 passing yards. It was the first time in history that Clemson totaled at least 300 yards of each. The Tigers also had 405 yards in the first half and led 35-7 at halftime thanks to 28 second-quarter points. Clemson had 28 points in the third quarter as well.

Clemson tied a school record with 35 first downs and was 12-16 on third-down conversions. The Tigers also scored touchdowns on all seven of their red zone possessions and punted only once. Clemson was aided by an average starting field position at its own 43.

Cullen Harper continued his record-setting year by completing 20 of 22 passes for 273 yards and five touchdowns. He tied his own school record for passing scores that he set earlier in the year, and he established a Tiger single-game record with 15 consecutive completions.

Aaron Kelly was the Tigers' leading receiver with seven catches for 121 yards and two touchdowns. All seven of his catches came in the first half. Jacoby Ford added two catches for 44 yards, as both resulted in touchdowns.

Three Tigers had at least 88 rushing yards, including Sadat Chambers. The third-stringer rushed for 112 yards on only 10 carries with a 63-yard touchdown run, his first points as a Tiger. C.J. Spiller added 96 yards on 15 carries and a score, while James Davis had 88 yards on 22 carries and two rushing touchdowns. Davis had a receiving score as well, giving him three touchdowns in the game.

Central Michigan took the opening drive and traversed 68 yards in 13 plays to take a 7-0 lead. Dan LeFevour's 14-yard pass to J.J. Watt gave the Chippewas first-and-goal at the five, then two plays later, LeFevour connected with Duane Brooks for a nine-yard touchdown pass.

The Tigers then mounted a 15-play, 83-yard drive that lasted 7:06. Kelly's 11-yard catch on third-and-five kept the drive alive. Six plays later, Davis carried one yard for a touchdown. It was the first of nine touchdowns in the Tigers' next 10 possessions.

In the second quarter, Harper found Kelly open over the middle for a 63-yard score, giving the Tigers the lead for good.

After a three-and-out by the Chippewas, Clemson drove 76 yards in six plays. Ford's 12-yard rush on a reverse and Spiller's 18-yard run set up Harper's 36-yard touchdown pass to Ford down the sideline.

On Clemson's next possession, it drove 80 yards for another touchdown. Tyler Grisham's 36-yard catch and run was followed by Davis' 11-yard touchdown reception with 1:18 left before halftime.

The Tigers utilized their timeouts to get the ball back one more time in the first half, and they drove 63 yards in just five plays. Kelly hauled in an 18-yard catch, then two plays later, Harper found Kelly in the back of the endzone for a five-yard touchdown catch with three seconds left on the clock.

Clemson was forced to punt on the opening drive of the second half, but Jimmy Maners' punt was touched by a Chippewa, and Crezdon Butler recovered the loose ball at the one. Spiller carried the ball into the endzone on the next play to up Clemson's lead to 42-7.

Central Michigan put together its second solid drive the following possession. A 28-yard screen pass to Justin Hoskins helped set up LeFevour's four-yard touchdown pass to Brooks, as the sophomore wideout had both Chippewa touchdowns.

Ford returned the kickoff 82 yards. Four plays later, Davis scored on a one-yard plunge.

Nick Watkins forced a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, allowing Chris Wade to fall on the ball. Five plays later, Ford crossed the goal line after receiving an eight-yard touchdown pass from Harper late in the third quarter.

With second and third-team Tigers on the field the rest of the game, Clemson added two more touchdowns. The first came when Chambers ran past the Chippewas for a 63-yard touchdown run.

After freshman DeAndre McDaniel intercepted a pass, his first as a Tiger, early in the fourth quarter, Clemson drove 51 yards to score its 10th touchdown of the game. Tribble Reese's 22-yard pass to Xavier Dye moved the ball into Central Michigan territory. Five plays later, Reese connected with La'Donte Harris, who broke a tackle and raced towards the endzone. However as he dived, he fumbled into the endzone. But Dye recovered the fumble for six points. Richard Jackson's PAT gave the Tigers just their seventh all-time game of at least 70 points and second since 1945.

Michael Hamlin led the Tiger defense with eight tackles, while Phillip Merling added five tackles and two tackles for loss. Thomas Austin was also named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week. A total of 73 Tigers saw action in the game as well.

Maryland

October 27, 2007 • Byrd Stadium • College Park, MD

Clemson scored 30 consecutive points after trailing 3-0 and coasted to a 30-17 victory over Maryland at Byrd Stadium on October 27. The Tigers took control of the game with 20 points in the second quarter. It was the Tigers' third win in the last four meetings with the Terrapins.

Clemson totaled 428 yards of total offense, including 249 on the ground and 179 through the air. The Tiger offense also had 27 first downs and was 8-15 on third-down conversions. Clemson, who held the ball for 36:29, was aided by an average starting field position at its own 41, compared to the Terrapins' average starting field position at their own 24.

The Terrapins had 314 total yards, but 165 came on their last two drives in the fourth quarter with the game well out of reach.

Two Tiger running backs surpassed the 100-yard mark on the ground. James Davis carried 29 times for 129 yards and a touchdown. His longest carry was 13 yards, but he had six rushes of 10 yards or more. The junior backed up his "guarantee" of a victory earlier in the week with his workmanlike effort. C.J. Spiller added 106 rushing yards on 17 carries and five catches for 37 yards.

Cullen Harper was efficient under center, going 20-26 for 179 yards and two touchdowns. Aaron Kelly was his favorite target, as he caught five balls for 54 yards and a touchdown.

Jacoby Ford added three catches for 37 yards and 100 all-purpose yards, but he suffered a season-ending ankle injury in the fourth quarter. Mark Buchholz also kicked three field goals in four attempts.

Lance Ball had 10 carries for 53 yards to lead the Maryland ground game, while Keon Lattimore added 51 yards on 16 carries. Chris Turner was 19-31 passing for 217 yards, and Isaiah Williams led the Terrapins with five catches for 47 yards.

The Tigers received the opening kickoff and drove 59 yards. After a nine-yard pass from Harper to Ford, Clemson called eight straight rushing plays, including six carries for 40 yards by Davis. But the drive stalled and Buchholz was wide-left on a 41-yard field-goal attempt into the wind.

The Terrapins came right back with a 59-yard drive of their own, highlighted by three third-down conversions. But Chris Chancellor and Marcus Gilchrist both saved touchdowns when they broke up passes near or in the endzone. However, Obi Egekeze's 35-yard field goal put the Terrapins ahead 3-0.

Both teams traded fumbles by the signal-callers on the next two drives. Clemson then drove 54 yards to even the score. Buchholz booted a 35-yard field goal to cap the 11-play drive.

After Clemson stuffed the Terrapins on fourth-and-one near midfield, Davis had rushes of 11 and eight yards to help set up Harper's 27-yard touchdown pass to Kelly over the middle to give Clemson the lead for good.

Clemson forced a three-and-out on Maryland's next possession, and the Tigers drove 64 yards in 13 plays to reach the endzone again. Twelve of the plays were rushes by Davis or Spiller. After replay officials reversed Harper's apparent touchdown pass to Spiller, Davis took a direct snap from the one on third down and reached the corner of the endzone with 1:39 left in the second quarter.

Four plays later, Crezdon Butler intercepted Turner's pass near midfield and returned the ball 17 yards to the Terrapin 34.

With no timeouts left, Harper was sacked by Christian Varner at the 32 with eight seconds remaining on the clock. But Varner was flagged for an unsportsmanlike penalty, stopping the clock. After the penalty was marked off and the clock ran, the Tigers snapped the ball with a few seconds left and Buchholz kicked a 34-yard field goal to up Clemson's lead to 20-3.

In the third quarter, Clemson mounted a 63-yard drive and had first-and-goal at the seven. But Clemson could not reach the endzone, and Buchholz kicked a 20-yard field goal.

After a Terrapin three-and-out, the Tigers took over at their own 44. Eleven plays and 56 yards later, Harper connected with Michael Palmer for a two-yard score on third-and-goal to increase the Tigers' lead to 30-3. It was the sophomore's first career touchdown reception.

On the game's next snap, Turner found Adrian Cannon open down the middle of the field for a 44-yard gain. Two plays later, Ball rushed 22 yards to the two. Ball then carried into the endzone on the next play.

After fielding a punt on their own eight, the Terrapins drove 92 yards in 16 plays on their next possession. Turner was 8-9 for 83 yards on the drive that culminated in Lattimore's one-yard touchdown run with 1:30 remaining in the game.

La'Donte Harris recovered the ensuing on-side kick and Clemson ran out the clock.

Tramaine Billie led the Tiger defense with 12 tackles and the team's lone sack. Chris Clemons added 10 tackles and Nick Watkins totaled nine stops, including a tackle for loss. Barry Richardson was also named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week.

Duke

November 3, 2007 • Wallace Wade Stadium • Durham, NC

Clemson, ranked #24 in the country, scored 16 points in a 39-second span to break open a close game and defeat Duke 47-10 at Wallace Wade Stadium on November 3. The 37-point victory margin was the Tigers' largest in an ACC road game since 1984 and Clemson's largest at Duke in history.

With the Tigers only ahead by a score of 10-7 with under two minutes left in the second quarter, Clemson scored a touchdown, sacked Duke in the endzone for a safety, then returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown to take a 26-7 halftime lead. The Tigers actually scored 40 consecutive points after trailing 7-0.

Clemson totaled 350 yards of total offense, including 152 on the ground and 198 through the air. The Tigers did not commit a turnover and were aided by an average starting field position at their own 42, compared to the Blue Devils' average starting field position at their 22.

Clemson's special teams were outstanding, led by the kickoff return team that had 167 yards on just three returns (a school-record 55.7-yard average). Mark Buchholz also made his only field-goal attempt and Jimmy Maners had a 40.2-yard average on five punts, including three inside the 20.

The Tiger defense held Duke to 198 total yards, including only 28 on the ground on 30 carries.

James Davis had a game-high 118 yards on only eight carries thanks to a 70-yard touchdown run. C.J. Spiller added 56 yards on eight carries and had an 84-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

Cullen Harper was 17-26 for 184 yards and two touchdowns against no interceptions. Both his scoring passes went to Aaron Kelly, who had six receptions for 57 yards. Rendrick Taylor also had four catches for 54 yards after missing the previous four games due to injury.

After the two teams traded punts to start the game, the Blue Devils drove 63 yards in six plays to take a 7-0 lead. Thaddeus Lewis' 40-yard pass to Eron Riley gave Duke a first-and-goal at the five. Two plays later, Lewis found Riley open in the endzone for a seven-yard touchdown pass.

Clemson responded with a Buchholz 39-yard field goal. Taylor had three catches for 43 yards to highlight the drive.

On the Tigers' first drive of the second quarter, Spiller's 20 combined rushing yards on the first four plays and Davis' 21-yard run set up Kelly's 19-yard touchdown catch to give Clemson the lead for good. Harper's touchdown pass was his 22nd of the season, establishing a school record in that category.

Late in the first half, Harper connected with Tyler Grisham over the middle for 42 yards to the

On the Blue Devils' next possession, Cortney Vincent sacked Lewis in the endzone for a safety. Then on the ensuing kickoff from the 20, Spiller raced down the sideline for an 84-yard kickoff return for a touchdown with 31 seconds left before halftime.

Michael Hamlin intercepted a Lewis pass at the Tiger 30 on Duke's first possession of the third quarter. On the next play, Davis bounced outside and outran the Blue Devil secondary for a 70-yard touchdown jaunt.

Later in the third quarter, the Tigers regained possession at the 50. Eight plays later, Harper connected with Kelly for a five-yard touchdown pass. Clemson converted two third downs on the drive, including Harper's 12-yard flip pass to Davis on third-and-five and an 11-yard pass to Kelly on third-and-nine. Davis' 16-yard run to the Duke five also contributed to the score.

Duke finally ended Clemson's 40-point streak on its next drive. Lewis' 14-yard pass to Sheldon Bell on third-and-eight kept the drive alive, as did two more third-down conversions on Lewis passes. After the drive stalled, Nick Maggio kicked a 30-yard field goal with 9:36 left in the fourth quarter.

On the ensuing kickoff, Marcus Gilchrist returned the ball 66 yards to the Blue Devil 14. Reserve signal-caller Tribble Reese then led the Tigers on their fifth touchdown drive of the game. His 12-yard pass to Xavier Dye on third-and-11 gave the Tigers first-and-goal at the three. Three plays later, Reese scrambled right and found Brian Linthicum open in the endzone for a two-yard touchdown pass.

Clemson continued its stifling defense for the remainder of the game. Freshman cornerback Byron Maxwell picked up his first career sack when he dropped Zack Asack for a 13-yard loss.

After the Tigers lost the ball on downs, Kavell Conner stripped Ronnie Drummer and Jeremy Campbell fell on the loose ball. Sadat Chambers carried on the next three plays to run out the clock.

The Tigers were without three starters that they had the week before at Maryland. Wide receiver Jacoby Ford, offensive guard Chris McDuffie, and defensive tackle Rashaad Jackson all missed the game due to injury.

Hamlin and Nick Watkins paced the Tiger defense with nine tackles apiece. Hamlin added an interception, tackle for loss, and pass breakup. Vincent contributed eight tackles and a sack, while Maxwell and Ricky Sapp each had a sack. Barry Richardson was also named ACC Offensive Line-man-of-the-Week for the second week in a row.

Wake Forest

10

November 10, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Clemson scored points on eight of its 10 possessions, as the #20 Tigers cruised to a 44-10 win over Wake Forest at Memorial Stadium on November 10. It was Clemson's fourth victory in a row and allowed the Tigers to play for the ACC Atlantic Division title against Boston College on November 17.

The Tigers jumped out to a 10-0 lead, only to see Wake Forest narrow the margin to 10-7 late in the first quarter. But Clemson scored 17 points in the second quarter and 17 more in the second half to earn a 34-point victory.

Clemson totaled five touchdowns and three field goals. Its offense accumulated 411 yards, including 266 passing and 145 rushing, along with 26 first downs. Clemson also converted 7-12 third downs and punted only twice. Meanwhile, the Tiger defense limited the reigning ACC Champions to 286 total yards, including only 82 on the ground.

Cullen Harper was 27-35 for 266 yards and three touchdowns against no interceptions. He also added a touchdown run. Aaron Kelly had a game-high 10 catches for 93 yards and two touchdowns, while Tyler Grisham caught nine balls for 100 yards and a score. Kelly broke the school record for touchdown catches with his 10th and 11th of the season.

James Davis rushed for a game-high 62 yards on 21 carries, and C.J. Spiller added 54 rushing yards on only eight carries.

Spiller was also a part of Clemson's outstanding special teams. He had a 90-yard kickoff return for a touchdown (the first allowed by Wake Forest since 2002) and added 34 yards on two punt returns. Spiller, who had 194 all-purpose yards, became the first Tiger in history to have a kickoff return for a score in back-to-back games.

Mark Buchholz, who earned ACC Specialist-of-the-Week honors, was 3-3 on field goals, including kicks of 48, 52, and 46 yards. He became the first Tiger in history to kick three field goals of at least 45 yards in a game. He was also the first Tiger since 1997 to kick a field goal of at least 50 yards.

Clemson took the opening kickoff and drove 69 yards in 12 plays to take a 7-0 lead. Harper's 15-yard pass to Michael Palmer on third-and-eight along with a pass-interference penalty on third-and-12 set up Harper's seven-yard keeper for a score.

After a three-and-out by Wake Forest, Harper again connected with Palmer, this time for 24 yards into Demon Deacon territory. However, the drive stalled and Buchholz kicked a 48-yard field goal.

The Demon Deacons narrowed the score to 10-7 on their next drive. Riley Skinner's 20-yard pass to Kenny Moore on third-and-13 moved the ball into Tiger territory. Nine plays later, Josh Adams capped the 14-play, 71-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown run up the middle.

On Clemson's next drive, Harper's 30-yard pass to Grisham moved the ball to midfield. Seven plays later on third-and-10, Harper hit Kelly for 13 yards. Harper later found a wide-open Grisham in the endzone for a five-yard touchdown pass to give the Tigers a 17-7 lead early in the second quarter.

Another three-and-out by Wake Forest and Spiller's 28-yard punt return set Clemson up at the Demon Deacon 31. Kelly caught passes on each of the last three plays of the drive, including a 10-yard touchdown reception.

Clemson got the ball back at its own 20 with 1:18 left before halftime. Three more receptions by Kelly helped move the ball to the Demon Deacon 36 with one second left. Buchholz then drilled a 52-yard field goal after time had expired, upping the Tigers' lead to 27-7.

Moore's 55-yard punt return to the Clemson 37 breathed new life into Wake Forest in the third quarter. But three plays netted only two yards, and Sam Swank made a 52-yard field goal.

Spiller took the ensuing kickoff at the Tiger 10 and outran the Demon Deacons for a 90-yard kickoff return for a score, giving Clemson a 34-10 lead.

Kevin Marion's 38-yard kickoff return gave the Demon Deacons the ball near midfield. Then on second-and-eight from the Clemson 27, Wake Forest was flagged for a holding penalty. Skinner was then sacked and intercepted (by Chris Chancellor) on the next two plays.

Spiller rushed 31 yards on the next play to the Wake Forest 38. After the drive stalled, Buchholz booted a 46-yard field goal late in the third quarter.

Wake Forest mounted a 66-yard drive into the red zone. But three incompletions by Skinner, including one on fourth down, turned the ball over.

Clemson responded with a 13-play, 84-yard drive that took 7:29 off the clock. Grisham's 24-yard run on a reverse advanced the ball into Wake Forest territory. After the Tigers were flagged for a holding penalty, Spiller carried 12 yards and Harper connected with a leaping Kelly for a nine-yard touchdown pass for the game's final score.

Nick Watkins led the Tiger defense with 15 tackles. Phillip Merling was named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week thanks to his eight tackles, three tackles for loss, two sacks, one pass breakup, and four quarterback pressures. Kourtnei Brown, Jamie Cumbie, Ricky Sapp, and Dorell Scott also added one sack apiece for the Tigers, who totaled 11 tackles for loss, six sacks, six pass breakups, and 16 quarterback pressures in the game.

Boston College 20

November 17, 2007 • Memorial Stadium • Clemson, SC

Behind senior quarterback Matt Ryan, #18 Boston College scored 17 fourth-quarter points to rally for a 20-17 win over #15 Clemson at Memorial Stadium on November 17. The Eagles wrapped up the ACC Atlantic Division title with the victory and earned a berth in the ACC Championship game.

Despite a frenzied Tiger crowd, Boston College was victorious in a close game over Clemson for the third year in a row, as the previous two meetings as ACC foes ended in overtime contests.

Clemson held the lead for the first three quarters, only to see Ryan complete a 43-yard pass to Rich Gunnell with 1:46 left for the winning score.

Boston College totaled 26 first downs and 375 yards of total offense, including 315 passing yards by Ryan on 31 completions in 47 attempts. The Eagles were held to just 60 rushing yards on 34 carries (1.8 yards per rush). They also were successful on three of their five fourth-down attempts and held the ball 13 minutes longer than the Tigers.

Andre Callender was a thorn in Clemson's side, as he rushed for 75 yards and caught 11 balls for 92 yards. Gunnell added five catches for 82 yards.

Clemson had 273 total yards, including 47 rushing and 226 passing, and 21 first downs. It was also 7-16 on third-down conversions and successfully converted its only fourth-down opportunity.

Cullen Harper completed 26-40 passes, but he did not throw a touchdown pass and was intercepted once. Tyler Grisham caught 10 passes for 89 yards, while Aaron Kelly had eight receptions for 70 yards.

C.J. Spiller was Clemson's leading rushing with 52 yards on 11 carries. James Davis and Harper also had rushing touchdowns.

The Eagles chose to receive the opening kickoff and promptly went three-and-out thanks to one of five Tiger sacks on the night.

The Tigers took over at their own 32 and drove 68 yards in 13 plays to take a 7-0 lead. Harper's 22-yard screen pass to Rendrick Taylor moved the ball into Eagle territory. Davis capped the drive with a one-yard touchdown plunge. Clemson was 4-4 on third-down conversions on the drive.

In the second quarter, DeAndre McDaniel intercepted Ryan at the Eagle 49. Spiller rushed 19 yards on the next play to set up a 46-yard field-goal attempt by Mark Buchholz that sailed wide-left.

The two traded punts before the Eagles finally put points on the scoreboard. Ryan's 16-yard pass to Gunnell moved the ball to the Tiger 22. After a seven-yard pass to Callender, Ryan was sacked and threw an incompletion on the next two plays. Steve Aponavicius kicked a 40-yard field goal with 1:14 left before halftime, cutting Clemson's lead to 7-3.

The Tigers drove down the field on the opening drive of the second half. Harper's 21-yard pass to Kelly and 10-yard pass to Spiller moved the ball to the Eagle 12. Clemson then had first-and-goal at the two, but it could not reach the endzone and had to settle for a 22-yard field by Buchholz.

Boston College responded with a 15-play, 48-yard drive deep into Tiger territory. Ryan sneaked for a first down on fourth-and-one, then he completed a nine-yard pass to Callender to the Tiger 16. But a false-start penalty and a sack by Phillip Merling set up a fourth-and-16 at the Tiger 31. Ryan scrambled and escaped being sacked, but he was forced to throw the ball away, giving the ball back to Clemson.

After being held out of the endzone for three quarters, the Eagles finally reached paydirt early in the fourth quarter to cap an 80-yard drive. After the drive was kept alive by a pass-interference penalty on third-and-10 in Eagle territory, Ryan's 20-yard pass to Callender and nine-yard pass to Ryan Purvis set up James McCluskey's two-yard touchdown run.

On the game's next snap, Harper was intercepted by Kevin Akins, giving Boston College possession in Tiger territory. But Clemson's defense stiffened, forcing a 30-yard field goal by Aponavicius that gave the Eagles a 13-10 lead.

Clemson came right back and regained the lead. Spiller rushed for 24 yards on the first three plays of the drive. On third-and-five from the Eagle 14, Harper hit Grisham for a first down. Two plays later, Harper scored on a four-yard run to put the Tigers ahead 17-13 with 5:28 left in the game.

But Clemson's lead was short-lived. Ryan's 12-yard pass to Clarence Megwa on third-and-eight prolonged the drive. Five plays later on third-and-seven, Ryan scrambled right and threw left to a wide-open Gunnell for a 43-yard touchdown pass and a 20-17 lead with 1:46 left on the clock.

Harper then completed three straight passes to move the ball to the Eagle 45. After three consecutive incompletions, Harper connected with Kelly for 12 yards on fourth-and-10 to keep Clemson's ACC title hopes alive. Two plays later from the Eagle 30, Harper lofted a pass to Kelly near the goal-line, but the ball slipped through Kelly's arms. Harper was sacked on the next play, and as time expired, Buchholz was short on a 54-yard field-goal attempt.

Chris Clemons led the Tiger defense with 14 tackles, while Tramaine Billie added 13 stops. Nick Watkins (11) and Michael Hamlin (10) also had double-digit tackle totals. Merling, who was named ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week, had nine tackles and two sacks. Dorell Scott added eight tackles, including two tackles for loss and a sack.

21

November 24, 2007 • Williams-Brice Stadium • Columbia, SC

Mark Buchholz kicked a 35-yard field goal as time expired to lift #21 Clemson to a 23-21 victory over arch-rival South Carolina at Williams-Brice Stadium on November 27. It was the Tigers' first "buzzer-beater" since the 1986 season.

The win also gave Clemson its ninth win over the Gamecocks in the last 11 years and ninth win in its last 10 trips to Columbia. The Gamecocks also ended the regular season with their fifth straight loss.

Clemson forced three turnovers and blocked two punts, but it could not capitalize on three of the Gamecocks' miscues. It took a late 61-yard drive and clutch kick for the Tigers to come away with their first victory by three points or less (or in overtime) in their last eight opportunities.

The Tigers outgained South Carolina 443-364 thanks to 33 more offensive plays (85-52). Clemson had 214 rushing yards and 229 through the air. The Tigers also had 26 first downs and held the ball for 38:37, over 17 minutes longer than South Carolina.

James Davis and C.J. Spiller combined for 210 rushing yards on 37 carries, including 122 yards by Davis and 88 yards by Spiller. Cory Boyd led the Gamecocks with 74 rushing yards on 19 carries.

Cullen Harper was 28-38 for 229 yards and one touchdown pass. His favorite target was Aaron Kelly, who had nine receptions for 134 yards, including four catches for 70 yards on the game-winning drive. Nelson Faerber added four catches for 20 yards and a score, as the former walk-on was substituting for an injured Tyler Grisham.

Gamecock quarterback Blake Mitchell was 18-31 for 284 yards and three touchdowns. Kenny McKinley totaled eight catches for 125 yards and two touchdowns, while Dion Lecorn added five receptions for 65 yards and a touchdown.

Chris Chancellor started the Tigers off on the right foot when he intercepted Mitchell on the first play of the game. Then, Davis' 29-yard carry moved the ball into Gamecock territory. But the Tigers had to settle for Buchholz's 48-yard field goal.

On South Carolina's ensuing drive, Faerber blocked Ryan Succop's punt deep in Gamecock territory. La'Donte Harris scooped up the ball and raced 10 yards for a touchdown, giving the Tigers a 10-0 lead. It was Clemson's first touchdown on a blocked punt against South Carolina since 1981.

The Gamecocks responded with a 74-yard scoring drive to narrow Clemson's lead to 10-7. On second-and-19, Boyd caught a pass out of the backfield and sprinted 39 yards to the Tiger 21. Three plays later on third-and-eight, Mitchell lofted a perfectly-thrown pass to McKinley for a 19-yard touchdown.

After the two teams traded punts, Clemson went on a 10-play, 88-yard drive to up its lead to 17-7. Davis and Spiller each had rushes of 19 yards, while Davis went over the 3,000-yard career rushing mark on the drive. Harper capped the drive with a four-yard touchdown pass to Faerber.

Early in the third quarter, the Tigers squandered another scoring chance. Harris rushed up the middle untouched and blocked another Succop punt, as Paul Macko recovered the ball at the Gamecock 22. Then on second-and-goal from the two, Emanuel Cook intercepted Harper in the endzone and returned the ball to the Gamecock 34.

Four plays and 66 yards later, Mitchell hit McKinley over the middle for a 40-yard touchdown pass, narrowing Clemson's lead to 17-14.

The Tigers answered with a 13-play, 69-yard drive to up their lead to 20-14. Kelly's 20-yard reception moved the ball near midfield. A six-yard pass-interference penalty on third-and-14 extended the drive that ended in Buchholz's 28-yard field goal.

Neither Phillip Merling's caused fumble or Dorell Scott's interception on the Gamecock's next two drives resulted in Tiger points, as the latter saw Buchholz miss on a 45-yard field-goal attempt.

South Carolina then drove 72 yards in the fourth quarter to take a 21-20 lead. McKinley's 35-yard catch and run gave the Gamecocks first-and-goal. Two plays later, Mitchell found a wide-open Lecorn in the endzone for a four-yard score.

The Tigers were forced to punt on their next drive, as Maners' 55-yard boot and McKinley's seven-yard return set up South Carolina at its own 12. After Boyd rushed 16 yards on the first play of the ensuing drive, Boyd's number was called again on the next three plays. But the Tiger defense was up to the test, as it stopped the senior running back on third-and-four, forcing a punt with 2:09 left.

Clemson took over at its own 22 and promptly moved near midfield when Kelly caught a 26-yard pass over the middle. The reception was Kelly's 81st of the season to establish a new school record.

After a seven-yard sack and one-yard loss on the next two plays, the Tigers faced third-and-18. But Harper calmly completed a 14-yard pass to Kelly on third down and 12-yard pass to Kelly on fourth down. Then, Kelly's 18-yard catch moved Clemson into field-goal range. After Harper's spike and kneel-down in the middle of the field, Buchholz kicked the game-winning 35-yard field goal as time expired.

Ricky Sapp led Clemson with seven tackles, while Chancellor and Nick Watkins added six stops apiece. Thomas Austin also earned ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week honors.

Clemson's Bowl History

Clemson has a rich bowl tradition. The Tigers have a 15-14 record in bowl games, and the 15 bowl wins are 18th-most in NCAA history. Clemson's first bowl game was in the 1940 Cotton Bowl when the Tigers defeated Frank Leahy (Boston College) 6-3.

With its 2007 Chick-fil-A Bowl appearance, Clemson has appeared in a bowl game 19 of the last 23 seasons. That is the ninth-most bowl appearances since 1985.

Clemson has beaten some of the top programs in college football history in bowl games. The list of schools Clemson has beaten in a bowl game includes prominent programs Colorado, Miami (FL), Nebraska, Ohio State, Oklahoma, Penn State, Stanford, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

Clemson won its first three bowl games, victories over Boston College, Missouri, and Miami (FL). The three coaches Clemson defeated in those games were Frank Leahy, Don Faurot, and Andy Gustafson, and all three are in the College Football Hall of Fame.

Clemson has a football program that has been steady over the years in bowl games, no matter who has led the program as head coach. No less than six different head coaches (Jess Neely, Frank Howard, Danny Ford, Ken Hatfield, Tommy West, and Tommy Bowden) have all won bowl games for the Tigers.

Overall, nine of Clemson's 15 bowl victories have come against coaches who are in the College Football Hall of Fame, including 2007 inductee Joe Paterno of Penn State. Clemson has four bowl victories over coaches who are in the 200-victory club. Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Tom Osborne of Nebraska, Paterno and Nehlen are all coaches with at least 200 wins who lost bowl games to Clemson.

Clemson has bowl wins over some of the greatest coaches in college football history:

- Frank Leahy, the second-winningest coach in college football history on a winning-percentage basis, when Clemson defeated Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl.
- Joe Paterno of Penn State, the second-winningest coach in Division I college football history on a total-wins basis, when Clemson defeated Penn State 35-10 in the 1988 Citrus Bowl. It is still the largest margin of defeat in a bowl game for Paterno, who is the winningest coach in college history in terms of victories in bowl games.
- Woody Hayes of Ohio State, the ninth-winningest coach in college football history (Division I) on a total-victories basis, when Clemson defeated the Buckeyes 17-15 in the 1978 Gator Bowl, Hayes' last game as coach.
- Barry Switzer of Oklahoma, the fourth-winningest coach in Division I college football history on a winning-percentage basis, when Clemson defeated Oklahoma in 1989 Citrus Bowl, Switzer's final game as a college coach.
- Tom Osborne of Nebraska, the seventh-winningest coach in college football (Division I) history on a total-wins basis, when Clemson defeated the Cornhuskers in the 1981 Orange Bowl, which gave the Tigers their only national title.
- Don Nehlen of West Virginia, the 14th-winningest coach in Division I history when Clemson downed the Mountaineers 27-7 in the 1989 Gator Bowl.
- Phillip Fulmer of Tennessee, the second-winningest active coach in Division I, when the Tigers defeated a #6 Tennessee team 27-14 in the 2004 Peach Bowl.

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season with just one loss to a Tulane team that would finish the season with an 8-1-1 record and #5 ranking by the Associated Press. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first, First-Team Associated Press All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to Boston College's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up, 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned a punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard

Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11 yard line, but Bryant and McFadden each broke up two passes and Clemson took over possession on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 44-yard average on 11 kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Shad Bryant missed the extra point.

Later in the quarter, a 51-yard punt by McFadden started

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shutout of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a #11 ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave Clemson the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point.

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied up at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Clemson then launched an 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shutouts. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back," to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score.

the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami drove 95 yards in just five plays for its second score of the game. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time, 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions along with one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitch-out from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. Don Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, his second of the game, and Clemson ran out the clock.

Miami caught fire two minutes later when Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40, and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game - a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led, 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. His interception total is still an NCAA record for an individual in a bowl game. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going, and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricanes did not gain another first down. Miami finished the game with just five first downs and 174 yards of total offense, yet won the game. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in history.

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Clemson came out of the lockerroom and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells's three-yard run. After a punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly series for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball in from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led, 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

Frank Howard's threatened resignation during halftime inspired the comeback in the second half. "I told them I was going to resign if they didn't play better in the second half. I told them I didn't want to be associated with any team that played like that."

When Howard met Colorado Head Coach Dal Ward at midfield, Ward asked him what was the matter with his team. Howard said "I just don't know."

Later, Howard explained that his team refused to block in the first half, but in the second half, they got down to business. He had words of praise for John Bayuk, Colorado's fullback, and said he was as good as any fullback that Clemson had faced.

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take a 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

Louisiana State drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its first six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the Louisiana State 27 yard line on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, Louisiana State got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for Louisiana State at the Clemson 11.

Louisiana State picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the endzone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and Louisiana State led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the Louisiana State 28, but Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was incomplete. Louisiana State took over on downs and ran out the clock.

In his usual relaxed way, Coach Frank Howard said he was pleased with his team. "Hell! I think we'd have beat them if that boy had held onto that little screen pass," Howard said. "I was going for those two points and beat them. I didn't think we would hold them to one touchdown, but I didn't think they would shut us out, either."

"Louisiana State has a good team, they rate the #1 spot in the nation. Cannon is quite a boy. Deserves his All-American rating."

"It was a wonderful victory. They're just as fine when you win 'em, 7-0 as 30-0. I'm very happy that we won," said Louisiana State Coach Paul Dietzel, who won the national championship at age 34.

"Clemson proved tougher than most people figured. But we knew we would have to play at our top peak to beat them. They were a good team."

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team.

After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Texas Christian five yard line, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started, to put Clemson up, 3-0.

Not to be outdone, Texas Christian second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the endzone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and Texas Christian took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns for a comfortable lead. With a third-and-18 situation at its own 32, White threw to Gary Barnes, who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for a score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide, and Clemson led, 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the Texas Christian one and Scudato ran off right tackle for six. Armstrong's kick put the game out of Texas Christian's reach.

The win over the #7 Horned Frogs was the highest-ranked bowl win in Tiger history at the time and is still third-best all-time, trailing only the win over #4 Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl and the win over #6 Tennessee in the 2004 Peach Bowl.

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making its first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and came within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history with a 34-3 score.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. Pitt set a Gator Bowl team record for passing yards and first downs, while Cavanaugh set the individual mark for passing yardage. If that was not enough, the Pittsburgh defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers' offense did get on track. Pittsburgh was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pittsburgh 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Fuller led Clemson on offense with 192 yards. He had been named ACC Player-of-the-Year as a junior. Randy Scott (13), Mark Heniford (13), and Bubba Brown led the Tiger defense with double-figure tackle totals.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by the Panthers, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football pride for Clemson.

The 1978 Clemson team was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson head coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson led 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive. Faced with third-and-five at the Clemson 24, an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was forced out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-

(future All-Pro with the Chicago Bears), led the Baylor defense with 20 tackles. He was a major reason Clemson gained a season low 67 yards rushing in 51 attempts.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining seconds for the win.

yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' lead to 24-10.

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 24 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuikie drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 yard line to the 21 to set up Igwebuikie's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

Notes on Clemson's 1981 National Championship Team

- Clemson won its first national title in any sport and the first for the ACC in football in 28 years.
- Clemson had five different players earn All-America honors, more than any other Tiger team in history.
- There was no controversy concerning the voting of the National Champion in 1981. Clemson ended the season as the only undefeated, untied team in Division I after the bowl games and was the only team with three wins over top-10 teams.
- Coach Danny Ford, at age 33 at the time, remains the youngest coach in history of college football to win the National Championship.
- Clemson forced 41 turnovers in the 12 games, still a Clemson record for turnovers forced in a season.
- During one stretch in the season the Clemson defense held the opposition without a touchdown for 18 straight quarters and no team had a rushing touchdown against Clemson the first seven games of the season.
- Clemson won the national championship in 1981 after going 6-5 the previous season. The Tigers were unranked in every preseason poll for 1981.
- Clemson's improvement of 5.5 games from 1980 to 1981 was the largest improvement in the nation.
- Only one team had more time of possession than Clemson all season, Wofford.
- Clemson had the lead at the end of the first period in just four of the 12 games.
- Clemson scored 316 points in the regular season of 1981, the exact same total Georgia scored in its 11-game regular season of 1980, the year the Bulldogs won the national championship.
- Good health was a big reason for Clemson's success in 1981. Only five different starters missed any games all season and no one missed more than two games. A collective total of only eight games were missed by five starters all season.
- No opponent had a run from scrimmage longer than 26 yards and no opponent had a play over 30 yards all season. The longest touchdown play against Clemson was 25 yards, on a halfback option pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels of Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.
- During offseason conditioning in the summer of 1981 strength coach George Dostal constructed a simple sign for his strength training facility: 1982 Orange Bowl, Clemson vs. Nebraska.
- The Clemson senior student who was in charge of

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-American receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. It was Tuttle's eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis's 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuikie kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Johnny Rembert, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive, then the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

Jeff Davis led the Tiger defense with 14 tackles in his final game. He also recovered a fumble, giving him a school-record eight for his career. Bill Smith added a career-high 10 tackles from his defensive end position.

Clemson met a Big Ten school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoyed moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Minnesota was coached by John Gutekunst, who had taken over for Lou Holtz at the end of the regular season. Holtz had resigned in December to become head coach at Notre Dame.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Ricky Foggie, a native of South Carolina, led the Golden Gophers with 183 yards of total offense.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh 100-yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests. Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from running back Stacey Driver in the third period.

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second-half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th-ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8-11 passes in the first half, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14-yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year (46) on Clemson's next possession, putting the down and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career-high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goal-line situation in the first half.

Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from half-time a different team. Kodak All-American tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touch-

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team by the score of 35-10. It is still the largest margin of defeat for a Joe Paterno-coached football team. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most Valuable Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams' second bowl victory in his three-year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 14 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings, who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Wideout Gary Cooper also added four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State. The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State to go with the 214 yards passing. It was the first bowl game in which Clemson had at least 200 yards passing and 200 yards rushing. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards on the ground and another touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles.

Linebacker Dorian Marable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a #9 ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford defeated the top-three winningest active coaches the decade, with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne (Nebraska), and Joe Paterno (Penn State).

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 yards, and no touchdowns on the ground.

The game was a defensive struggle, as the two teams failed to combine for 500 yards of total offense. The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Jamelle Holieway at the 19.

first score, a 20-yard field goal by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Tiger defense held and R.D. Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown, as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most Valuable Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners' next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score. After a punt, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tiger secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tiger victory.

Terry Allen was named MVP. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes for 47 yards to lead all Tiger receivers.

Doug Brewster intercepted a pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers'

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

West Virginia quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince

Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Chris Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on the ground on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in good field position, as he had a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63.

Defensively, linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from

After a separation of 22 years, two coaches found themselves once again on the same football field. This time, however, they were on opposite sidelines. Ken Hatfield and John Mackovic, who had been graduate assistants together at Army in the 1960's, were reunited in the 1991 Hall of Fame Bowl.

The Clemson defense dominated the line by holding Illinois to 247 yards, 150 yards under their season average. The Clemson offense surprised the Illini defense with an unexpected aerial assault. Tiger quarterback and game MVP DeChane Cameron, who was less than a 50 percent passer in the regular season, completed 14 of 19 passes for a Hall of Fame Bowl record 73 percent.

Cameron's passing yardage totalled 141 yards and he completed TD passes to Doug Thomas and Howard Hall. It was the first TD reception for both players in their respective careers. Thomas caught five passes on the day for 57 yards, career highs for both categories for the senior in his last game.

Clemson took its opening possession 71 yards to the Illinois two where Chris Gardocki tapped in any easy three. After Illinois fumbled on its first offensive its four previous bowl victories.

In the second quarter, the Tigers would score two more touchdowns. The first was the result of a 17-yard Cameron pass to fullback Howard Hall. It was just the third TD pass to a Clemson fullback in the last 18 years. Clemson then put the contest out of reach just three plays later when Arlington Nunn scored on a 34-yard interception return. It was the senior's third interception returned for a TD in 1990, a Clemson record.

The Tiger defense continued to hold Illinois throughout the remainder of the game. John Johnson led the Tiger pass defense, as he had two sacks to lead a point-prevention unit that had six sacks on the day. Illinois reached the Clemson eight-yard line in the fourth quarter, but the Tiger defense forced a fumble and Ed McDaniel picked up the ball. Illinois had the ball in Tiger territory just three times.

The Tiger defense earned its third shutout of the year. It was the first shutout at a Hall of Fame Bowl and Clemson's first bowl shutout in 17 bowls. The 30-0 triumph was a Tiger record for victory margin in a bowl game.

Clemson's bowl game victory streak ended at five as the Tigers left the state of Florida with their first bowl loss since 1985, and their worst defeat since 1986, when #14th California defeated #13 Clemson 37-13 in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

For the first time since the 1988 season, the Clemson defense, which led the nation in rushing defense in 1991, allowed an opposing running back to rush for over 100 yards, as California's Russell White crossed the century mark with 103 yards.

The Golden Bears scored early and often in the first half, taking the opening kickoff 76 yards for a touchdown and adding a 31-yard field goal on their third possession. Clemson was unable to gain a first down after the ensuing kickoff and was forced to punt. Although Chuck Lynch punted 49 yards, Brian Treggs eluded the Tiger special forces unit and went the distance for a 72-yard touchdown.

Treggs had 124 punt return yards, most ever against Clemson in a bowl game and one of the top opponent performances in any game.

Clemson got on the board for the first time with time running out in the first quarter as Nelson Welch connected on a 32-yard field goal on a drive highlighted by a 43-yard run by fullback Rudy Harris.

The highlight of the game for the Tigers came with just under five minutes remaining in the first half, as DeChane Cameron broke loose for a 62-yard touchodwn. That play marked the longest run from scrimmage for a Tiger quarterback in 13 years, but also marked the only touchdown that Clemson scored that afternoon.

The only score for Clemson in the second half was a 36-yard field goal by Welch in the third period. The Tiger defense managed to hold California scoreless in the fourth quarter, but Clemson could not put up any points, as it turned the ball over three times on interceptions and once more on downs.

Two Tigers who were playing in their last game in a Clemson uniform were named team Most Valuable Players in the loss. Defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, who had six tackles for the game, including three tackles for loss and one-and-a-half sacks, was named the Tigers' defensive MVP, while quarterback DeChane Cameron was named Clemson's Most Valuable Offensive Performer, after he scored Clemson's only touchdown and had 189 yards in total offense.

Heading into the Peach Bowl with Kentucky, Clemson owned the seventh-best bowl winning percentage in college football history with a .611 mark. The Tigers upped that percentage in an exciting way, with a 14-13 win over Kentucky. Tommy West also became the first coach in NCAA history to win his first game for a school in a bowl game without serving as a coach in that program during the regular season.

A tandem of running backs who hailed from Pensacola, FL led the Clemson rushing attack, as starting tailback Rodney Blunt rushed for a season-high 58 yards on 15 carries to lead the team. But, it was red-shirt freshman Emory Smith who was named the Tigers' Offensive MVP, as he rambled for 45 yards from his fullback position, including a two-yard touchdown run.

After taking over at its own two, quarterback Dexter McCleon engineered a 98-yard scoring drive that culminated in a one-yard run by Emory Smith.

The Wildcats drove back down the field on their next possession, this time reaching the Clemson one again, where they decided to go for it on fourth down. The Clemson defense held once again, as defensive tackle Brentson Buckner stopped the ball carrier for no gain. Buckner was named Defensive MVP after tallying a dozen tackles, including three tackles for loss. Buckner became just the fourth

Tiger defensive lineman in the last eight years to record at least a dozen tackles in a game.

The Tigers were forced to punt after taking over at the one and Kentucky got on the scoreboard with a 17-yard field goal by Nicky Nickles. The score heading into the half stood at 7-3.

Neither squad scored in the third quarter, and barely into the fourth period, Kentucky took the lead with a 46-yard touchdown drive. After an interception, the Wildcats upped their lead to 13-7 on a 43 yard scoring drive, culminating in another field goal.

With time running down in the fourth quarter, quarterback Patrick Sapp came off the bench. The two teams exchanged punts before the Tigers got the ball at their own 18 with 3:50 left. On the first play of the drive, Sapp threw a screen to Emory Smith for 57 yards. With under a minute left, Kentucky linebacker Marty Moore intercepted Sapp's pass. But, on the return, Stacy Seegars jarred the ball loose and Brent LeJeune recovered. With 20 seconds left, Sapp connected with Terry Smith on a 21-yard score and Nelson Welch kicked the PAT for the win.

Clemson entered the 1996 Gator Bowl fresh off of five consecutive victories, including an emotional 38-17 win over arch-rival South Carolina. The Tigers had won six consecutive games away from Death Valley, but the streak ended there at the hands of Syracuse. The Orangemen handed Clemson its worst bowl defeat in its 20-game bowl history, 41-0.

In front of a rain-soaked crowd of mostly Tiger fans, freshman quarterback and future NFL star Donovan McNabb ran, passed and beat the Tiger defense. McNabb, the MVP of the Gator Bowl, was unstoppable, as he threw three touchdown passes and ran for another. He completed 13 of 23 passes for 309 yards. Wide receiver Marvin Harrison was on the other end of many McNabb passes as he grabbed seven for 173 yards.

Malcolm Thomas scored less than two minutes into the game on a one-yard run. On its next possession, McNabb led a 12-play, 62-yard drive that culminated in a McNabb five-yard keeper for six.

In the second quarter, the Orangemen defense thwarted Clemson's best scoring chance of the called a play-action pass that was incomplete, ending the drive on downs.

The homecoming for Jacksonville natives and childhood teammates Brian Dawkins and Patrick Sapp was bitter-sweet, although Sapp did register a sack for a nine-yard loss. The Tigers, who entered the game with the nation's fourth best rushing attack could only manage 90 yards on 34 attempts. The Orangemen held Raymond Priester, the ACC's leading rusher, to just 36 yards on 15 carries.

Syracuse added two more touchdowns in the third quarter to put the game well out of reach. After a 57-yard pass to Sir Mawn Wilson, Thomas ran two yards to the right for his second touchdown of the afternoon. Thomas rushed for 71 yards on 14 carries. Each team traded prodigious third quarter punts, including a 73-yard effort by Sean Reali. The two bright spots for Clemson were punter Chris McNally, who averaged 49.3 yards on six punts, and Brian Dawkins, who had a team-high 10 tackles. The Orangemen had their second one-play drive when McNabb connected with Harrison for a 56-yard score.

afternoon. After the Tigers had gone 53 yards down the field on 11 plays to Syracuse's six-yard-line, Clemson faced a crucial fourth-and-two situation. Clemson Raymond Priester set a Clemson Bowl record for rushing yardage with 151 yards gained during the 1996 Peach Bowl. On the defensive side of the ball, defensive lineman Trevor Pryce had three tackles for loss and one sack in addition to a caused fumble. Even with these fine accomplishments, Clemson still fell to the Louisiana State Tigers by a three-point margin, 10-7 at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, GA.

Nealon Greene opened the scoring for Clemson on a three-yard run for a touchdown.

In addition to Priester's outstanding game, contributions to the running attack were also made by Emory Smith, who had nine carries for 40 yards. Smith, brother of NFL star Emmitt Smith, was playing in his second Peach Bowl, as he was vital in Clemson's victory over Kentucky in the 1993 Peach Bowl.

Clemson's sole touchdown drive was 1:29 minutes long and consisted of only three runs. The outstanding field position was achieved on a fumble recovery by Harold Means following a sack and caused fumble by Trevor Pryce.

Louisiana State scored again during this quarter, with a 22-yard field goal by Richey to take the lead for good. Neither team scored in the second half, as both defenses dominated.

Clemson got the ball back with 2:29 remaining, but a 52-yard field goal attempt by Matt Padgett with 1:02 remaining in the game was blocked by Adam Roman and Louisiana State hung on for its second bowl victory over Clemson. The SEC Tigers also defeated Clemson 7-0 in the 1959 Sugar Bowl.

Time of possession was fairly even throughout the game, as Louisiana State led with 30:15 minutes versus Clemson's 29:45 minutes. Not only was time of possession even in this game, but also the total net yards gained (Clemson 258 - Louisiana State 287) and the average gain per play (4.2-4.5) were close as well.

Behind the strength of the Auburn defense, Dameyune Craig was able to rally his offense in the fourth quarter enroute to a come from behind 21-17 victory over the Clemson Tigers at the Georgia Dome. Auburn's offense managed to score 15 points on three consecutive scoring drives to overcome an 11-point deficit in the fourth quarter.

Clemson got on the board midway through the second quarter with the help of the first of many great special teams plays. Jaret Holmes' punt was blocked by Rod Gardner and returned 18 yards by Chad Speck for a touchdown.

Auburn would answer the Clemson scoring strike on its very next drive. Offensive MVP Dameyune Craig led Auburn on a seven-play, 67-yard drive, that ended when Jaret Holmes converted on his second field goal.

With 5:18 left in the third quarter, Clemson's special teams stepped up big again when Rahim Abdullah blocked Holmes' punt and Mal Lawyer recovered the ball on the two. From there, Clemson's Terry Witherspoon ran the ball in from two yards out on first and goal to give the Tigers a 14-6 lead.

Tony Horne returned the punt 20 yards to the Auburn 26-yard line, giving the Tigers great field position. However, the Clemson offense failed to gain a first down. David Richardson connected on a 48-yard field goal, which gave Clemson a 17-6 advantage with 2:10 left in the third quarter.

Down 11 points, Craig rallied his team. He led the Tigers on a nine-play, 72-yard drive. The Auburn drive was capped off with a miraculous 22-yard touchdown run by Craig on a fourth-down play. Despite failing to convert the two-point conversion, Craig's run was a turning point for the Auburn offense and reduced Clemson's lead to 17-12.

Clemson was forced to punt on its next possession, giving the ball back to an Auburn offense that was finally clicking. Craig and his Tigers drove 49 yards in two minutes and 22 seconds, resulting in a Rusty Williams 7-yard touchdown run.

Following an interception, Auburn drove down to the Clemson five and Holmes converted on a 22-yard field goal, giving the Auburn Tigers a 21-17 lead. After Clemson lost the ball on downs, Auburn ran the remaining 2:30 off the clock.

Wayne Madkin ran for a touchdown and threw for another in the fourth quarter to lead #15 Mississippi State to a 17-7 win in the Peach Bowl and a record crowd of 73,315. Clemson outgained the Bulldogs 391-265, but many Tiger drives stalled in Bulldog territory, as Mississippi State's defense, tops in the nation in yards allowed per game, thwarted the Tigers and forced six turnovers.

Despite the loss, Clemson's defense played one of its best games of the year, holding the Bulldogs (10-2) to just 3.7 yards per play. The defense also began many drives after Tiger turnovers in Clemson's own territory.

Individually, Clemson was led on offense by Brian Wofford, who had six catches for a team-season-high 147 yards, including four of 20 yards or more. Brandon Streeter threw for 301 yards on 24-50 passing. Freshman Bernard Rambert, who played most of the game after starting tailback Travis Zachery left the game early in the first quarter with a dislocated elbow, had 70 yards rushing on 18 carries.

Clemson looked to be in business when Streeter connected with Rod Gardner, who had seven catches for 75 yards, for 37 yards on the game's first play. But Fred Smoot intercepted Streeter's fourth-down pass. Clemson had another golden opportunity later in the opening quarter. Thanks in part to Wofford's 32-yard catch and run, Clemson drove 64 yards in 15 plays before Tony Lazzara's 25-yard field goal was blocked and returned into Tiger territory. The Clemson defense continually came up with stands. The teams went into halftime 0-0, the first scoreless tie at halftime for Clemson since the 1988 Virginia game.

Scott Westerfield put the Bulldogs ahead 3-0 on the opening drive of the second half. After two screen passes that netted a total of 30 yards, Westerfield split the uprights from 39 yards.

The Bulldogs reached the endzone for the first time on their first possession of the fourth quarter. Madkin out-ran Keith Adams for a two-yard score. Their drive was twice extended on third-down plays in the red-zone by pass interference calls.

Clemson responded with an eight-play, 70-yard drive capped by Streeter's one-yard plunge to make the score 10-7. But Mississippi State came right back with a clinching touchdown-scoring drive, capped by Dontae Walker's 15-yard catch on a screen pass. Madkin's 21-yard completion to Matt Butler on third down was the critical play of the drive.

Michael Vick rebounded from an ankle-injury to lead Virginia Tech to a victory in his final college game, a 41-20 win. The quarterback finished with two touchdowns while completing 10 of 18 passes for 205 yards. The contest was a battle of mobile quarterbacks, as Clemson's Woodrow Dantzler gained 261 yards of total offense for the afternoon.

The Hokies capitalized on early costly Tiger mistakes. The uncharacteristic play began on the first drive when snapper Henry Owen bounced his delivery to punter Jaime Somaini, who was tackled for an eight-yard loss by Lee Suggs. Tech scored on its first offensive play of the game when Vick threw to Jarrett Ferguson on a 23-yard touchdown play.

Later in the quarter, Terry Jolly jumped off-side to preserve an 11-play, 59-yard drive that ended in a six-yard touchdown run for Vick.

Clemson got back into the game, but at a heavy cost. Dantzler found Travis Zachery for a 23-yard touchdown early in the second quarter. However, Zachery's missed the rest of the game due to a broken foot that occurred as the tailback leaped into the endzone. On the play, Zachery also snapped Lester Brown's single-season Clemson record of 17 touchdowns in a season.

Two possessions later, Keith Adams sacked Vick for 18 yards, forcing a fumble that Terry Bryant recovered on the Hokie 13. Clemson had to settle for an Aaron Hunt field goal, bringing the Tigers to within 14-10. But, that was as close as Clemson could get. Suggs scored his first touchdown of the day on a three-yard rush on the next possession to give the Hokies a 21-10 lead.

Hopes of a second-half rally were shattered when Vick found Andre Davis for a 55-yard touchdown on the first drive of the second half. Willie Simmons relieved Dantzler in the final quarter. On his first possession, Simmons led the offense on an 11-play, 71-yard drive that ended in a 23-yard touchdown pass to Rod Gardner. With seven catches, Gardner surpassed Terry Smith's Clemson record for career receptions, finishing his career with 166.

Both quarterbacks shined in the much-anticipated match-up between Vick and Dantzler, although the Hokie quarterback left with both a Gator Bowl and a MVP trophy. Vick had the advantage in the passing game, his numbers slightly besting Dantzler's 15-32 for 180 yards.

Clemson concluded its 2001 season with a 49-24 win over Louisiana Tech in the Crucial.com Humanitarian Bowl in Boise, ID. The Tigers managed to win despite snowy conditions and freezing temperatures that set records for a Tiger football game.

Clemson won by putting together one of its best all-around performances of the season. The offense racked up 548 yards of total offense and set a school record for most touchdown passes in a game with five. The Tigers scored four touchdowns in the third quarter, setting a new team record for most points scored in one quarter in a bowl game. Four touchdowns were scored by freshmen, marking the first time in school history that happened. The defense held the Bulldogs to just 49 total yards rushing while intercepting three passes and totaling six sacks.

After falling behind 10-7, Clemson took the lead 14-10 with 6:54 remaining before halftime when quarterback Woodrow Dantzler connected with Roscoe Crosby on a 53-yard touchdown reception. Dantzler helped extend the lead on the first drive of the second half by finding Ben Hall in the end zone and igniting the record-setting third quarter scoring effort. Dantzler recorded his third touchdown pass of the game two minutes later when he hooked up with Bernard Rambert for a 62-yard score.

Following an interception by Brian Mance, the offense capitalized seven plays later when Rambert scampered down the left sideline for 21 yards and a score. Charles Hafley intercepted Luke McCown's pass on the Bulldogs' first play of the ensuing drive, and Airese Currie's 19-yard fumble-rooskie play less than two minutes later marked the fourth touchdown of the quarter and gave Clemson a 42-10 lead.

Backup quarterback Willie Simmons entered the game in the final period and helped contribute to Clemson's final score of the game, completing his only pass of the contest to Derrick Hamilton for a 57-yard touchdown with just over nine minutes remaining. Despite two late scores by Louisiana Tech, the Tigers' impressive team effort left fans excited about the potential of the 2002 campaign.

Dantzler ended his career with a fitting performance. He completed 15-23 passes for 218 yards, and his four touchdown passes tied his own team record. Rambert posted 101 rushing yards and a touchdown on 16 carries. Center Kyle Young was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl team, as he had 18 knockdown blocks in the contest.

Texas Tech defeated Clemson 55-15 in the 2003 Mazda Tangerine Bowl at Florida Citrus Bowl Stadium in Orlando, FL. Making their fourth consecutive bowl appearance, the Tigers were unable to contain Kliff Kingsbury, who threw for 375 yards and three touchdowns. Earning game MVP honors, he completed 32-43 passes and finished the season with 5,017 passing yards. Although Kingsbury left the game in the third quarter with a leg injury, he returned to play in the final quarter and became just the third player in Division I-A history to eclipse the 5,000-yard passing mark in a season.

Charlie Whitehurst, who completed 20 of his 48 passes for 263 yards, led Clemson. His favorite target was Kevin Youngblood, who had a game-high 134 yards receiving on seven catches.

Kingsbury established the tone for the Red Raider offense by completing six of his first eight passes and leading the Red Raiders to a 29-yard field goal. Less than six minutes later, Kingsbury's 46-yard touchdown pass to Nehemiah Glover gave the Red Raiders a 10-0 lead. The onslaught continued in the first quarter when Kingsbury connected with Mickey Peters on a 19-yard touchdown pass that gave Texas Tech a 17-0 lead entering the second quarter.

Taurean Henderson's 10-yard run gave the Red Raiders a 24-0 lead with 12:09 remaining in the first half. Midway through the second quarter, Clemson finally mustered some points when Tye Hill blocked a punt that resulted in a safety when the ball went through the end zone.

Vincent Meeks intercepted Whitehurst at the goal-line. Three quick completions moved the Texas Tech offense into field-goal range, and Robert Treece's successful 40-yard attempt as time expired gave Texas Tech a 34-2 advantage at halftime.

Clemson's opening drive of the second half resulted in the team's first offensive score, when Whitehurst connected with tight end Ben Hall on a 10-yard touchdown pass. Kingsbury left the game on the next possession after Khaleed Vaughn rolled over his leg; B.J. Symons replaced Kingsbury and guided the Red Raiders to a score on his opening drive. Symons' two-yard touchdown pass to Carlos Francis made the score 41-9. Chad Jasmin's two-yard scamper with 12:29 remaining in regulation signaled the Tigers' final score of the contest.

Clemson's impressive finish to the regular season carried over into the Chick-fil-A Peach Bowl, as the Tigers upset #6 Tennessee by a score of 27-14. The win gave Clemson two victories over top-10 teams for the first time since the 1981 National Championship season, and propelled the Tigers to a #22 ranking in both final polls.

Clemson received the ball to start the game, and the offense responded with a quick start. Charlie Whitehurst found Derrick Hamilton for 26 yards and Kevin Youngblood for 35 more to move into scoring position. On first-and-goal, Whitehurst led an option to the short side of the field. Duane Coleman took the pitch and leaped over a would-be tackler. He got in for an eight-yard score.

Tennessee was forced to punt on its second possession, as Clausen was sacked by Justin Miller (first of his career) and then had a pass tipped at the line by Eric Coleman. All-America punter Dustin Colquitt booted a 41-yard punt, but Clemson's Hamilton provided some fireworks. He started to the right side of the field, cut back left, and then was off to the races thanks to some timely blocks.

late in the first quarter. Chad Jasmin rushed for 46 yards on the drive, including a 15-yard touchdown run up the middle to put the Tigers ahead 17-7.

Clemson again responded with points on the ensuing possession. Jasmin ignited the drive with a 31-yard run up the middle. Whitehurst then found Hamilton for a 23-yard gain into the redzone. Faced with third-and-goal from the eight, the Tiger coaching staff reached into its bag of tricks.

Whitehurst took the shotgun snap and handed the ball to Kyle Browning between his legs. Whitehurst then carried out a fake option to the right, while Browning hesitated and then ran left for the touchdown. The play, known as "Panther," put the Tigers ahead 24-14 at halftime.

Clemson rushed for 153 yards, while Tennessee struggled to just 38. Jasmin, voted the game's most valuable offensive player, had 130 yards on the ground and a touchdown.

Recording sacks for Clemson were Charles Bennett, Touré Francis, Leroy Hill, John Leake, DeJuan Polk, and Miller. With two sacks, Hill was voted the defensive most valuable player.

His 58-yard punt return put Clemson on the Volunteers' 17-yard line to begin the next drive.

The Tigers quickly responded to a Volunteer touchdown

Clemson won its 15th bowl game with a 19-10 victory over Colorado in the Champs Sports Bowl in Orlando, FL. It was only the second meeting between the two schools, with the first coming in the 1957 Orange Bowl, a 27-21 Buffalo win.

James Davis led the way for the Tigers, rushing for 150 yards on 28 carries to earn MVP honors. Charlie Whitehurst finished his career completing 21-29 passes for 205 yards, and also ran for a score.

Two runs by Davis gained 26 yards, and Whitehurst followed with a 20-yard strike to Curtis Baham. The drive stalled three plays later, and Jad Dean made a 26-yard field goal.

Hugh Charles picked up 13 yards and a first down at the Clemson 10, barely missing a score by stepping out of bounds. However, three more rushes by Charles resulted in a loss of eight yards, and Colorado settled for a Mason Crosby 36-yard field goal on the first play of the second quarter.

On Clemson's next possession, Whitehurst found Thomas Hunter for 10 yards on third down. After a penalty gave the Tigers another first down, Clemson elected to take the lead with a field goal. Dean made his 24th field goal to set a school record for field goals in a season, and his 18-yarder also gave the Tigers a 6-3 lead.

On the second play of the third quarter, Davis broke free for a 40-yard run. Whitehurst found Aaron Kelly for 11 yards three plays later, and then Whitehurst dove into the endzone for a five-yard touchdown run on a third-and-goal play. The touchdown drive covered 67 yards in eight plays.

Each team punted several more times before Colorado began a drive at its own 31 with just over nine minutes left in the game. Cox was replaced by Brian White. After a pass-interference penalty on the Tigers, White hit two consecutive passes for 45 yards down to the Clemson nine. Three plays later on third down, White found Quinn Sypniewski for a two-yard touchdown pass to cut the lead to 13-10.

Clemson's defense held Colorado to 124 total yards of offense and 17 yards rushing, the top defensive performance by any team in a bowl game during the 2005 season.

Whitehurst completed a shovel pass to Davis for 22 yards down to the Colorado 10. Two rushes by Davis and another completion to Hunter moved the ball to the two, and Andre' Woodson passed for 299 yards and three touchdowns to lead Kentucky to a 28-20 victory over Clemson in the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl at LP Field in Nashville, TN on December 29.

Kentucky held a 7-6 lead late in the second quarter until it scored on a 70-yard pass after a fake punt in its own territory. Then Kentucky took a 28-6 lead in the fourth quarter and held on for the win in front of a partisan Wildcat crowd.

Will Proctor was 23-39 for 272 yards and three touchdowns. Aaron Kelly had a game-high six receptions for 66 yards and a touchdown, Chansi Stuckey caught five balls for 93 yards.

Kentucky took the opening drive 62 yards in 12 plays to take a 7-0 lead, as Micah Johnson scored on a one-yard plunge.

Tyler Grisham gave the ball back to the Tigers in Wildcat territory when he blocked a punt. Two plays after a 15-yard reverse by Jacoby Ford, Proctor found Durrell Barry open over the middle for a 32-yard touchdown reception, the first of Barry's career. Clemson missed the extra point, keeping Kentucky ahead 7-6.

pleted a 10-yard pass on fourth-and-four from the Kentucky 20. On the next play, Woodson lofted a 70-yard touchdown pass to DeMoreo Ford.

Kentucky took a 21-6 lead on a 24-yard throw-back pass from Woodson to Dicky Lyons.

Early in the fourth quarter, Rafael Little returned a punt 46 yards to the Tiger 28. Four plays later, Woodson scrambled and found Jacob Tamme open for a 13-yard touchdown pass.

Clemson responded with a 78-yard drive to cut into the Wildcat lead. Pass plays of 19 yards to Grisham and 19 yards to Stuckey helped set up a first-and-goal. Facing fourth down from the 17, Grisham hauled in a touchdown pass from Proctor in the back of the endzone. The two-point try failed, leaving Kentucky up 28-12 with 7:25 remaining.

Clemson took over on downs with 3:17 left and drove 74 yards on eight plays. Stuckey's 28-yard catch moved the ball into Wildcat territory. Proctor then lofted a pass to Kelly, as he came down with the touchdown catch. Proctor connected with Michael Palmer on the two-point play, cutting Kentucky's lead to 28-20 with 44 seconds left.

As Clemson was in the process of holding Kentucky's offense under 10 yards for the sixth straight drive, the Wildcats gambled with a fake punt. Punter Tim Masthay com-
